

Housewives Love Labor-Saving Washers and Dryers

Women live longer. It's a fact. Perhaps it's because they know how to avoid work, especially the hard work of wash days. The automatic washing machine has been not only a life saver for housewives but a life lengthener. Almost 30 per cent of the women in the Zebulon-Wendell areas have automatic washers. These women know that superior washing results are had every time in an automatic machine; and they are safe, convenient, and are the greatest of all household labor savers. The electric clothes dryer is another question. Not too many women in the Zebulon-Wendell areas — only 1.2 per cent — are using the clothes dryer. But these women who have them are completely sold. They stated that clothes can be dried at any time regardless of the weather, there is no backbreaking lugging clothes to the line, and clothes come out fluffier and soft with less ironing required. Read what some of the ladies of Zebulon and Wendell have to say about their washers and dryers. Mrs. Barrie Davis, Zebulon, said, "I had rather do without my husband than my dryer. It's the prize possession of my house. I believe every home with children needs a dryer. Mrs. John C. Hicks, Jr., Wendell, has a washer-dryer combination and said she is "very pleased with it. Rainy days don't bother me now. Another fact is that I don't have to transfer clothes from a washer into a dryer."

that I don't have to get out of doors and hang clothes out. Besides, the clothes dried in a dryer have a fluffier, softer feel."

Mrs. Ben Thomas, Zebulon, said she is "crazy" about her dryer. She has the separate unit, and is very much pleased with it. "I especially like the way my sheets come out," she said. "I have heard some complaints about sheets dried in a dryer come out wrinkled. If you fold them immediately, I find they do beautifully. And then there is the softness that bath-mats and all of the Turkish woven fabrics have when dried in a dryer."

Mrs. Waldo Kennedy, Wendell, has both a washer and dryer, but in separate units. "I think they are both just wonderful," she said. "I wouldn't be without them, especially this winter. The dryer is just ideal. My family's clothes, especially the knitted things, lingerie and towels come out much softer and fluffier."

Mrs. E. R. Sykes, Wendell, has a washer-dryer combination and thinks it is "wonderful. I like it for everything except sheet drying," she said, "but for other kinds of clothes it is just fine. It is especially more wonderful when you have an 18-month-old grandchild to wash and dry for," she added.

Mrs. J. H. Biggs, Wendell, has separate units. Of the washer she said, "I like it very much. It gets clothes clean and wash days are easier. But my dryer, I am crazy about it. I like everything about it. One of the best features is

Mrs. W. W. Terrell, Wendell, said she is "sold" on the dryer. "They are absolutely wonderful, especially this time of year. Clothes come out smelling fresher and sweeter. Bath clothes and towels, no matter how old, come out nice and fluffy. Chenille bedspreads, too, come out as if they were new."

Mrs. Thomas Jordon, Wendell, too has the separate units. She is "very much pleased" with each. The main reason she likes the dryer so much is "that I don't have to go out of doors to hang the clothes out. And they are softer."

Mrs. Philip Olive, Zebulon, said, (Continued on Page 3)
