Garden Club Flower Show Set for May; Date Not Fixed

At the March meeting of the Carmen Flowers Garden Club, Mrs. George Tucker, president, told the club members the duties of flower show committeemen.

Why have flower shows? Mrs. Tucker answered with: "It stimulates interest in varieties of plants; members learn new methods of hybridization, cultivation and fertilization; learn color and design; learn how to plan attractive gardens; learn how to create more artistic arrangements; raise the standards of horticulture; and it is educational."

She said there are four different types of shows: indoor, house to house, out door and state. The indoor shows must be 50% devoted to horticulture and 50% to arrangement.

"Scoring," she said "comes under two classifications: arrangement and composition. The definition of an arrangement is that there must be a use of cut flowers only. A composition is an arrangement of both live flowers and dried materials."

At this meeting no definite date was decided on for the flower show to be held here, but it will be in May. The date will be announced by this paper.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Eldred Rountree, who acted as hostess. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Rountree served strawberry shortcake, nuts and coffee to the 13 guests present.

Hinton Is Rated Superior in Piano Division of Contest

Mickey Hinton won superior rating in the piano division at the annual contest-music festival in Raleigh Saturday.

The festival, held at the State School for the Blind is sponsored annually by the Raleigh District of the N. C. Music Educators' Association.

Mickey, 13, is a seventh grade student at Wakelon School. He participated in the junior division, playing Minuet in G Minor by Bach and Sonata in G Major by Beethoven. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hinton and has been a pupil of Mrs. Rodney McNabb for several years.

Miss Betsy Brantley was an entrant in the eighth district music contest, sponsored annually by the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs, held in Durham Saturday. She performed several numbers on the piano but was not adjudged a winner.

Both Miss Brantley and Mr. Hinton were selected as participants in the contests by the Zebulon Senior Woman's Club.

Finals for Rifle Competition Held At Local Armory

Finals for the state-wide National Guard small bore rifle competition were held in Zebulon's National Guard armory Sunday, with four teams participating. Company B, 139th Infantry Regiment, of Warrenton won the all-day meet.

Expert riflemen began firing in the armory range 8 o'clock Sunday morning. The meet was concluded at 5:30 in the afternoon.

Lt. Col. Clarence B. Shimer of Raleigh, G-3 for the 30th Infantry Division, was in charge of the competition.

Participating were Company B of Warrenton; Company M, 119th Infantry Regiment, of Warsaw; Headquarters Battery, 112th FA Battalion, Lenoir; and Headquarters Battery, 252nd AAA Group, Wilmington.

Members of the winning team were First Lt. Roger L. Currie, Company B commanding officer; First Lt. Cason S. Pridgen, M/Sgt. Ollie C. Leonard, Pvt. Jesse E. Ranes, Sfc. Roy A. Cameron, and M/Sgt. Ernest M. Jones.

This is the second year in succession that the Warrenton National Guardsmen have won the championship.

The competition is conducted under official rules of the National Rifle Association for small arms firing.

Zebulon was selected as the site for the finals because it is centrally located in the state and has adequate facilities for small arms firing.

PTA Date Has Been Postponed

Wakelon School Parent-Teacher Association will be postponed from March 18 to March 25, it has been announced by Mrs. Eldred Rountree, president.

At the Monday night, March 25 meeting, H. A. Hodge, Jr., Eastern Divisional Supervisor, N. C. Board of Paroles, will speak on Juvenile Delinquency, Mrs. Garland Godwin, program chairman, has said. Mr. Hodge has been associated with the Parole Board for the past 16 years and has made an extensive study of crime among teenagers.

An entertaining musical program has been arranged, and friends and especially patrons of the organization are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Attends Dental Clinics

Dr. L. M. Massey attended a series of Post Graduate Dental Clinics held by the District of Columbia and the Georgetown University in Washington, D. C., this week.

The clinics this year were quite outstanding and a greater effort was exerted to cover every professional approach of the dental field of practice.

This graduate course was significant because it was the twenty-fifth series of clinics given by the District Organization and the Georgetown University.

Mrs. Massey accompanied her husband on this trip.

Town Board Permits Police Department to Buy Two-Way Radio

CORRECTION

Wakelon School pre-school clinic for children who will enter school in September will be held Monday, April 15, rather than Saturday, April 13, as was erroneously stated in Friday's issue of this paper.

Parents who have children who enter Wakelon School in September are urged to keep this date in mind. They are also requested to bring the child's birth certificate showing the child's age at the time he is registered at the clinic.

Children who will be 6 years old by October 16, 1957, are eligible to attend public schools during the 1957-58 school year.

Will Be Used For Civil Defense Purposes

Before too much longer Zebulon Police Department will be able to contact by two-way radio Wake County Sheriff Department and other surrounding towns that have two-way communication systems.

At the March Town Board meeting, Police Chief Willie B. Hopkins was authorized to purchase a two-way radio system for the town of Zebulon.

Only four other towns in Wake County comparable in size to Zebulon have such systems. They are Wake Forest, Fuquay Springs, Apex and Cary.

Police Chief Hopkins said the set will cost approximately $600. Half of this purchase price will be paid for out of Wake County Civil Defense funds.

Wake County Civil Defense officials are urging all towns in the county to have access to such systems in case of emergencies and disasters.

Mayor Wilbur Debnam said he is highly pleased with the Town Board's reaction in deciding to purchase a two-way communication system. He said he feels that if a disaster should ever strike the town this communication system may be its life saver.

The two-way radio set-up will have the same frequency as the system used by the Wake County Sheriff's Department. Once the system is installed Zebulon police will be able to contact the county office and surrounding towns which have the system.

It will also be used to contact the local police car when it is (Continued on Page 8)

Wake County FB Auxiliary Head Praises Farm Bureau

The Farm Bureau Auxiliary held its monthly meeting Monday night, March 11, in Wakelon Home Economics Building with guests from surrounding towns.

A most interesting program was planned with Mrs. Callie Hardwick, N. C. State College Housing Specialist, giving an interesting and informative talk on coordinating color in the home.

"You should have something bright, something light, and something dark in the color scheme of your home," she told the women present.

She demonstrated how to pick up colors in the color scheme of your home with accessories.

Vassar Shearon, president of Wake County Farm Bureau, made a short talk prior to introducing the principal speaker of the evening, Mrs. Irby Walker, administrative director of Farm Bureau Women.

Mrs. Walker expressed her appreciation at having the opportunity to address the Wakelon Farm Bureau women and their guests. She told of her work in the state and how farm women can promote projects and be of great help to the men.

"The Farm Bureau is a family organization," Mrs. Walker said. "It can be strengthened with the help of the women working together with their husbands and sons."

She praised the local Farm Bureau for sponsoring the Zebulon Rural Fire Truck project, calling it a "most worthwhile project to the life of the community."

She also had high praise for the local Bureau women for their part of helping to secure a sewing machine for the Wakelon Home Eco- (Continued on Page 8)
