Cub Scouts May Disband Because of Lack of Support

Without the support of the townspeople, the Cub Scouts may become a thing of the past.

The Cub Scouts, a most worthwhile organization, has not had a group meeting since the early summer.

"It is impossible to have a meeting," Scoutmaster Eldred Rountree said, "because we don't have enough den mothers. Two den mothers cannot possibly take care of between 35 and 40 Cub Scouts."

Scoutmaster Rountree wiped away any thought that he has resigned or may resign. The rumor has been rampant that he has resigned.

"I have a job to do," he said, "and I am going to try to do it to the best of my ability."

He has been head of the Cub Scouts for the past one and one-half years.

Only two den mothers have been secured so far. These two women cannot handle 40 boys anxious to learn Cub Scouting.

"No den mother should have over eight boys," Rountree said. "We prefer they have even less—six at the most."

Being a den mother is purely voluntary and there is no pay attached, except the reimbursement of love from the boys and the

No report of collection has been made of the following group captains and their territories: Mrs. Ferd Davis, John Hlcks, Billy K. Hopkins and Frank Wall.

Kay Pate Relinquishes Crown at Wendell

As a climax to the 1956 tobacco marketing season, the Wendell Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Wendell Tobacco Board of Trade is sponsoring a Gold Leaf Festival day today.

The local warehouses will close tobacco auctions for the season on Thursday, November 15.

During the Festival Day, immediately after the parade, a new 1956 one-half ton Ford truck will be given away to a lucky farmer who sold his tobacco on the Wendell market.

The big Festival parade will get underway at 2:30 p.m. The parade will include floats by the local grocery stores, dry goods stores, Lewis Furniture Company, Bank of Wendell and Building and Loan Association, Garden Club Coun-

Legion to Hold Turkey Shoot

You can win a turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner by attending the American Legion turkey shoot.

The members of the Legion are sponsoring three turkey shoots on Saturday, Nov. 17, and Tuesday and Wednesday night, Nov. 20 and 21.

The Saturday, Nov. 17, shoot will be held at the Zebulon Airport approximately two miles north of Zebulon on Highway 96. The night shoots will be held in the Davis Armory.

The shoot at the Airport will be held from 12 noon until dark. Participants are required to bring their own shotguns. Rifles will be required at the Armory, yours or one will be furnished by the Legion.

Ammunition will be furnished.

The proceeds from these shoots will go into the Legion Christmas fund used to buy Christmas Cheer packages for needy families in Zebulon and the surrounding communities.

Rural Fire Dept. Deposits Savings

The Zebulon Rural Fire Department has stashed away $1,000 in the Home Savings and Loan Association in Rocky Mount.

Secretary - Treasurer Ed Hales said the money was taken out of the operating fund and deposited in the Rocky Mount firm where it will accrue 3½ per cent interest.

Each member of the fire department is assessed 10 per cent of the initial joining fee. This money is set aside so that when any equipment is needed the money will be available.

The department is given $100 a month by Wake County for its operating expenses.

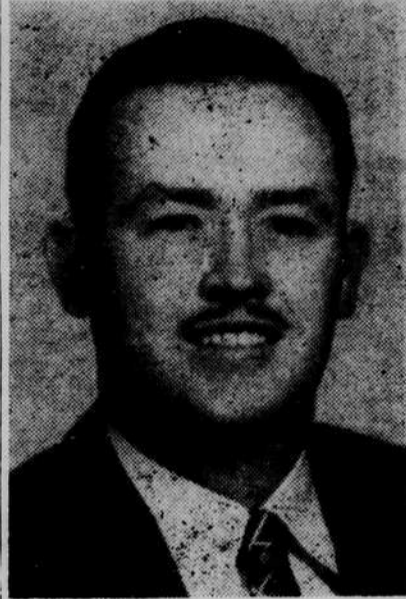

The Rural Fire Department met November 7 at the Municipal building with President Robert Ed Horton presiding.

cil; and by Pine State Creamery, Tobacco Board of Trade, Coca Cola Bottling Company, Carolina Power and Light Company, and Toby the Clown from the Jones Sausage Company. Beauties from Nashville, Garner, Selma, Middlesex, Zebulon, Corinth Holders, and Wendell will ride in decorated convertibles. Miss Wake County, Miss Sonja Averette, will also add beauty to the parade.

Miss Linda Kinlaw, Miss North Carolina Majorette, will lead the parade and do a baton twirling performance after it is over. The mayor and civic club presidents will also be members of the parade. Bands from Clayton, Zebulon, and Spring Hope will provide music for the parade. There will

Ag Teacher Heads Ruritans

A Corinth-Holders High School vocational agriculture teacher has been elected the first president of Corinth-Holders Ruritan Club at the Charter Night meeting of the new civic organization in the school cafeteria Monday night.

John L. Glover, who conceived the idea of forming the Ruritan Club in the community and served as temporary chairman during the organization period, is the new president.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, J. D. Hinton, a farmer and car salesman; treasurer, William Wheeler, farmer; and secretary, James Congleton, store clerk.

Directors named were: Delma Murphy, farmer, and Andrew Batten, carpenter, for a one-year term; D. E. Wilder, farmer and warehouseman, for a two-year term; and E. E. Powell, merchant, for a three-year term.

The slate of officers were presented by the nominating committee headed by Ronald Hocutt.

The Ruritan Club decided to meet on the second Monday night of each month in the school cafeteria.

Baptist Minister Still Being Sought

Dr. L. M. Massey, chairman of the Zebulon Baptist Church pulpit committee, has quashed rumors that a minister has been secured for the church.

The church has been without a minister since the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Asbury. Supply ministers have been filling the pulpit each Sunday.

Dr. Massey said there are still many prospects who are being interviewed and contacted.

He said he could not say when a minister will be found to take over the position vacant at the church.

"At present, there is no one in the immediate foreseeable future," the chairman said.

New appointments to the Zebulon Recreation Commission have been announced and released for publication.

At the last meeting of the Commission held in July, Milton (Pete) Bryant was named chairman to replace George Henry Temple. Temple held the chairmanship of the Commission for the past three years.

During Temple's three years as head of the Commission the organization has struggled from a shaky infancy until it is now a full grown thriving organization.

The summer recreation program is now one of the finest in the state, and promises to become even greater in future years.

"We feel that the community has been made richer and fuller since Zebulon has undertaken a recreation program," Mrs. James Creech said.

Mrs. Creech, who has served as secretary of the Commission for the past three years, is being succeeded by Miss Ruby Dawson.

Fred Beck will replace Bryant

Two-In-One Egg Weighs One-Half Pound

Elmer Finch's White Rock hens believe in hitting the jackpot when it comes to the size of eggs laid.

Last week Mr. Finch collected the eggs from his flock and he found a giant size product in one of the nests.

Weighing the egg, it tipped the scales at one-half pound.

Still curious as to what was on the inside, the egg was broken and it was found to have another perfectly formed egg on the inside. This egg was broken and examined. It had the usual contents, regular albumen and yolk.

The flock has been observed carefully since then by Mr. Finch, but he cannot pick out the hen that walks with an unusual strut or air of haughty pride.

Common Sense Needed In Flower Arranging

Common sense is the greatest thing needed in flower arranging. Willis Honeycutt, Fallon Florist designer-decorator, told the Carmen Flowers Garden Club at its November meeting Monday night.

"There are rules, yes," he said, "but if one uses a bit of common sense flower arrangements can turn out well."

Honeycutt gave a demonstration on the art of making arrangements for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday seasons.

He told the club that they must select a proper type container and start from there. The containers are half the battle, he said.

He urged the women to use their imagination. It might seem weird or strange at first, but experiment with the arrangement.

One of the first suggestions was to get the lines of the arrangement. He used the old one, two, three method, commonly called Chinese style.

With center pieces, he urged that they should not be made too high or too thick in the center.

"Dinner guests like to see the person across the table from them," the speaker said.

Honeycutt said there are no hard and fast rules governing flower arranging.

"One should take into consideration the size of the room, height of ceilings, exposure, where the arrangement is to be placed, etcetera."

The expert designer cautioned about making the arrangements too fussy.

"Good arrangements are simple, with good lines. Simplicity is always eye-catching," he said.

Mrs. George Tucker, president of the Club, presided over the meeting held in the home of Mrs. A. S. Hinton.

The business consisted of correspondence, the planning of the
