FFA Pig Chain

Boys Have 11 Sponsors

Eleven persons and firms are sponsoring pigs for the pig chain which was recently organized by Wakelon Future Farmers of America.

Except for two of these pigs which are Yorkshire, the rest are Tamworth.

Those who have given a pig to the chapter are Joseph Temple, Dr. L. M. Massey, Wiley Broughton, Peoples Bank & Trust Co. of Zebulon, The Zebulon Record, Colonial Frozen Foods of Zebulon, Inc., Pat Farmer, Worth Hinton, Little River Ice Co., Zebulon Supply Co. and Thurman Hepler and Ed Hales.

The purpose of the pig chain, according to Paul Dew, Wakelon agriculture instructor, is to introduce new and better type blooded animals into this area.

The local FFA chapter met Tuesday night and laid plans for the pig chain.

Dew reported that "everything is going most satisfactorily with (Continued on Page 9)

Don't Be A Statistic Say Swimming Instructors

Main Drag Gets Asphalt Coating

If your jitney seems to ride just a little bit smoother as you travel the main drag of Zebulon, its because of the new resurfacing of that portion of the city's street.

The resurfacing was done July 8 by the State Highway and Public Works Commission.

The new black top face of plant mixed asphalt extends from Barbee Street to Gannon Avenue.

The approximate total cost of the 1,735 square feet of paving was $7,326.

This portion of the street is classified as part of the North Carolina State Highway System Streets.

No Powell Bill Funds were used for this resurfacing.

List Some Pertinent Facts

Summer time is swim time.

"It's one of the most fascinating and enjoyable sports of the summer season," agreed Gayle Privette and Peggy Richardson.

Both Miss Richardson and Miss Privette are accomplished swimmers and water instructors.

But there are some very important things one should know about swimming safety, they said.

First, investigate unfamiliar waters before swimming in them, advise these young lady instructors. If possible, talk with someone who is familiar with your contemplated swimming area. And obey any warning signs posted in the area.

Be sure you know the limits of your swimming ability and do not exceed them. Too many persons feel their ability is far greater than it actually is.

Avoid the temptation of being a clown in the water. This is one water safety rule that should be followed. Stunts and showing off may rate cheers from the crowd, but watch out for making accident news headlines as a tragic aftermath.

Diving takes real skill and caution, they warn. First find out whether the water is deep enough and whether hidden rocks, submerged crags and sand bars are lurking beneath the surface to produce a hazardous diving area.

Ninety per cent of the drownings this summer will occur in unsupervised waters. Use swimming areas that have the protection of life guards whenever possible.

A "buddy" system when you are swimming is a good idea, say Gayle and Peggy. If each swimmer selects a friend who is a good swimmer to watch and be watched by, there is far less chance of either swimmer getting into trouble.

Night dips can be dangerous for swimming fans. Despite the moonlight splendor of the hour or the romantic aspect, even when you are in a group, you can end up as a statistic in the "drowned" listings if you are not careful.

Approximately 7,000 persons will die across the nation this (Continued on Page 9)

Returnees of West Coast to Speak

When the Lions Club meets tonight, Lion Frank Kemp and Lioness Nellie Kemp will give a report to the club of the International Lions Convention held in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemp, delegates from the local club to the convention, recently returned from the trip to the west coast with a report that it was "very thrilling."

Mrs. Kemp was among the hostesses for the North Carolina delegation.

This meeting promises to be one of the most interesting of the year and all club members are urged to be present.

At the July 11 meeting, Lion Pete Bryant presented Miss Gayle Privette and her assistant, Billy Castleberry, who are directing the summer recreation program. Miss Privette and Mr. Castleberry told the Lions of the progress made in the program.

Former Wakelon Principal Retires After 45 Years

A former principal of Wakelon High School and business manager of Woman's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro for the past 14 years, retired Saturday, July 6, after 45 years of educational service to the state.

After serving as head of Wakelon John C. Lockhart was superintendent of Wake County schools for 22 years, 1918-40, and was superintendent of Mecklenburg County Schools for three years, 1940-43, before coming to WC as business manager.

President of the North Carolina

Education Association in 1942-43, Lockhart for many years was a leader in behalf of the State Retirement System for teachers and state employees and adoption of the 12th year as a part of the state public school system.

He also was an active leader in support of adoption of the state-wide nine-month school term and other advanced school legislation.

Lockhart was born in Orange County and was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1912. He did graduate study in educational administration at Columbia University.

The retiring educator was a member of the state high school textbook commission for four years, a member of the governor's committee on coordination of high schools for the defense program in 1942, and was chairman of the committee on coordination of high schools to make a special study of Negro education.

Other NCEA activities included service as chairman of the State Salary Schedule Committee, member of the board of directors and membership on the committee recommending amendment of the state constitution to provide for an appointive State Board of Education.

He is a past president of the Northwestern District Schoolmasters' Club.

During his 14 years at WC he was a member of numerous committees and was treasurer of the Home Economics Foundation, Inc.

Lockhart is a member of West Market Street Methodist Church and the Greensboro Rotary Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Lockhart will continue to live in Greensboro. Their son, John Jr., is a graduate of UNC, and their daughter, Mrs. Matrena Lockhart Finn, is a graduate of WC.

Ted Davis In Summer Drama

When the second play of the summer is given by Raleigh Little Theater, a Zebulon native will be acting in one of the leading roles.

Ted Davis, news director for Radio Station WRAL, will play the part of the drunk in the forthcoming production of Eugene O'Neill's only comedy, "Ah, Wilderness!"

Others in the cast are Nicki Stamey, John Robertson, Neill Hudson, Clark Crampton, J. B. Jones, Bill Young, Kay Wilson, Linda Capps, Jane Turner, Dorothy Stowe, Helen Crisp, Becky Penny, Bill Hauser and Charles Broyles.

Raleigh has the only community theater in the state to have a year-round program. The play will be given arena style—where the audience surrounds the stage.

"Ah, Wilderness!" opens Monday night, July 22, and plays through the following Sunday. Curtain time is 8:15. No reservations are necessary.

Considering the expected increase in population, an increase in vegetable and fruit crops of about 41 per cent will be needed by 1975.

Recreation Ball Leagues Lost Total of Two Games

"Persons who haven't witnessed any of the little league baseball games have really missed some good ball playing," assistant recreational director Billy Castleberry said.

Castleberry said the three age groups of boys have lost only a combined total of two games.

The Midget league still remains undefeated and chances are that it will be on the top of the roster when the season ends.

The Pony and Termite leagues have lost a game each.

"The attitude, sportsmanship and progress shown by the boys is very good," Castleberry said. "And as a representative of the Recreation Commission I would like to encourage the parents, along with every other sports lover, to come out and see these sportsmen play ball."

Next weeks recreational schedule follows:

Monday: 9-11:45, Playground.

2, Midget and Termite league baseball practice.

6:30-7:30, Adult swimming.

7:30, Pony league versus Wendell there.

8:00, Music listening at the Potters.

Doctor Discounts Rumor Of Asiatic Influenza

Dr. Durwood Stallings, Jr. has discounted the rumor that Asiatic flu has been found among his patients.

"The rumor is untrue," the doctor said.

He reported that he has doctored more patients this summer with influenza than in the past, but so far as he is able to determine none has had Asiatic influenza.

He said medical authorities have made no clean-cut diagnoses between Asiatic and common influenza.

"Summer influenza seems to be more prevalent this season," Dr. Stallings said.

He added that the influenza suffering patients of his "seem to be sicker but get over the illness quicker."

He said influenza that is common now keeps the patient ill for approximately 36 hours.

According to men of science Asiatic flu carries a high fever and runs its course in about 36 hours.

Dr. Stallings admitted that many of his influenza patients carried high temperatures.

"Doctors see flu every summer," he said. "Flu I have seen this summer is about the same type of thing. I see very little difference."

According to Wake County medical authorities no cases of Asiatic flu have been reported in the county.
