Cooperation Held Essential to Good Garbage Service

If the citizens of Zebulon will give their cooperation, twice-weekly garbage collection will be a reality, Willie B. Hopkins reported Wednesday following the first two days of the new collection schedule. And the citizens of Zebulon will have to give their cooperation or their garbage just won't be collected, he added.

Of the first 96 homes visited on Monday, he said, the garbage collection crew found exactly six garbage cans, in spite of notification and publication of the town ordinance requiring the cans.

By the last of next week a schedule of collection will be worked out so that housewives in different parts of town may know when to expect the truck in their neighborhood.

Garbage collection will be made first on Monday and Tuesday, and a second collection will be made on Thursday and Friday. Wednesday will be used to collect brush, sticks, prunings, and similar material which is not collected in the garbage cans.

But these garbage cans must be bought, Town Manager Hopkins warned. He said that bushel baskets, pasteboard boxes, and 50-gallon drums will not be suitable in the future.

Anthony G. Frances of Greenville, S. C., was found not guilty of driving without a license. However, he paid $25 and costs for having improper lights and $40 and costs for speeding.

Other cases of speeding cost Dennis Warren Liles of Zebulon $50 and costs; Isam Holman, Jr., of Route 4, $50 and costs; James Holman of Newark, N. J., $50 and costs; and Coil Douglas Perry of Wake Forest, Route 2, paid $15 and costs and is not to operate a motor vehicle for 60 days.
