THE PEARSALL PLAN

Opinions, Comments Vary

Comments and opinions from various townspeople on the Pearsall plan which is to be voted on September 8.

Mrs. Haywood Jones: "I haven't definitely made up my mind. There are many pros and cons to this thing, but somebody has got to point out to me many more factors before I vote for a plan to throw public education out the window."

Mrs. B. H. Johnson, teacher in the Middlesex School: "I think it is the best plan for taking care of a bad situation. I shall support it wholeheartedly."

Mrs. Carsey Tippet: "I really haven't made up my mind. I am still mulling it over."

Garland L. Richardson, chairman of Wakelon School Board: "I am very much in favor of it."

Mrs. Hardin Hinton: "I am going to vote for it because I believe it is the best plan offered so far."

Mrs. Eldred Rountree, president of Wakelon PTA: "I shall support the Pearsall plan 100 percent."

Mrs. Exum Chamblee, president of Zebulon Senior Woman's Club: "I haven't made up my mind. I am doing a lot of reading and hope to come to a decision before going to the polls."

Wilbur Debnam, mayor of Zebulon: "In my opinion I believe it will pass."

Tenderness in Meat May Be Inherited

There is some evidence from research with rabbits and in studies of sheep and beef cattle that tenderness in meat is an inherited quality, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

To produce more lean meat of good quality and tenderness, farmers need a better understanding of what makes tenderness and desirable flavor, says USDA research scientists.

Enough research has been done to show there is no direct relation between tenderness in the meat and outside fat. But tenderness and flavor may be influenced by the particles of fat within the meat cells. It is also possible that there may be a relationship between tenderness and the size and elasticity of different muscle fibers.

Zebulon Baptist 'Flock' Looking for 'Shepherd'

The members of Zebulon Baptist church are still waiting—waiting for the employment of a pastor.

Officials of the pulpit committee say they are still in the process of interviewing and contacting prospective ministers for the position.

None of the committee could give a definite date as to when a pastor will be hired.

As one member of the pulpit committee said: "When the prospective minister learns the salary

Ag Teacher Native Of Nash County

Paul Dew, new agriculture teacher at Wakelon School, is a native of Nash County. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dew.

Mr. Dew received his elementary schooling at Bailey and high schooling at Charles L. Coon in Wilson. He received his B. S. degree in agriculture at North Carolina State College in 1953.

Following his graduation from college, Mr. Dew taught at Westfield High School in Surry County for one year. He then entered service and was with the United States Army for 2 years.

He is married to the former Alice Wood of Louisburg and they have a son, Timothy, 2½-years-old.

Mr. Dew succeeds Ed Ellington.

Delinquent Registrants

Members of the registrants' families and others acquainted with them are requested to render assistance in locating these delinquents. These delinquent registrants are urged to immediately contact this board. If they do not do so, the Selective Service Board will be compelled to order them for induction in the forthcoming call.

Delinquents are Jessie Lane Austin, Walter Montague, Ralph Edward Vaughn, Emory Lee Pegram, Bennie Ray Wilkerson and Junior Douglas.

paid a pastor of our church that's the deciding factor against."

The salary paid the former pastor, the Rev. Beverly A. Asbury, was $3,900.

Another pulpit committee member said: "It takes a man with a lot of courage to accept this position with such an extensive and expensive building program facing him."

At present the church has undertaken a building program that will cost approximately $200,000.

The church is now being supplied by visiting ministers from other churches and colleges.

Valuable Prizes To Be Given By Wendell Firms

Vacation Ends Today; School Tomorrow; Opening Set for 9:00

Superintendent Says Wake Schools In Good Shape

According to Wake County Superintendent of Schools Fred A. Smith, the county's schools are in "pretty good shape."

Smith said that the county is expecting its largest enrollment in its history when the school bells ring Wednesday.

"We are expecting 19,000 children to be enrolled in the public schools of Wake County," Superintendent Smith said.

There will be 625 teachers staffing the schools, and 215 buses will transport the children to the schools.

Commander Urges Basic Training

Young men 17 to 18½ years of age will benefit in many ways by taking advantage of the 6-months active duty program offered National Guardsmen, according to Lieutenant Jack Potter, commanding officer of Battery A, 113th Field Artillery Battalion.

The special program permits volunteers to complete their basic training, learn many fundamentals of artillery, and return home to serve with local National Guard units.

Enthusiastic reports from men now on active duty for six months are being received, Lt. Potter said. When these men return home, they will be ready for rapid advancement.

Company A, 139th Infantry Regiment, in Oxford has 17 men at Ft. Jackson receiving the active duty training together. While Battery A (Continued on Page 4)

Principal Hicks Expects Capacity Enrollment

Vacation time is almost over, kids!

Come Wednesday it will be time to start readin', writin' and rithmetic.

Principal John J. Hicks has announced that on opening day the school will operate from 9 until 12 o'clock. Thursday and Friday's schedule is from 8:15 until 2 o'clock.

The school is planning no formal opening exercises, according to Principal Hicks. There will be a short orientation ceremony for the high school presided over by the principal and Johnny Richardson, president of the Wakelon Student Council.

During the summer there have been repairs made to some of the school property. New floors have been laid in the grammar grade building and the woodwork has a bright, shiny new coat of paint.

Minor repairs have also been done to the boilers.

Principal Hicks stated that the school is in "very good shape."

By order of the State Department of Education, lunches for adults will be upped five cents during the next school year. This will make adult lunches cost 35 cents instead of 30 cents as last year. Student lunch prices will remain the same.

This morning there will be a teacher's meeting at 9:30, Principal Hicks has said.

The Wakelon faculty has been completed except for the employment of an additional seventh grade teacher. Principal Hicks feels that this teacher will be employed very soon.

The following is the faculty that will staff the school for 1956-57.

Driver Education to Be Offered at Rolesville Hi

Rolesville High School will open Wednesday, September 5, at 9:30 a.m. to commence the 56-57 school term according to Principal G. W. Davis.

Many repair jobs to buildings and grounds have been done during the summer which will supplement the school term in many ways toward meeting the needs of 625 students that Principal Davis and his faculty are looking forward to enrolling on the first day.

Parents, patrons, and friends are invited to attend the opening exercises in the high school auditorium at 10:00 with Ronald Shearon, Student Council president, presiding. At this time a well planned program will be shared with the audience and student body.

The curriculum has been enriched in many ways by the addition of an extra teacher in the high school. Driver Education will be offered by the first time in the history of the school as a bona fide subject. Coach Robert Price attended State College this summer and received certification for the teaching of this course. Service Chevrolet Co. of Wake Forest will furnish the school a car for this multiple-purpose course.

The faculty for 56-57 is as follows:

High School principal and math—G. W. Davis

Frances Fickling—English and math

Lois Williams—Home Ec.

Milton King—English, History, and French
