216 Polio Shots Given at Clinic

County Health Nurse Miss Mitzie Green said approximately 216 persons received polio vaccinations at the mass clinic held at Wakelon and Shepard schools August 16.

The count for Wakelon was 126 and 90 for Shepard, she said.

Miss Green urges all school children who have not received their third shot to do so before the opening of school. The children may receive these vaccinations each Thursday at the Zebulon Municipal Building from 2 until 3 o'clock.

On the average approximately 50 children receive poliomyelitis shots given each Thursday at the Municipal Building.

She stated that many children on file that have received their first and second doses have failed to come back for their third shots. She urged that for the immunization to be truly effective a third dose should be taken.

There will be no more mass clinics held at either Wakelon or Shepard schools.

The cost-price squeeze on the nation's farms is being eased by 450,000 4-H Club members taking part in three popular 4-H agricultural programs, Field Crops, Soil and Water Conservation, and Tractor.

Through the programs, club members are learning to produce crops efficiently, conserve natural resources, and maintain farm equipment at the peak of operating efficiency.

In addition to increasing financial returns and learning latest approved methods, 4-H'ers who do outstanding work are eligible for honors and recognition in the National 4-H Award Programs. Incentives in the Field Crops Program are provided by the Nitrogen Division of Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation; Soil and Water Conservation awards by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company; and Tractor honors by the American Oil Company.

Gold-filled medals are made available for four county winners in each program. State champions in each receive all-expense trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Firm Scheduled To Begin Operations About Oct. 1

A new garment plant which will provide employment for 80 to 85 women is under construction at Middlesex. The building is scheduled to be completed the latter part of next month and the plant will begin operations about the first of October, according to Middlesex Mayor Homer Bunn.

Applications from women who desire employment as sewing machine operators in the new industry are now being accepted at the town office in Middlesex, Mayor Bunn said. The employment office in Rocky Mount is assisting in the task of recruiting labor.

Superior Manufacturing Company is the name of the new plant. It is an affiliate corporation of Devil Dog Manufacturing Company which operates plants at Spring Hope, Wendell and Zebulon. The firm manufactures sportswear, dungarees and other wearing apparel.

A nucleus of trained labor will be brought in from other Devil Dog units to launch the Middlesex operation, but most of the workers will be new employees who will be trained in the plant. Starting pay will depend on the experience of the worker and her classification as a learner or as an experienced operator. The plant will operate on a 40-hour, five-day week.

The building for the new manufacturing corporation is located on three and one-half acres of land on Highway 231 just south of the Middlesex business district. The main part of the structure is 77 feet by 90 feet, which will provide 6,930 square feet of manufacturing area. Space for offices, (Continued on Page 8)

Economic Situation Is Critical Speaker Tells Club

Edmund Aycock, chairman of the Central North Carolina Development Association, told Zebulon Rotarians and guests Friday night of the need for the people of eastern North Carolina to work together to help overcome the critical economic situation that has developed.

He pointed out that the economic situation is at a dangerously critical point and that it is up to the people to do something to alleviate the condition.

"We can't wait for somebody else to do it for us," he said. "We have got to do it ourselves."

Aycock cited the condition of the world's tobacco trade. He said foreign markets are shying away from American markets because they can secure cheaper leaf from markets in South Africa.

In order to cope with this and like situations, Aycock suggested the area development plan whereby the people of a given area band together, demanding better quality products and higher prices.

This area development plan originated in northwestern North Carolina and has proved successful thus far, according to Aycock. The plan seeks to develop the fields of agriculture, industry, recreation and community life.

Aycock is a native of Wayne County and attended N. C. State College and the University of North Carolina. He was formerly a county agent of Johnston County and is now a representative of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company in Raleigh.

Prior to the introduction of the speaker by Robert Daniel Massey, Dr. L. M. Massey, past president of the Zebulon Farm Bureau, said that the farmers are "fighting a battle of justice" and "fighting for equality of income."
