CHARTER NIGHT

First Pack Meeting Is Held by Zebulon Cubs

The Zebulon Cub Scout Pack received its charter at the first pack meeting Wednesday night, when Harry R. Randall of Raleigh presented the document to Cubmaster R. G. Privette on behalf of the Occaneechee Council.

Cubs, leaders, and parents gathered in the basement of the Zebulon Baptist Church, the sponsoring organization, for the ceremony, which came after the local Cubs had been organized approximately six weeks. Nearly every Cub was present with his parents.

Sidney Holmes, Jr., led the group in prayer prior to the charter presentation, which Mr. Randall made to Cubmaster Privette, Assistant Cubmaster H. V. Andrews, Institutional Representative Garland Godwin and Committeemen J. R. Sawyer, Esten Corbett, Noel Fowler, and Ralph Bunn. Each was presented a card and badge by the council representative.

Parents Congratulated

Rev. Bev. A. Asbury, Baptist pastor, congratulated the parents on their work with their boys in Scouting, and reminded the group that Scouting in Zebulon, as elsewhere, is non-denominational. He urged that other parents allow their boys to join the local movement.

Barrie Davis, former Scoutmaster, spoke to the boys on the benefits they would receive from Cubbing now and later from Scouting, emphasizing the help he had received from training in a local troop before World War II.

H. V. Andrews and J. R. Sawyer led a discussion of local Cub needs, including two new dens to take care of prospective members. The need for a new den in Wakefield was emphasized, and Mesdames Grady Doyle, Edison Wood, and Glenn Hinton agreed to undertake the establishment of a den for boys in the Wakefield area.

MARCH OF DIMES

A check in the amount of $806.95 has been forwarded to the Wake County March of Dimes headquarters, local March of Dimes leaders announced this week. The check represents contributions from all sources to the polio organization. Ed Ellington, Wakelon teacher, served as chairman of the effort here.

Zebulon and Wendell Methodist Churches Plan Conference Sunday

The first quarterly Conference for Zebulon and Wendell Methodist Churches will be held at Zebulon on Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. R. G. Dawson, the new superintendent, will preach at the service and will then conduct the business session. There has been a fine increase in attendance at both Zebulon and Wendell churches lately and both churches have good reports to make at the Quarterly Conference.

The annual revival at Zebulon Methodist Church will begin on Easter Sunday night, April 18, and

After the program, the two den mothers presented their den chiefs with shoulder cords to be worn with their Scout uniforms, and presented "bobcat pins," worn with regular clothing, to the following Cubs, who had their badges pinned on them by one of their parents:

Den No. 1: Bunny Bunn, Henry Andrews, Douglas Fowler, Anthony Laspina, Tommy Whitley, and Milton Murphy. (Mike McKeaghan and Phil Wallace were absent, and one new member, Benny Cawthorne, was enrolled too late to receive his bobcat pin at the first meeting.)

Wakelon Students Edit 'Bulldog Barks'

Members of the Wakelon School Student Council are beginning this week a new section of the Zebulon Record in which news of school activities will be published. Printed on two complete pages, the news and features are written and edited by students.

The school news section is being published by the Zebulon Record in cooperation with the Student Council for two purposes: to give to the Wakelon students a much-needed newspaper; and to encourage school-community cooperation through publicity of school news.

The Student Council agreed to use a section of the Record as its newspaper rather than attempt publication of its own newspaper, so that merchants will not be asked to give contributions to the school for a paper.

Titled Bulldog Barks, the first issue of Wakelon's newsheet appears on pages two and three of this issue.

Reports were made at the session by Mrs. Rachel Privette, budget chairman, who told of the prison show at Wakelon February 19; Mrs. S. J. Blackley, who discussed the county-wide PTA conference held recently at Willow Springs; and Principal W. R. Whittenton, who appealed for regular attendance from now until the end of the current school year in order that Wakelon may retain its present number of teachers and, thereby, its public school music program.
