Every Zebulon Farmer Votes For Continued Control of Leaf

Tobacco farmers in Little River Township overwhelmingly approved the continuance of controls for tobacco and support of the Tobacco Associates in a referendum held Saturday.

In Little River A, which includes

Zebulon, tobacco farmers cast 449 votes, all for controls. Three-year control was approved by 446, with three votes favoring one-year extension.

Tobacco Associates fared also as well with 448 farmers approving the plan and one against. Under this plan, 10¢ per acre of tobacco is paid by farmers to promote Tobacco Associates.

Little River B, voting at J. D. Jones' Store, cast 200 votes, according to Billy Hopkins, vice-chairman of the A.S.C. Community Committee. Both measures were approved in the north precinct, with only six against tobacco controls and 13 disapproving the Tobacco Associates plan.

COTTON PJ'S

It's off to dreamland in flour bags for this little girl. Her pajamas are made from cotton flannel which came from 25-pound flour sacks. The National Cotton Council reports these cotton flannel flour sacks provide a 27-inch square suitable for home sewing.

Wendell Returns

In Wendell, election returns indicated similar approval of both measures.

Favoring Tobacco Associates were 330 voters, with three indicating disapproval, according to the Wendell Town Office.

Wendell returns on marketing quotas for three years showed approval by 333 farmers, one favored one-year control, and two were opposed to controls of any kind.

Now in Korea

Pfc. Hoyt W. Bunn, whose wife, Peggy, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bunn, live on Route 2, Zebulon, is a member of the 7th Infantry Division in Korea.

A machine gunner in Company H of the division's 32d Regiment, Private First Class Bunn entered the Army in July 1954 and arrived in the Far East the following December.

He attended Bunn High School.

Local License Examiner Lists Applicants' Tests

By C. M. HOCUTT
Driver's License Examiner

Those of you who wish to obtain your first driver's license should keep in mind that North Carolina Law requires you to have a State Driver's License in order to drive a vehicle on the streets and highways, and also a required examination which you must pass to prove your ability to satisfactorily operate a motor vehicle.

This test consists of a vision test, a written or oral test on the rules of the road, a road sign test, and an actual driving test on the streets and highways.

It is my suggestion that you first obtain a North Carolina Driver's Handbook, which includes information covering your examination. It is published for the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles and distributed by the North Carolina Highway Safety Division. Before anyone attempts to obtain a driver's license, he should thoroughly acquaint himself with the fundamentals contained in this book.

After this is done, the applicant should apply for his learner's permit. This permit, which is valid for a period of thirty days, allows the learning driver to operate a vehicle on the streets and highways, provided he is accompanied in the front seat by a licensed driver.

During these thirty days of driving practice, your instructor should teach you how to parallel park, do a turn about in the road, do a quick stop with your emergency or hand brake, and also with your foot brake.

These are some of the things which you will be required to do on your road test. There are other requirements, but the ones mentioned are the most important.

Lions Club Holds Big Bread Sale

Congressman Harold D. Cooley, caught by the Lions as he was driving through Zebulon last Saturday, bought the 1,000th loaf of bread to insure complete success for the Zebulon Lions Club bread sale.

The sale began at 7 a.m. and Lions President Frank Kemp sold the last loaf at 7 p.m.

For Blind Help

The bread sale was staged to raise funds for the Lions help-the-blind program.

Taking part in the project, in addition to Kemp, were Mayor Wilbur Debnam, Worth Hinton, Hardin Hinton, Clarence Hocutt, Ray Goodwin, Pete Bryant, Gilbert Beck, Fred Beck, H. A. Hodge, Jr., Charles Weathersby, Herb Holt, Charles Creech and Johnny Pace.

ATOMIC FALL-OUT PATTERN SHOWN

TYPICAL SPRINGTIME fallout pattern last April 21 for Minneapolis, Duluth, Milwaukee and Chicago. The "isotherms" (curved dotted lines marked in hours) show how soon and how far H-bomb fallout would have covered the earth under that day's prevailing wind conditions. The day's "danger area" is shown within the solid black "Lines of Constant Dosage," scaled to indicate the estimated radiation intensity for the first 36 hours of fallout in areas at varying distances from the blast. Evacuation of at least the danger area would be probable. (FCDA Photo)

Local School Committeemen Attend Wake Segregation Meeting; Some Delay Urged

The Wake County Board of Education issued a resolution last Friday which may be a step toward ending segregation in Wake County Schools. The resolution states that beginning in September 1956 no child shall be assigned to any school in Wake County on the basis of race or color.

Bases for assignment of children to schools provided measures which could postpone the end of segregation beyond 1956.

The decision does not apply for the school term beginning in September; the old enrollment rules still apply. But any child can apply for a transfer from the school to which he is assigned. The application for reassignment must be made within 10 days after the opening of school.

The Wake resolution was unanimously adopted by the board after some 50 committeemen from 12 Wake school districts had unanimously approved the resolution.

The resolution, after noting that two bond issues totaling $4,875,000 had been approved for construction of white and Negro schools in Wake in recent years, says:

Assumes Obligation

No child shall be assigned to any school in Wake County on the basis of race or color.

The responsibility for assignment of children to the several schools of the county as placed by act of the 1955 General Assembly is assumed by the Board of Education.

Every assignment of a child to one of the schools of the county shall be considered and adjudged individually on one or more of the following bases:

- Needs and welfare of the child.
- Welfare and best interests of all other children.
- Availability of facilities, including transportation.

(d) Fitness of facilities, including health.

(e) Aptitude of the child and curriculum adjustment of the school.

(f) Residence of the child.

(g) All other factors considered pertinent, relevant and material affecting either the child or the schools.

The resolution says it will be the policy of the school board to follow as nearly as practicable the school assignment wishes of each child when in the judgment of the board such assignment doesn't violate principles set out to guide pupil placement.

The resolution then goes on to say that previous administrative policies apply for the upcoming school year, and points out that any pupil can apply for assignment to another school if he is dissatisfied. The board would hear (See SCHOOLS, Page 8)

Goat Provided for Absent Lions In Effort to Aid Club Attendance

In an attempt to achieve perfect attendance for the next year, the help of a goat is planned by the Zebulon Lions Club, according to Frank Kemp, president. The idea was suggested at the club's regular Thursday night meeting.

Any Lion who misses a meeting will have the privilege of living with the goat unless he makes up the missed meeting by the following Monday.

The goat "winner" may return the goat the next meeting when it will be awarded another absentee.

The goat will be purchased by the club and kept initially by President Kemp. If it dies while in the care of a member, that member will be required to purchase another goat to help the club.

President Kemp says he hopes he will be able to keep the goat for the remainder of the year, thus assuring 100 percent attendance which the goat is supposed to encourage.

Local Recreation:

Playoffs Begin Tonight

The playoff series in the summer softball league will begin tonight with two games, followed Wednesday night with another pair of contests. Thursday night the final game will be played to determine the champion.

Tonight's competition will feature two games, one between the third and fourth place teams and the second between teams named after the final standings are complete.

On Wednesday night, the two Tuesday night winners will play, plus the two teams not playing tonight. Wednesday night's winners will meet for a single championship game at Wakelon Thursday night.

The playoff plans were released yesterday by Franklin Jones, director of the recreation program.
