

THE ZEBULON RECORD

Volume XXX. Number 5.

Zebulon, N. C., Tuesday, October 18, 1955

Theo. Davis Sons, Publishers

Together at the organ are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horton of the Campbell College music faculty. Last week the Hortons headed the musicians for the Harnett County Centennial production of Paul Green's symphonic drama "The Highland Call," at the Campbell College amphitheatre nightly through Saturday. Horton conducted the special Highland-Call choir. Mrs. Horton was organist.

"Highland Call" Features Mr., Mrs. Charles Horton

The pulsebeat of Highland Scotland throbbed under the musical fingers of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Horton in the Campbell College outdoor theatre last week. Mrs. Horton, concert organist, and Horton, head of the Campbell College music department, were responsible for the background music of Paul Green's "The Highland Call," which played at the college nightly through Saturday as a central feature of the Harnett County Centennial.

Horton was director of the "Highland-Call" chorus. Mrs. Horton was organ soloist and accompanist to the chorus.

The play revolves around the Scottish heroine and American Revolutionary patriot Flora MacDonald. Through the episodes antecedent to Flora's leaving Scotland and her experiences as a leader of the Scottish settlers of this region it touches upon the history of many families of the Cape Fear Valley in North Carolina. This territory is the native region of the author, Pulitzer Prize winner Paul Green, a leading contemporary dramatist. To assist with the successful production Green returned from time to time to the Campus of Campbell College, which, as Buies Creek Academy, was his boyhood school.

Music is Important

Highland Scottish music, sombre or rollicking — in traditional hymns, ballads, chants, folksongs and patriotic airs — is a life-giving spirit of the play. The singers, clad in 18th-century costumes, sing from positions on the stage and help set mood and tempo. For this production Horton, in addition to training the singers has made the choral arrangements.

The Hortons were supported in their difficult assignment by a richly varied musical experience. Both are master-of-music graduates of the Westminster Choir College. Mrs. Horton knows the requirements of the accompanist from the viewpoint of a singer. While a student at Westminster she sang with the New York Philharmonic orchestra under such conductors as Walter.

(See MUSICIANS, Page 4)

TEACHER

John M. Mears

John M. Mears of Raleigh, North Carolina Methodist Conference Director of Adult Work, will teach the course, "How to Improve Your Church School," in the Christian Workers' School at the Zebulon Methodist Church, Oct 23-26. This general course is for all teachers and officers of adults, neighborhood group leaders, officials and members of the Commissions on Education and Evangelism, and others interested in attending.

World Come to Zebulon Meeting Planned Tonight

Names and biographical sketches of foreign students who will visit in this community during the World Comes to Zebulon weekend will be given tonight at a special meeting in the municipal building at 8 o'clock, according to Mayor Wilbur Debnam, project chairman.

Every person in the community interested in the visit of the foreign students is invited to attend the meeting, and committee members are urged to come.

Tomorrow night over WUNC-FM the Cosmopolitan Club of the University of North Carolina will present a special program featuring many of the students who will be in Zebulon, according to John Reibel, associate secretary of the U. N. C. Y. M. C. A.

The World Comes to Zebulon is scheduled for November 4-6, and 35 foreign students from all over the world are expected to visit the community, seeing first-hand the life of a small town and the surrounding rural areas.

Dances Planned

Visits will be made to the postoffice, businesses, industries, clubs, and churches. Two dances have been planned, and the visitors will be honor guests at a joint meeting of the Zebulon Lions and Rotary Club and at a chicken barbecue in Davis armory.

The World Comes to Zebulon project has received complete support from the University, and the School of Public Health at Chapel Hill has arranged classes to permit the foreign students to come to Zebulon.

Rotary Club Hears Johnnie Caldwell

Johnnie Caldwell, pastor of Hopkins Chapel Baptist Church for the past 2½ years, told the story of his life at the Friday night meeting of the Zebulon Rotary Club. The program was one of a series to acquaint the club with the lives and background of new members.

Born 37 years ago at Maiden, a community near Charlotte, Johnnie began school at Wake Forest, moving about the country and graduating from high school at Harlan, Kentucky.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Caldwell. His father was a minister, and Johnnie is the third of six children.

Following his graduation from high school, he attended six months at Carson-Newman College before volunteering for service. He served four years, four months, and four days during World War I, three years overseas in Africa, Sicily, Italy, and England.

After his release from the Army, he worked in coal mines and operating two mines of his own "until I went broke," he said. His mining work took him as far as seven miles under ground, and "I was as scared at times under there as I have ever been," he said.

His experiences included work as a bulldozer operator, undertaker, and school teacher. But his life began six years ago when he found Christ, and "I have just begun to live," Johnnie said. He (See ROTARY, Page 4)

Wake Farmers Vote for ASC Committees

PRESIDENT

Miss Rebekah Talbert

Miss Rebekah Talbert, special education teacher at Wakelon, was elected president of the Special Education Group of the North Central District of the NCEA at the convention held in Raleigh October 7. She has been a member of the Wakelon faculty for nine years and had gained world-wide recognition for her work in the field of special education.

Fellowship Supper

A fellowship supper will be held by Hopkins Chapel Baptist Church on Tuesday, November 1, from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock to help raise funds to complete the Sunday School wing of the new church building. The supper is sponsored by the Couples Class.

Plates are selling for $5.00 each, and proceeds will be put in the church building fund. Plates will be delivered to homes upon request.

Tickets are on sale in Zebulon by Kenneth Hopkins at the town office and by Robert Blackley at Zebulon Gin. In Wakefield they may be purchased at W. M. Brannon's store. Members of the Couples Class also have the tickets for sale.

HOSTESS

Geraldine Strickland

Geraldine Strickland of Zebulon, employed at Raleigh's Westinghouse plant for over a year, was one of five hostesses at the open house held Thursday, October 6, for public inspection of the huge plant.

Balloting Begins This Morning at 9:00; Your Vote Is Important!

Little River Township farmers and other farmers over Wake County begin balloting at 9 o'clock this morning, electing Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees, alternates and delegates. Polls close at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Polling places in Little River Township are at the town hall and at D. B. Jones store. Little River A district voters will vote for the following nominees: Raymond E. Pippin, N. Elmo Finch, Dewey W. Massey, Allen Mitchell, Wiley G. Broughton, Raymond Averette, Rex Tippet, Billy K. Hopkins, W. C. Honeycutt, and R. D. Bunn. Little River A voting will be at the local town hall.

Nominees in the Little River B balloting are W. E. Fuller, C. E. Young, T. E. Puryear, Cecil Hopkins, C. E. Perry, F. H. Broughton, Leonard Gay, W. R. Pulley, D. L. Moody, and W. L. Gay.

Marks Creek Township nominees include these men: Billie S. Liles, J. I. Lynch, Percy V. Richardson, Marsh Knott, Harvey A. Richardson, Edwin Smith, Millard Clark, J. W. Faison, Spruill M. Baker, and Grady Douglass. Marks Creek farmers will vote at the Wendell Town Hall.

Commenting on the procedure for balloting and the need for all eligible farmers to participate in today's election, C. M. Hester of the Wake County ASC officer said "This is a very important date, as persons elected at this time will be the committee in each community." (See ELECTION, Page 4)

Methodists Hear E. H. Moser

E. H. Moser, Charge Lay-Leader of the Zebulon Methodist Church, spoke on "Layman's Day," which was observed in the Church Sunday, October 16, at the 11 o'clock worship service.

Frank Wall presided at the service, Foster Finch led the responsive reading, and Garland Richardson led the morning prayer.

On Sunday night from 7:30 to 9:00, there was a "Local Church Institute on Evangelism in the Church School," including the showing of the film, "Teaching in the Church School."

This session was for teachers and officers of the church school, members of the Commissions on Education and Evangelism and neighborhood group leaders.

Jr. WC Meeting

The Zebulon Junior Woman's Club will hold its second meeting of the new club year tonight at 8:00 in the Club House. Mrs. Franklin Jones, program chairman, will have as her guest speaker, Mr. Fred Smith, Assistant Superintendent of Wake County Schools. Mr. Smith will speak on "Education at the Crossroad."

Mrs. Joe Wood and Mrs. Ralph Bunn will be hostesses for the evening.