purchased by Victor Bell, Jr., who began its development, opening streets and constructing houses.

Plans are being made to provide water and sewer service for the entire development. All lots not already sold are available for purchase, according to Mr. Bell.

Homes, for sale at prices as low as $9,500, are under construction and may be financed through FHA or conventional loans. Veterans Administration approval may be secured for eligible veterans.

On the back page of this issue of The Zebulon Record is a map of the Wakelon Heights subdivision, showing the location of the park, Wakelon School, and the location of lots.

CONVENTION

L. A. Hagwood of Zebulon will be master of ceremonies for the occasion. He reports that part of the program will be televised.

Gold loving cups will be given to the winners in the following divisions: solo, duet, trio, female quartette, male quartet, mixed quartette. Every group that registers to sing by Sunday will be on the program.

The convention will get underway at 1 p.m. and will continue until 6:30 p.m. The parking lot is available for automobiles. Those attending are asked not to drive on to the fairgrounds.

WAKELON HEIGHTS

This beautiful development was planned in the early 1900's by the late Dr. G. M. Bell. It is now being developed by Victor Bell, Jr., who has opened new streets, and had it inspected by a subdivision representative, and now announces lots and homes are available. It was annexed into Zebulon this week.
