Zebulon Legion Auxiliary Holds Important Meeting Friday Night

The March meeting of American Legion Auxiliary was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Bill Perry, with ten members present.

Mrs. Perry gave an interesting summary of the Auxiliary's Community Service program, and reported on our local unit activities.

Foremost on the list of our local activities is the Community Library, of which, the Auxiliary has complete charge. With a total of over 1000 books, we are proud of rendering this service to our Community.

Other activities mentioned by

Mrs. Perry included, financial aid to veterans and their families, contributions to worthy causes in the community, Christmas gifts totaling over $50.00 sent to hospital gift shops, work volunteered by local members in the gift shops in the Veterans Hospital in Durham, and the sale of poppies each year in order to finance our Child Welfare and Rehabilitation program.

Mrs. Dabney Gill, poppy chairman, outlined her plans for carrying out the poppy sale this year.

Mrs. Gill also reported a total of

Big Rotary Event

Dr. R. C. S. Young of the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia will speak at the Zebulon Rotary meeting Friday night.

Rotary International is observing this year, throughout the world, its Fiftieth anniversary, and as the international club celebrates its golden anniversary the Zebulon club celebrates its silver anniversary, having been chartered twenty-five years ago.

Dr. Young, a native of Scotland, gives to the local celebration an international character. Having received his education in the United States, his doctorate from Emory University and the University of Georgia, imbues him with certain American qualities in his adopted country.

The Rotary motto "Service above Self" has been a suitable and profitable motto for Rotarians everywhere, representing their great service throughout the world in international goodwill, student exchange programs, and local programs of unselfish service where service is needed.

Dr. Young

The Friday night program will be held in the Wakelon School cafeteria instead of the Woman's Club, at 6:30. The wives of local Rotarians and invited guests will be present.

Finer Carolina Committee Notes Much Progress

Some progress is being made in Zebulon towards the achievement of five major projects selected February 4 by this year's Finer Carolina Committee, Wilbur Debnam, publicity chairman of the group, said Monday.

The local committee heard reports on these projects last Wednesday night by chairmen of the several sub-committees.

The major undertaking — erection of a community building at Zebulon Park — is still in the beginning stage, according to Mr. Debnam who said that Worth Hinton and H. C. Wade submitted tentative plans Wednesday for raising funds to finance this project.

$625 Raised

Harold Taylor, heading the sub-committee in charge of building a Negro Community Center here, reported that $625. has been raised towards this goal and that a lot has been cleaned off in preparation for work. The site is across from Shepard School.

A new, bright orange and blue awning erected last week at Zebulon Drug Company is the first manifestation of the work of the business district clean-up and beautification sub-committee, which is headed by Ed Hales, assisted by Ed Ellington.

These two men, also in charge of residential clean-up, reported that plans have been made for beautification of the Wakelon School grounds.

Tom Monk, president of the Zebulon Chamber of Commerce, working towards the promotion of business enterprise here, said at the meeting that he had sent a letter to all local business and professional men requesting that they park in off-street areas so as to facilitate customer parking in front of stores.

Also, he said he had requested that commercial trucks unload merchandise in the rear of stores and thereby further enable street parking zones to remain clear.

Ceremonies Held By Girl Scouts

Throughout this week, which is the forty-third anniversary of the Girl Scouts of America, Zebulon troops are commemorating their national birthday and the memory of their patron, Juliette Low, who originated girl scouting in this country.

Regarding this week's celebration the local intermediate troop will be entertained at a birthday party by its sponsor, the Young Adult's Sunday School Class, Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the recreation room of the Zebulon Methodist Church.

Participate in Meeting

Also, the troop participated in the meeting of this class last night in the home of Mrs. Lula Gray Tant.

Leader of the class, Mrs. Woodrow Watkins, and scout leader, Miss Rebekah Talbert, urge all girl scouts to attend the birthday party tomorrow night.

Miss Talbert is planning a troop hike and cookout which if the weather permits will take place later this week.

Chairman

William E. Debnam, of Raleigh, above, prominent radio network commentator and news analyst, will be Chairman of the 1955 Easter Seal Campaign to help crippled children in North Carolina. Regarded as the best known news commentator in the Carolinas and Virginia, Debnam will direct the drive which runs from March 10 through Easter Sunday, April 10.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Parrish

Mrs. Floyd Parrish, 75, of Zebulon, Route 1, died last Wednesday night of a stroke. Funeral services were held last Friday at 3 p. m., from the home of a son, Willard Parrish, of Zebulon, Route 1. The Rev. Glenn Hill officiated. Burial was in Hales Chapel Church Cemetery.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. J. M. Corbett; and, in addition to Willard Parrish, two sons, Millard Parrish and Milton Parrish, all of Zebulon, Route 1; 11 grandchildren, and 20 great-grandchildren.

Lions to Assist In Improvement Of Wake Farms

Members of the Zebulon Lions Club unanimously agreed last Thursday night at their regular bi-monthly meeting to sponsor the Wake County Green Pasture program, an annual project since 1951 dedicated to the improvement of pasture land in the county.

In conjunction with county agents this program has been sponsored during all the years of its existence by the Lions.

Certificates Planned

In addition to providing financial assistance for the work to be undertaken by county agents, Lions will contribute the plaques and certificates that will go to the winners, Bill Marley, who presided at the March 3 meeting, said Friday.

Massey Chairman

Howard Massey heads a committee that will study details of the program.

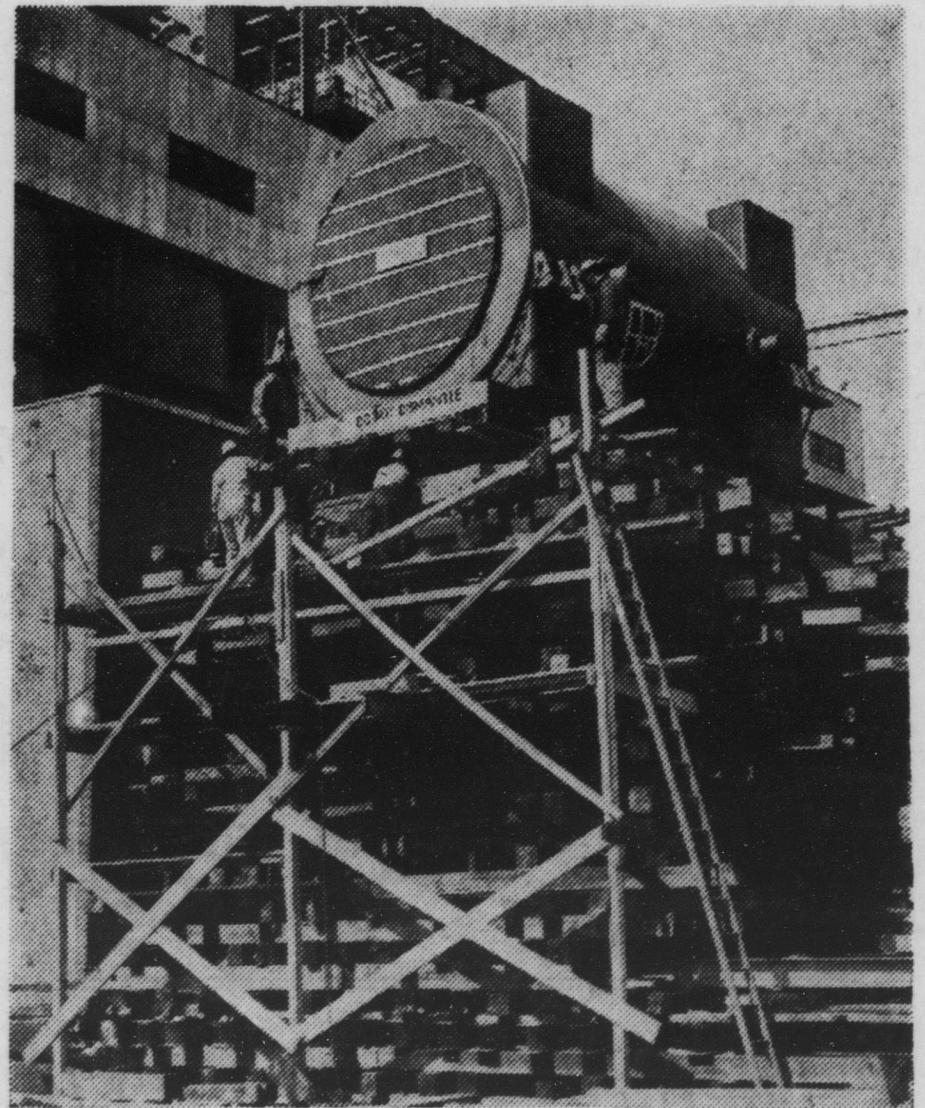

Visitor to the meeting, the Rev. Troy Barrett, made an impromptu talk concerning faith and cooperation among Lions.

Also, an announcement was made, Mr. Marley said, that Jim Thorton, T. V. performer, is scheduled to appear here at the next Lions Club meeting, March 17.

Wakelon Cagers Set For Middlesex Test

Two basketball teams representing the junior classes of Wakelon and Middlesex will meet tonight in the Middlesex gym. This is not a varsity contest. The game is being sponsored as a means of financing the Junior-Senior Banquets at each school.

HUGH CP&L POWER UNIT

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMP—Here is the heaviest single piece to go into the Louis V. Sutton power plant of Carolina Power & Light Company near Wilmington. It is the 319,420-pound stator of the second generator. Scheduled for service this summer, the unit will bring plant capacity to 300,000 horsepower. Here workmen tediously jack it up to the 25-foot pedestal on which it will rest.
