Forty-One Foreign Guests to Be In Zebulon for Special Weekend

GUESTS OF ZEBULON FOR WEEKEND

Honorio Deang Pasion of Manila, Philippine Islands, a 1953 graduate of National University, Manila; and Ampai Vanichcharoentham of Bangkok, Thailand, engineering graduate of Chulalongkorn University and former sanitary engineer of the Ministry of Public Health of Thailand; will be two of the forty-one guest coming to Zebulon this afternoon.

Heavy Schedule Is Planned; Students Speak at Churches

This afternoon at 4:30 one of the most interesting and educational weekends in Zebulon's history begins when "the World Comes to Zebulon." Forty-one foreign students attending the University of North Carolina, will arrive to spend a weekend in a small town to learn first-hand about America and Americans.

Citizens of the Zebulon community expect to increase their knowledge of other countries and their people through the close personal contact with their guests.

Thirty homes have volunteered to serve as hosts for the students, and will prepare breakfast and dinner on Saturday and Sunday for their guests.

The forty-one students come from sixteen countries scattered north and south of the equator on both sides of the globe.

The countries include Formosa, Philippines, Peru, Bolivia, China, India, Egypt, Israel, Japan, Pakistan, Thailand, Uruguay, Sweden, Korea, Colombia, and Lebanon.

Mayor Wilbur Debnam will welcome the visitors when they arrive this afternoon at the Zebulon Municipal Building. The Wakelon Band, directed by Alger Batts, will play as the students arrive.

Challie Iralu of India, president of the Cosmopolitan Club at the University, will introduce the guests to their hosts, and the students will be taken to homes where they will stay.

At 6:30 the Lions and Rotary Clubs will hold a joint meeting in the Wakelon cafeteria with the students and their hosts as guests.

North Carolina's Secretary of State Thad Eure will make the principal address at the meeting. Representatives of the organizations which are sponsoring the "World Comes to Zebulon" weekend will tell briefly of the purpose. (Continued on Page 7)

United Fund Campaign Meets Good Response

The Zebulon United Fund campaign is progressing very satisfactorily, Aaron Lowery reported yesterday. However, there were no figures that could be given on the drive that is being waged so successfully by the hard working solicitors.

Mr. Lowery said that he again wanted to impress the people of the value of the drive and urged all to support the drive whole heartedly.

He also said that there will be a Fund meeting next week for the purpose of reviewing the drive. The hour and place for this meeting have not been set.

Speaks at College

The Rev. Troy Barrett, pastor of the Zebulon Methodist Church, was the principal speaker last Saturday evening at the Louisburg College alumni banquet. The Rev. Barrett is an alumnus of the college.

Following the alumni dinner held in the college dining hall, there was the presentation of the portrait of the late president of the institution, Dr. Walter Patten. This portrait was a gift to the college from the alumni association.

The Rev. Barrett paid a tribute to the late president of the college, who served the institution faithfully from 1939 until his death in 1947. He also cited some of the many contributions Dr. Patten made to the college while he was its head.

Devil Dog Manufacturing Company Plans to Install 100 More Machines

The Devil Dog Manufacturing Company here is planning to very soon step up its production with 100 additional sewing machines, Elliott G. Rieger announced recently.

When the plant reaches its peak production there will be 250 persons employed at the local concern. The plant now employes approximately 100 persons.

The Devil Dog Co. here contains 32,000 square feet of floor space. It was opened about a year ago by Louis Rosenstock, president of Devil Dog Mfg. Co., subsidiary of General Sportswear Co., Ellenville, N. Y.

The local plant here manufactures children's wear, including jackets and boxer shorts. The plants at Wendell and Spring make dungarees and children's wear.

Rieger said the installation of the new machines is a part of the firm's original plan in working toward peak production.

Boy Scouts to Meet

The Boy Scouts will meet in the basement of the Baptist Church Monday night at 7 o'clock instead of their scheduled meeting in the Hut, it was announced by James Debnam, Scout Master.
