Polio Shots To Be Given At Wakelon This Friday

A mass polio vaccination campaign got underway in Wake County yesterday. Dr. A. C. Bulla, Wake County health officer, urged all parents of children to cooperate with the Medical Society during this campaign.

Miss Mitzie Green, Wake County Public Health Nurse who serves this territory, said that the vaccinations are open to all persons from one to nineteen years old.

She said that all expectant mothers are urged to take polio vaccinations.

The mass polio vaccination clinic will be held Friday, August 3, at Wakelon School gymnasium from 9:30 to 11 o'clock a.m. From 2 until 3 o'clock the same day there will be a clinic at Shepard School gymnasium.

These vaccinations are free.

Pippin in Contest Again for Trip

If he wins — and he is planning to — it will be a trip to the mountains of North Carolina.

The Raleigh Times is again sponsoring a news carriers contest for the representatives of that paper who secure the most subscriptions in a given length of time.

And Billy Pippin, local representative, is out to win again. He was the winner from this locality to a trip to Cuba some months ago for securing a vast number of subscriptions to the Times.

Billy, one of the nicest and most efficient news carriers Zebulon has ever had, urges all persons who are not subscribers to the Times to see him if he doesn't contact you first.

NOTICE

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. Pat Farmer Friday night at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present for this important meeting.

Prominent Lawyer; Citizen Dies Friday; Burial Sunday

A. R. House, well known attorney, church and civic leader, died unexpectedly at his home here Friday following a heart attack.

He was born in Martin County July 27, 1887, the son of the late Mary Harrell and Marion Jefferson House.

Mr. House, who was solicitor of Zebulon Recorder's Court, received his early education in the Martin County Schools, Littleton Male Academy and Campbell College. He graduated from Wake Forest College law school and was admitted to the bar in August, 1914. He established his law office in Zebulon in October, 1915. In 1926 Mr. House moved his office to Raleigh and has practiced there for the past 30 years. He served as judge of the Apex Recorder's Court for six years. He also served as judge of Zebulon Recorder's Court for a time and has been town attorney intermittently for 35 years. At the time of his death he was Recorder's Court solicitor in Zebulon.

Appointments to Study Local Site For Hospital Clinic Are Made Here

Mayor Wilbur Debnam has appointed a committee to study the prospective site for the local clinic. The committee includes Ed Hales, chairman, Ferd Davis and Raleigh Alford.

Hales said the committee will meet in conjunction with a committee from Wendell Wednesday afternoon at Wendell. At this meeting the committee from both towns will discuss the prospective site for the local clinic.

A million dollars of the six million available for an integrated hospital system in Wake County has been set aside for four branch hospitals to be located in Wake Forest, Fuquay Springs, Apex, and Zebulon-Wendell.

Some of the things the Authority will want to know about recommended sites are: cost per acre, available, drainage conditions, environment, accessibility, grading required, distance to sewage lines and water mains and town's estimate of cost to connect these to hospital, distance to electric primary line, distance to nearest fire plug and type of fire department, distance to telephone line, amount of timber on land, and information on noise and traffic in area.

Other information required includes number of doctors, dentists and nurses and doctors' recommendations as to number of beds needed initially, basic medical equipment wanted and scope of medical services to be allowed.

Since the branch hospitals will be integrated with the general hospital they are not expected to be put into operation until after the general hospital.

Nursing School Accepts Applicants

The Wayne County Memorial Hospital is now accepting applicants for the October, 1956 class in Practical Nursing. The course is being offered to white students between the ages of 17-45 years of age who have completed a minimum of one year of high school. Applicants over 30 years of age with a grammar school education may be given an equivalency test for the first year of high school. Room, board and laundry of uniforms, as well as books and a monthly stipend are given the students while in training by the hospital.

The school is accredited by the State Board of Nursing Education and the Vocational Educational Department of North Carolina. Graduates are eligible to take the North Carolina State Board Examination for registration as a Licensed Practical Nurse.

For further information, those interested are requested to write to the School of Practical Nursing, Wayne County Memorial Hospital, Goldsboro, North Carolina.

Philco Representative Top Salesman in Carolina

One of the top appliance salesmen of North Carolina for the Philco Corporation is William Bunn.

Bunn has recently returned from an all-expense paid trip to the National Philco Convention held in Philadelphia. This trip was given Bunn for selling more Philco appliances than any other representative from this district of dealer appliances.

He was the recipient of an all-expense paid trip last year to the company's convention in New Orleans.

Bunn has been associated with Philco appliances for approximately 20 years. He has been sales representative for the past year. Prior to becoming sales representative he held the position of service representative.

He is married to the former Melba Pearce and is the father of one child, a daughter, Brenda, 14.

The Town of Zebulon is suffering from severe growing pains Mayor Wilbur Debnam reported to the Zebulon Rotary Club in a talk last Friday evening. Biggest pains are the need for a new larger water filter plant and a sewage disposal plant.

Comparing pre-World War 1941 figures with those of 1956, Mayor Debnam emphasized that Zebulon has enjoyed a steady growth, but that municipal utilities have not kept pace.

Population in 1941 was 1,040; in 1956 it is estimated at 1,600. Water revenue has increased in 15 years from $2,400 a year to $13,000 a year, and number of water customers from 275 to 600.

This tremendous increase in water use has been caused not just by increased population but by increased use of water. The maximum daily water consumption in 1956 is 300,000 gallons. The water filter plant is designed for 200,000 gallons per day, requiring deep wells for the deficit.

For immediate emergency use, a 450,000 gallon per day water supply is needed, the Mayor reported.

Mayor Debnam suggested a filter plant be constructed at Little River with a new water main laid from the filter plant to the town lines. This would eliminate much of the trouble now caused by mud and other impurities filling the present line and restricting the water flow.

In addition, the new pure water (See NEEDS, Page 5)
