CHURCH QUEEN AT MIDDLESEX

Middlesex WMS Sponsors Church Queen Coronation

Miss Marie Lewis was recently crowned queen by the Middlesex Baptist church in coronation services held under the sponsorship of the Woman's Missionary Society. Miss Lewis, a 15 year old member of her church and also a member of the Girl's Auxiliary, is the first person to hold the title "queen" at the Middlesex church.

Juanita Davis, director of the Girls' Auxiliary, began the service by listing the requirements necessary in achieving the honor of queen. With the sound of the trumpet and the call of the courtly herald Miss Lewis entered the church auditorium preceded by Sylvia Johnson, emblem bearer, and Frank Ronald Zedick, crown bearer.

Expressing appreciation on behalf of the church for the accomplishments of Miss Lewis, the Rev. Frank Zedick, pastor of the Middlesex church, crowned Miss Lewis queen. Mr. Zedick also honored the queen's mother, Mrs. Dewey Lewis, by presenting to her a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Lewis has taken an active part in all of her church's activities. Marie, termed "an excellent student" by one of her school teachers, was an honor student in the freshman class the past school year at the Middlesex High School.

Immediately following the coronation a reception was held in honor of the queen in the fellowship room of the church. The re-

Recorder's Court Has Short Session

A total of ten cases were continued until the September 14 session of Zebulon Recorder's Court during a slow court day Wednesday, Aug. 24. Judge I. D. Gill gave sentence in only four cases, with one defendant waiving preliminary hearing.

Wilbur Ferrell, 23-year-old Negro, was found guilty of failing to stop to give information concerning a wreck, and was sentenced to 90 days in jail, suspended on condition he pay $25 and the costs of court.

Wilbur Vick, Zebulon Negro, was sentenced to 60 days roadwork, for being publicly drunk.

William Oscar Neal, 24, of Kenly, was given 90 days in jail upon

Rolesville School Will Initiate Fall Term on September First

Faculty for Coming School Year Listed By G. W. Davis

The Rolesville School will officially open for the new school year Thursday, September 1, at 9:30 a.m., according to an announcement made yesterday by G. W. Davis, school principal.

Mr. Davis said that students will arrive at the school at 9:30 a.m. and report to assigned areas for a short program of orientation prior to coming to the General Assembly, scheduled for 10 a.m.

The General Assembly program will mark the opening exercises for the school year at Rolesville, Mr. Davis said, and will feature Rev. John U. Garner, pastor of the Rolesville Baptist Church, as the principal speaker.

Mr. Davis explained that the Maintenance Department has been busy during the summer in making the necessary repairs throughout the school, affording paint jobs where needed.

Other improvements which have been made include supplying needed furniture throughout the building, and completely renovating the Home Economics Department as an aid toward meeting the physical needs of this year's students, Mr. Davis said.

Mr. Davis predicted that an expected enrollment of 625 students will enter Rolesville School for its September 1 opening.

The following faculty members will serve at Rolesville School during the coming year:

G. D. Davis, Prin. (Math and History), Robert S. Price (Coach and Social Studies), Mrs. Maxwell A. Cumbia (Commerce), Mrs. J. P. Freeman (English, French and H. S. Choral Work), Mrs. Betsey S. Goldston (Home Economics), Mrs. Lydia B. Lowie (English and Science), John L. Perkinson (Agriculture), Mrs. Eunice B. Applewhite (Eighth), Mrs. Mary B. Carnes (Eighth), Mrs. Martha Vaughan (Seventh).

Mrs. Roy Purser (Sixth), Mrs. Cavell Batten (Sixth), Mrs. James West (Fifth), Mrs. Barry B. Doyle (Fourth and Fifth), Mrs. Genadus E. Winston (Fourth), Mrs. Jane W. Call Meeting

There will be a call meeting of the Zebulon Woman's Club Monday afternoon, August 29, at 3:45 p.m. at the local clubhouse, Mrs. Exum Chamblee, club president, said yesterday.

Important business matters will be discussed at the meeting, Mrs. Chamblee said, as well as forming club plans for this year.

Mrs. Chamblee urged that all members be present and requested that each member bring a copy of the June, 1955, issue of the North Carolina Clubwoman plus last year's club yearbook.

CONVERTIBLE BIKE FOR GIRLS OR BOYS

A new bicycle with a special on-or-off "boy's" bar, converts quickly from boy's version to girl's. To make the new Evans Convertible Bicycle a boy's model, the versatile bar is locked in place with one bolt. To make the same bike a girls' model, the bar is easily removed, leaving no hole or marks to mar the finish. Ideal for the four to seven-year old, the bicycle is available in a 20-inch wheel-size. The additional trainer wheels may be removed when they've served their purpose — supporting the rider until he learns to balance the bicycle himself. The bicycle is available in Matador Red.

"Methodist Men" Will Meet Sunday; Church to Show Film of the Month

A new organization, Methodist Men, will be organized at the Zebulon Methodist Church Sunday evening, August 28, at 6:30 p.m., according to Troy Barrett, pastor of the Methodist Church.

The institution of such a group will mark the first time that the men of the church have been so organized, Mr. Barrett said.

The purpose of Methodist Men is to get the men of the church together once a month for fellowship, worship, programs and projects.

Officers for the group will be elected at the Sunday evening meeting.

Mr. Barrett said that earlier in the month, the men of the church were sent letters explaining the proposed meeting and were requested to respond.

"Even though some have not returned their cards," Mr. Barrett said, "it will be all right for them to come on Sunday evening and join our group."

The first meeting will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist church.

"Sport shirts are the order of the day," Mr. Barrett said, "and refreshments will be served following the meeting."

"Alaska, a World to be Won" will be the film of the month at the Zebulon Methodist Church this Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Helping to build a four-year Christian College in Alaska, the first church-related senior college in Alaska, is one of the two Mission Specials of the church for this year.

This film will portray Methodist missions in Alaska, mention the relation of Alaska to strategic defense and show scenes of economic and natural resources.

In color, it is produced by the Methodist Board of Missions and runs for 27 minutes.

This program is sponsored by the Commission on Missions: Mrs. J. E. Carter, Chairman; Leamon Pearce, Secretary; Mrs. M. J. Sexton, President of W.S.C.S.; T. E. Hales and Dr. Zyba Massey.

Wake County YDC Hears Edwin Gill

Honorable Edwin M. Gill, State Treasurer of North Carolina was the principal speaker at the annual election meeting of the Wake County Young Democratic Club held at the wake County Court house on Tuesday evening, August 23.

Mr. Gill traced activities of the Democratic Party, observing that the party has endured because it is a party of the people and, based upon the principles of Jefferson and Jackson, is a party of foresight and action. He stated that the great social reforms can be traced to Democratic administrations, and that Republican leaders recognize the value of these reforms and can only argue that they can better administer these Democratic reforms than can the Democrats.

Buck Bunn, outgoing President, presided over the meeting and reported on the activities of the YDCs during the past year.

Officers elected for the coming year are Samuel W. Johnson, President, Mrs. Becky Summers, First Vice-President, Frank Cranor, second Vice-President, and Clyde Douglas II, Secretary-Treasurer.

President-elect Johnson outlined a program for a stronger membership, greater activity in the County and in the State YDC meetings, and plans to work toward a Statewide YDC rally in Wake County.
