Farmers Reminded to File Tax Refunds On Farm Used Gasoline by Oct. 1

The North Carolina Farm Bureau reminded farmers this week to file their federal tax refunds on farm-used gasoline. The deadline is October 1.

Farm Bureau Executive Vice President R. Flake Shaw said many farmers eligible for this refund have not made application for it.

A charge of three cents in federal tax is made on each gallon of gasoline. This is the first year that farmers who use gasoline in farm machinery have been exempt from it.

Farmers should file for the refund through the office of P. K. Sanders, Greensboro, director of internal revenue for the North Carolina district.

The exemption of non-highway used gasoline from federal tax came after extended debates in Congress over whether to increase the gasoline tax to finance a new nationwide highway construction program.

But the Farm Bureau has for several years urged exemption for farmers from the tax, maintaining that gasoline used on the farm is source of production supply, much as is electricity in making aluminum or as is diesel fuel in other types of manufacture.

The exemption means savings of

Mrs. Naomi Crosby

Funeral services for Mrs. Naomi Cox Crosby who died unexpectedly at her home in Atlanta, Ga., Friday, were held at the Bethany Baptist Church near Wendell Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Crosby was formerly from the Bethany community and was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Cox.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Claude Connell of Wendell, and the Rev. J. E. Sponenberg of Raleigh. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Survivors are her husband, J. J. Crosby, Jr.; and two small children, Gregory and Dona, of Atlanta, and Raleigh, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cox of Wendell, one brother, George B. Cox, of Rolesville; three sisters, Mrs. Charles Williams of Rolesville, Mrs. Durward Hodge and Mrs. Jim Watkins, both of Raleigh, and a host of friends.

Pallbearers were William Frazier, Clarence Desern, Robert Jones, Willard Griffin, Bayard Pearce and Samuel Davis.

$2½ million annually to North Carolina farmers. "Since it means so much to the average farmer, refund applications should be filed immediately," said Shaw.

Legion Discusses Pearsall Plan At Friday Meet

The Pearsall Plan was the topic of discussion at the Friday night meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary. The Auxiliary was held in the home of Mrs. Melvin Lanier.

After the pledge of allegiance to the flag and a responsive repeating of the preamble to the constitution Mrs. Golden Crowder, Auxiliary chaplain, led in prayer.

Mrs. Pat Farmer, president, called for reports from Child Welfare Chairman, Mrs. Dabney Gill. Mrs. Raymond Pippin, library chairman, announced the library schedule change. With the opening of school the library will be open only one day a week, she reported. This will be on each Friday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock.

As in past years the Auxiliary will sell Christmas cards. Anyone interested in purchasing greeting cards should call Mrs. Farmer, Mrs. Foster Lewis or Mrs. Frank Wall. Other members of the Auxiliary may be called or contacted for the purchase of Christmas cards.

After delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, the meeting adjourned to meet in October with Mrs. Dabney Gill.

Calf Show Thurs. At State College Dairy Farm

I. O. Brady, chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the Ninth Annual Wake County Dairy Calf Show, sponsored by the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce, will be held Thursday, September 20, at the dairy pavilion at the N. C. State College Dairy Farm. Edmond Aycock, a committee member, is chairman of the committee in charge of the show.

Approximately 30 animals will be exhibited and the blue ribbon winners will be shown in the District Show in Fayetteville September 21.

Dr. Martin Litwack, veterinarian and a member of the Chamber's Agriculture Committee, will inspect and test the animals on September 10 for Bang's disease.

Most of the animals to be exhibited will be selected from the dairy calves which were distributed by the Dairy Calf Foundation. Also animals will be entered that have been bought privately by individuals as well as those bred by local dairymen.

Extension agents and teachers of agriculture are assisting boys and girls in preparing their animals for this show.

For the past three years, an average of more than 36 per cent of bulls used by state, cooperative, and privately-owned dairy breeding units in this country have been proved sires.

Prices paid by North Carolina farmers for most mixed dairy feeds declined slightly during the month ended April 15.
