A gala fourth of July celebration is being planned for tomorrow by recreation leaders Charles Hester and Dave McGuire. The program is highlighted by a parade leading from the school house to the National Guard Armory and climaxed by an all-star double-header that night.

The parade leaves from the school house at 10:30 a.m., goes to the armory, and then circles back to disband at the Baptist church. Included in the parade will be the Wakelon High School Band, wearing brand new uniforms, the fire truck, teen-age council, ponies and pony carts, the activity bus, Termite and Midget baseball teams, several horse-back riders, and units from the highway patrol, National Guard, Lake Glad, ice plant, Hales Farm Supply, Wakelon Superette, Temple's Market, and several soft drink companies.

Corner X-Ray Units Doing Fine Job Detecting Cancer

NEW YORK—Those x-ray mobile units on street corners do a good job of detecting suspected or active cases of pulmonary tuberculosis — but are neither efficient nor effective in detecting two other killers, lung cancer and heart disease.

This is the report from a group of distinguished physicians who specialize in medical x-ray, the Board of Chancellors of the American College of Radiology, Chicago. They point out in the first edition of their new quarterly magazine, "Your Radiologist," that the doctor who studies the small x-ray "mini-films" from mass screenings can occasionally pick out a lung cancer or diseased heart, but only when they are in advanced stages.

However, the article says, it's usually too late for a cure. The early, small and more readily curable cases can be overlooked on the small film, and missed — which is a worse tragedy.

The Board has studied the evidence on mass x-ray surveys and has indicated that the results in the detection of lung cancer and heart disease by minifilm x-ray methods have been "disappointing to date."

"In detecting communicable tuberculosis, the surveys have been in the public interest, and to be effective it is necessary that the new cases be given immediate treatment," the Board announced, pointing out that the best method of finding these conditions early is a regular check-up by a personal physician.

Included in the same periodical is a piece about the rigid hurdles the radiologist must overcome before he is certified a specialist. From the time he enters college it takes him 12 to 15 hard-studying, self-denying years to become one. And only after he has completed his last phase of training does the young physician become a candidate. (See X-RAY, Page 4)
