

THE ZEBULON RECORD

Volume XXX. Number 6.

Zebulon, N. C., Friday, October 21, 1955

Theo. Davis Sons, Publishers

PLANNING — International students at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill learn details of their visit to Zebulon during the weekend of November 4-6. Forty-four foreign students are expected here.

Recreation Gets Major Part of Funds from UF

A major portion, to be exact — $1500 — of the United Fund budget has been allocated to the Zebulon Recreation Commission which conducts summer activities at both Wakelon and Shepard schools.

The $1000 received by the commission last year was spent, according to a spokesman, primarily for salaries. "We could not see investing hundreds of dollars in equipment," he stated, "unless it would be properly used and cared for." Also, he added, careful supervision of children at play is imperative for safety's sake.

A major undertaking of the Recreation Commission during the past summer was the completion of tennis courts at Wakelon School. They were begun by the school, but construction came almost to a standstill for lack of funds. Approximately $125 was furnished by the commission to give Zebulon two well-lighted courts considered by local players to be well built and well maintained.

About $200 was spent for miscellaneous equipment (soft balls, bats, etc.), and the Wakelon School activities bus was rented to take children on swimming parties.

Besides sponsoring daily recreational programs for a six-weeks period and seasonal athletic tournaments, the commission also backed the Fourth of July Parade participated in by various youth groups such as the Girl and Boy Scouts.

Recreation Commission members are Mrs. Evelyn Creech, Dr. B. D. Thomas, Vaiden Whitley, Ed Ellington, Pete Bryant, the Rev. Troy Barrett, and G. H. Temple.

44 Students Expected to Visit Local Community in November

Forty-four students from all over the world are expected to be in Zebulon the weekend of November 4-6 as guests of people of this community, local leaders of "The World Comes to Zebulon" event learned Tuesday night. The students, now in their first year of study in America, are studying at the University of North Carolina, and will spend the weekend in Zebulon homes as a part of a major program to increase international understanding.

The large number of students who will be in Zebulon was made known to the local "World Comes to Zebulon" Committee at its meeting Tuesday night, when the Rev. B. A. Asbury, presiding at the session, said that response of the foreign students to the invitation was enthusiastic.

Homes Needed

Seven homes which will accept two students each and thirty homes which will accept one or more students are required to house the guests. The thirty individual students include eleven women and nineteen men.

The housing committee, composed of Mrs. M. J. Sexton of the Methodist Church, Mrs. Willie B. Hopkins of the Baptist Church, and Tom Monk of the Roman Catholic Church, has set a deadline for acceptances of Friday, October 28. The committee urges that families wishing to serve as hosts contact them as early as possible.

All hosts and hostesses are invited to attend, with their guests, a banquet at Wakelon School Friday night, November 4, and a barbecue supper Saturday night at Davis Armory.

Families will pick up their guests at the Municipal Building, which will be the central meeting place for all activities, Friday afternoon. Transportation for Saturday morning and afternoon activities will be furnished by the committee.

The public is invited to a dance for the students at the high school gymnasium Friday night, and an evening program at the armory Saturday night, as well as worship services at the several churches of the community, at which the guests will speak.

Halloween Stunt To Aid Needy Set For Local Youths

Halloween "pranks" with a new twist will take on world-wide significance here on Sunday, October 30. Under the direction of Rev. Troy Barrett, Pastor of the Methodist Church, the young people of the Methodist and Baptist Churches will cooperate in a novel Halloween Stunt.

All homes in Zebulon will be canvassed by the young people and householders are asked to respond to their "trick or treat" request by giving unused or old clothing. This program is in cooperation with the Church World Service, New Windsor, Maryland. The clothing will be shipped to New Windsor and from there will be sent to areas of the world where they are needed.

Rev. Barrett asks that people in this community bundle up their old clothing and be ready for the "pranksters" on October 30 between 5 and 6 p.m. People who will be away from their homes on this date are asked to bundle up the clothing, leave them on the front porch with a light burning.

In communities where this program has been carried out police report that mischief and destruction were at a minimum, saying youths were too busy working for Christ on Halloween.

Pheem Rachananand, a student at the University of North Carolina from Thailand, will be one of the 44 guests from foreign countries in the community for the "World Comes to Zebulon" program the weekend of November 4-6.

Stories and poems depicted the lives and customs of the Indians. Mrs. Ivey Smith was accompanist. The pupils showed much executive ability and good training through their expressions not only in their program but in arts, crafts and modeling in their exhibit which was on display.

dian people. It should be recognized as a federal responsibility.

Mrs. Exum Chamblee, president, presided over the business session. It was decided to change the meetings to the fourth Tuesday afternoon of each month at the club house.

Garden Club

Mr. Willis Honeycutt of Falton's Florist of Raleigh spoke well and demonstrated ably various Christmas decorations at the October meeting of the Garden Club held Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. J. C. Debnam.

Mr. Honeycutt prepared an arrangement featuring a madonna, and also table decorations. He emphasized the importance of size in relation to the table. He also advised using evergreens and berries from your own yard. Beautiful things don't have to be expensive, and the natural graceful lines of growing plants, emphasized by touches of color in varieties of ornaments, he said, can hardly be improved upon.

Members were permitted to ask questions concerning the arrangements while they were being made, and learned much about proportion, balance, and design.

During the business session plans were made to attend the District meeting in Smithfield next week.

A delicious dessert with coffee was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Debnam and Mrs. W. B. Bunn.

An arrangement by Garden Club members will be placed either in Whitley Furniture Company or the Wakelon School Cafeteria each month.
