Daniel Given Award For Distinguished Service At Merchants Association

E. C. Daniel was among six persons who received Distinguished Service to Retailing awards from the North Carolina Merchants Association Wednesday in a ceremony held in the Elizabeth Room of Hotel Sir Walter.

Governor Luther H. Hodges made the presentation of the awards.

Besides Daniel, others to receive awards were Abel Warren of Garland, W. L. Wyatt of Raleigh, R. M. Pound of Charlotte, J. E. Spainhour of North Wilkesboro and J. B. Efrd of Charlotte.

Daniel, who celebrated his 50th year in the drug business last December, began operating a drug store in the little village of Wakefield just outside of Zebulon in 1905. He moved to Zebulon about the time it came into existence in 1907.

He is past president of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association and has served on its board of directors for the past 10 years. He has been active in the civic affairs of his town, serving as mayor for six years, and other capacities of the town.

He is married to the former Elvah Jones, and is the father of one son, E. C., Jr., assistant foreign editor of the New York Times.

Governor Hodges told the award recipients he deemed it a "great honor to present these awards in behalf of those honoring you for distinction in your field of retailing."

W. W. Kale of Charlotte, immediate past president of the North Carolina Merchants Association, presided as master of ceremonies.

Senior Women Hold First Meet

The Senior Woman's Club began its year's work Tuesday with an overwhelming vote for the improvement committee to begin work immediately on the improving of the club house.

Mrs. A. S. Hinton, chairman of the improvement committee, said plans will begin to be executed immediately for the club house to be renovated. She would not divulge to what extent the renovation would cover.

The improvement committee is composed of Mrs. Hinton, Mrs. J. F. Coltrane, and Mrs. Melvin Massey.

Mrs. Exum Chamblee, president of the club, presided over the meeting. Following the business session the hostesses, Mrs. L. M. Massey, Mrs. I. D. Gill and Mrs. Wallace Chamblee, served a refreshment course to the fifteen members present.

Man Drives Into Yard To Sleep Off Drunk

James Arthur Smith, 47, of Seven Springs was arraigned on the charge of public drunkenness Monday.

According to officers, Smith had driven into the yard of Lester Green and was completely "passed out."

Green was notified that a drunk or somebody acting funny" was in his yard by a neighbor. Green said his wife was not at home at the time.

A local officer and patrolman went to the scene and found Smith completely in a coma from some alcoholic beverage.

It was learned that Smith is employed at a tobacco warehouse in Wendell.

He was released on a $50 bond Tuesday and was scheduled to be given a hearing in Recorder's Court Wednesday.

Fair Suffers Because Flossie Entered Scene; Blue Ribbons Listed

The rainy aftermath of Hurricane Flossie dampened the spirits of fair goers and fair officials here this week.

Zebulon's Five County Fair opened Monday and the attendance has been nil due to the heavy rains that have pelted this vicinity all week.

The fair this year is being sponsored by the local Lions Club, and some members of the club have remarked that they must have been "jinxed" because the week has been so inclement, reducing fair attendance.

Fair officials reported that the exhibits this year are the best in many seasons. They said there is a greater variety of field crops, pantry supplies, handicraft, flowers and canned foodstuffs.

The following persons won blue ribbons for entries in field crops. Corn: Carlton Debnam, W. H. Rogers and E. E. Everette.

Cotton: Mrs. Rella Privette.

Wheat: Hardin Hinton.

Oats: Richard Mason and Wilbur Blackley.

Tobacco: J. S. Mitchell.

Cowpeas: Mrs. Katie Averette.

Peanuts: Mrs. Katie Averette.

Best country ham: Mrs. Vera Rhodes.

Eggs: Brown shell, Mrs. Rella Privette; white shell, Mrs. Vera Rhodes.

Sweet potatoes: Mrs. Rella Privette.

Onions: Mrs. Rella Privette, yellow globe; Mrs. Theo. Davis, white multiplier.

Collards: Robert Ed Horton.

Peppers: Mrs. Bob Sawyer, Chinese giant and bell; Mrs. Ruth Puryear, cayenne; Mrs. Katie Averette, pimiento.

Tomatoes: Miss Helen Wootton, Marglobe.

Miscellaneous: Mrs. A. S. Hinton, eggplant; Jimmy Hodge, wa-

Car Wash

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will sponsor a car wash at the church Saturday, October 6. The youth urged you that have cars to wash to please make reservations now.

The proceeds from this car wash will go toward purchasing a projector for the youth of the church.

Chained Pens Now At Post Office

The long awaited new post office pens are now in service at the local post office. The ball point pens are attached to chains, and are a great improvement over the old scratchy ones which have been in use.

Children's Home Head Methodists Speaker Sunday

The Rev. Robert L. Nicks, superintendent of the Methodist Home for Children in Raleigh, will speak at the 11 o'clock worship service at the Zebulon Methodist Church Sunday. His topic will be "O God, My Heart Is Fixed."

The Rev. Mr. Nicks will bring with him Linda Carter and Gary Boulier, children from the Home, who will tell the people about activities at the institution. Two other children from the Home will possibly be on the program. This service will come at the close of the Church School hour.

Also at this time Church School members will receive certificates of promotion, this being promotion Sunday.

3 Delinquents

Three persons have been classified as delinquent by Wake County Selective Service Local Board No. 93, it has been announced.

The delinquents are Johnnie Floyd Wilson, Luncie McNeil and Lewis Aston, Jr.

Members of the registrants' families and others acquainted with them are requested to render assistance in locating these delinquents. If they do not contact this board immediately they will be ordered for induction immediately.

Moss Named Outstanding Airman for 6-Month Term

Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh G. Moss have been notified that their son, Ned, has been selected the "Outstanding Airman" of his squadron for the six months period ending June 30, 1956.

This award is made in each unit of the Strategic Air Command to that single Airman who has contributed most to his organization through leadership, conduct, and attitude during a six months period.

Col. Paul S. Emrick, in a letter to Ned's parents, wrote: "By taking a personal interest in his work, and applying himself without regard to his personal welfare, your son contributed immeasurably to the mission of his unit. In addition, his appearance, military bearing, and courtesy reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

Ned holds the rank of master sergeant, and is crew chief of his squadron. He is stationed with the 6th Air Force Division, Mac Dill Air Force Base, Florida.
