U. S. Senator to Address Farmers at Supper Meeting

Senator W. Kerr Scott, member of the U. S. Senate Committee on Agriculture, will address a joint supper meeting of East Wake adult farm education classes and community development councils at the Wendell School Cafeteria Friday evening, February 21, at 7:00 p.m., Paul Dew, local agriculture teacher, announced this week.

Senator Scott, who will be in Raleigh earlier next Friday to present awards to the winners of the News and Observer's farm contests at the State College Coliseum, was selected as speaker by a vote of the east Wake County adult farm classes at Wendell, Wakelon, and Knightdale, and community development councils at Hephzibah, Wendell, Wakelon, and Hopkins Cross Roads.

"Mr. Horton of the Wendell school, Mr. Knott from Knightdale, and all our adult students and council members join me in welcoming Senator Scott to our annual barbecue supper," Mr. Dew said. "We know that the Senator is busy this time of year, and appreciate all the more his being with us. Our chief regret is that space will limit the number of farmers who can hear him."

The meeting of the farmers was re-scheduled from February 28 in order that the speaker could be present. Senator Scott will be introduced by Ferd Davis, local attorney.

The Senator has indicated that he will have some newsworthy remarks for the local farmers. Earlier this year he sharply criticized the state ASC office, and he has been a frequent and strong critic of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra

OES Is Planning Annual Supper

Wakefield - Zebulon Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold its annual barbecue-brunswick stew supper Friday night, Feb. 21, from 5 to 8 p.m. in Wakelon School cafeteria. The proceeds from this supper will be used for benefit of the local chapter, and the public is urged to attend. Tickets may be secured from members or they may be bought at the door the night of the supper.

Chamber of Commerce Gets New Blood, Massey Prexy

Robert Daniel Massey, cashier of Peoples Bank & Trust Company, was elected president of the Zebulon Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday night, succeeding Ferd Davis, local attorney who has served as president for the past two years.

Directors were also elected at the Chamber membership meeting, including Tom Scarborough and P. O. Farmer, named to 3-year terms; Ben D. Thomas and Thomas F. Monk, named to 2-year terms; and J. R. Alford and T. E. Hales, incumbent directors, who will serve one more year.

Homecoming Is Set For Shepard School

James E. Shepard School will hold its annual homecoming Tuesday, Feb. 18. The crowning of the queen will take place in the school gymnasium during the evening.

At the annual celebration, Shepard High basketball quint will meet Spaulding High basketball team of Spring Hope. Following the game there will be dancing, band numbers, and other entertainment.

Tickets to the homecoming are now on sale and the purchaser may save money if he buys in advance. These tickets may be secured from the students, parents, patrons or faculty members.

The PTA met February 3, and the group decided to set up a program to promote safe driving. When plans are completed, it is hoped that a prize will be given to the best school bus driver at the end of each month and a bigger prize will be given at the end of the school year to the student who has been the safest driver.

Spelling contests in both the elementary and high schools have been held. The purpose of these contests is to make the students

Rotary Hears N. C. Adjutant General Capus Waynick Talk

"The Responsibilities of a Free Press" were discussed by Major General Capus Waynick, The Adjutant General of North Carolina, in a talk before the Zebulon Rotary Club last week.

The speaker, former editor and publisher of the High Point Enterprise, drew on his wide experiences as a newspaperman, legislator, ambassador, and Director of President Truman's Point Four Program to illustrate his talk.

Barrie Davis, editor of The Zebulon Record, introduced General Waynick, telling of his interesting background.

The Adjutant General, who heads the North Carolina National Guard, spoke briefly on the problems of the National Guard including efforts by officials in the Pentagon to downgrade the role of the National Guard of the United States.

The talk was received with enthusiasm by those present, and a standing ovation was given General Waynick at the end of his talk.

Guests present included Mayor Wilbur Debnam; First Sergeant Sidney F. Holmes and CWO Johnsey P. Arnold, of Battery A, 113th Field Artillery Battalion; E. C. Daniel, a personal friend of General Waynick; and Gary Alford, Wakelon senior.

The More, The Better

Record To Publish Kid Pictures Again

The publishers of The Record are happy to announce they will again give you a look at the future citizens of tomorrow.

An expert children's photographer will be at Hilliard's Restaurant Tuesday, Feb. 25, and Wednesday, Feb. 26, taking pictures of the children of this and the surrounding communities.

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those, however, who want some of the additional prints of their children may obtain them by arrangements with the studio representative.

The Record simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. There is no age limit. The kiddies — and Mother and Dad, too — will be very proud to see their pictures published in this newspaper.

You must make an appointment, however. Appointments may be made by calling AN 9-4231.

PRICE INCREASE

Effective March 8, the annual subscription price of the Zebulon Record will be $3.00, it was announced this week. The increase was made because of higher mailing and postage costs which can no longer be absorbed by the publishers.

Until the date for the increase, however, the present rates will apply for both new and renewal subscriptions.

New subscribers can receive the paper for $2.00 a year or $3.50 for two years.

Renewal rates for present subscribers will remain at $1.75 for one year, $3.25 for two years, and $4.50 for three years, until the new rates are effective March 15.

Scout Leader Named 'Father of the Year'

Presented Scouting Silver Beaver Award In Ceremony Last Thursday

Armstrong Cannady

Two honors were bestowed upon a Zebulon resident last week. The first honor was being named Zebulon's "Father of the Year" for 1957, and the second was being given Scouting's Silver Beaver award.

Armstrong Cannady received both honors because of his duties as a father, to scouting, to his community, and to his church.

Last Thursday night at the annual Occoneechee Council dinner held in Lenoir Hall of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Cannady was presented the highest award for a volunteer scouter in the Occoneechee Council — the Silver Beaver award. The presentation was made by ex-Chancellor Robert B. House.

The Silver Beaver award is the highest award given by the Council to adult scouters. The next awards given to adult scouters are the Antelope for regional which covers six states and Buffalo for national covering the entire United States.

Cannady said he was "really surprised" at receiving the Silver Beaver award, but that he is "tickled to death" about it.

He was one among seven adult scouters to be given Silver Beaver awards at last Thursday night's annual meeting. He is the first adult scouter of Zebulon to ever receive such an honor.

According to Cannady, the giving of the Silver Beaver award began in 1931. It was made possible by the National Council through the Occoneechee Council on the basis of one scouter for each 75 units registered.

Cannady received this award for service to scouting, to his community, and to his church.

Each year, many names are sent to the Council, requesting such an honor. A committee examines the qualifications and merits of each applicant and then picks the candidates.

Cannady said he did not know who sent his name in. He will never know because of Council secrecy.

Cannady was born in Richmond, Va., August 22, 1919. His parents

Teacher, Commissioner Falls Out of Chair And Breaks Two Ribs

Mrs. Elizabeth Ellett, town commissioner and fourth grade teacher at Wakelon School, is in Rex Hospital suffering from broken ribs and a cut of the leg.

Mrs. Ellett, it was reported, was sitting at her desk in the classroom when she suffered a fainting spell. She fell from her seat, breaking two ribs of her chest cavity. The cut on her leg was slight.

The accident occurred last Friday sometime before noon, it was reported.

Mrs. Ellett was revived, taken to a local doctor, who in turn advised hospitalization.

Her sister, Mrs. C. G. Weathersby, reported yesterday that she is recovering nicely and she expects her to be home sometime this week.

CLUB MEETING

Mrs. L. M. Massey, head of the Senior Woman's Club's fine arts department, will be in charge of the program when the club meets Tuesday afternoon at 3:45. Mrs. Horace Smith and Mrs. M. J. Sexton will act as hostesses.

Dwight Lyman Culpepper Dies, Was Revered, Beloved Citizen

Dwight Lyman Culpepper, one of Zebulon's most respected and beloved citizens, died Saturday in Mary Elizabeth Hospital after a short illness. His death was attributed to coronary thrombosis after complications from pneumonia.

Culpepper, born May 7, 1884, was the son of the late Dr. Bolivar Nicholson and Nannie Theresa Baines Culpepper. He was born in Nashville, one of three sons.

After eight years as the co-owner of a men's haberdashery shop in Spring Hope, he became the owner and editor of the Nash County News, a weekly newspaper.

In 1921 he went to Raleigh where he worked for 3 years with the circulation department of The News and Observer. Later, he worked with the circulation department of The Raleigh Times for
