Theo. Davis Sons, Publishers

These two young refugees are washing their faces in preparation for a meal in a church-maintained home in Ioannina, Greece. Michigan CROP Director Russ Hartzler met them and others like them this summer when he surveyed the distribution of CROP food gifts in Europe and the Near East. The girls were born in Albania of Greek parents; communism made them refugees. Their food is prepared with CROP supplies contributed by the people of America.

Minister Feels Years Here Have Been Productive

The Rev. Beverly A. Asbury said he feels he has had three very productive years at the Zebulon Baptist Church.

Mr. Asbury tendered his resignation of the church and will preach his farewell sermon Sunday at the evening service.

During his tenure here the church's membership has grown, the budget has doubled, and the church has undertaken a building program.

He said that when he came here he did not feel any more organization was needed, and that he felt his biggest job was putting content and meaning into the organizations already functioning.

"My major interests have been in terms of being pastor, counselor and preacher," he said.

He said that he doesn't feel that his work here is done at all, but feels that he has done enough to leave in good conscience, knowing that things are on a firm basis.

"It is very hard for me to leave here," the Rev. Asbury said. "I have never known a friendlier, nicer and more cordial community."

He said he is not leaving the Zebulon Baptist Church out of any (See MINISTER, Page 11)

NC Safety Council Urges Car Check

Can you see, steer and stop safely?

If you can't you're a traffic menace and have no business on public thoroughfares.

That's the lesson of the current Vehicle Safety-Check program, sponsored in North Carolina by all civic groups and the Governor's Traffic Safety Council.

The goal: Safe cars for safe operation.

The time to find out if you can see, steer and stop safely is before you start out on the highway.

Don't wait until you are caught in a sudden downpour to find out if your windshield wipers are flexible and efficient. It's too late to replace them after the deluge starts. And dried out windshield wipers can cause a dim-out that may cost your life.

Don't wait until a critical moment when your life depends on split-second stopping to find out that the brake pedal slams down to the floor. The time taken to pump brakes before they take hold translates into extra feet of stopping distance — and even one foot of extra stopping distance can spell disaster.

This list of don'ts" could be as long as the list of safety parts in your automobile, for your vehicle is just as safe as its weakest part. Now — before an emergency arises — is the time to ferret out hidden weakness.

In North Carolina last year 70 of the 1031 death dealing automobile accidents occurred when one or more mechanical parts gave way at a crucial moment. Like we've been saying the most frequent failures were lights, steering, brakes and tires.

The guests found their places by miniature nurse's caps.

Miss Frankie Hall was among the more than fifty persons who attended this dinner.

City Is Burglarized During Weekend

A series of burglaries and break-ins hit Zebulon last weekend, officers have reported.

Last Sunday night the car belonging to John Gordon was stolen and was burned on a dirt road just off Highway 96 about five miles north of Zebulon.

Gordon, who was visiting his mother, Mrs. Bessie Gordon, left his 1954 Plymouth parked on Arendell Avenue beside the apartment house where his mother lives.

He discovered his car was missing early Monday morning and notified the local officers.

The car was burned about 1:30 o'clock Monday morning, Deputy Sheriff Earl Duke and Officer Willie B. Hopkins reported. The car was found in a ditch where it had been abandoned.

The Rural Fire Department was called to the scene to put out the conflagration.

Officers reported the loss was approximately $1000. They stated the car was covered by insurance.

It was decided by officers that the car must have been straight-wired in order to be driven. Gordon reportedly took the key from the ignition when he parked his car.

Investigation is still underway, the officers reported.

Gordon is on the faculty of the Bryson City school system.

On June 14 and 15, Shepard High School was burglarized, officers reported.

The Negro school was entered through a lunch room window which had been broken. Five dollars was reported taken from the Coca-Cola machine in the Agriculture department.

On Friday night the thieves entered the school again and this time stole canned and frozen foods amounting to about $20.

Investigations by Deputy Sheriff Earl Duke and Police Officer Willie B. Hopkins led to the arrest of four teenage colored youths.

The youths are to be tried in the June 27 Recorder's Court.

Thieves entered the Randal Phillips' home June 13 while the Phillips were vacationing.

Investigations revealed the unknown person or persons tore the screen from the kitchen window and entered the house.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Duke and Police Officer Willie B. Hopkins, investigating officers, reported nothing was missing.
