Vivian Dawson Massey Trophy

Prominent Lady Singer Honored By Junior Baptist College

An award is to be given annually to the graduating choir member who has made the most significant contribution to musical life at Campbell College, Charles Horton, head of the Campbell department has announced. The award, to be known as the Vivian Dawson Massey trophy, established by Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Massey of Zebulon, will go to a student chosen by the members of the college choir and by the faculty of the music department.

Commenting upon the award, Mr. Horton said, "For some time I have hoped that we could recognize in a more tangible way the work and efforts put forth voluntarily by members of the college choir. And I can think of no family who more appropriately represents achievement in music and education than Dr. and Mrs. Massey."

A dentist of Zebulon, Dr. Massey was recently elected to the American Academy of Dental Medicine. He has served in various offices of county and state professional association. Active in North Carolina educational affairs, Dr. Massey has served for a number of years on the North Carolina Board of Education. He has been president of the board of trustees and chairman of the trustees' executive committee of Meredith College.

The award reflects a long-time

Dr. and Mrs. Massey have one daughter, Carolyn, who is the wife of Dr. Luke Kitahata of Kyoto, Japan. Dr. Kitahata is a neurosurgeon on the staff of the Kyoto Baptist Hospital.

COMMISSIONERS ILL

Two town commissioners are patients at Rex Hospital. Commissioner Elizabeth Ellett is reportedly improving, but very slowly. Her condition as reported by her sister, Mrs. C. G. Weathersby, is that she is now able to raise her left arm, but her right can only be raised ever so slightly and then it falls limply. Mrs. Weathersby reported that her sister is on the mend, but there is no idea when she will be able to return to her home here.

Commissioner G. Kermit Corbett underwent surgery last Thursday for the removal of stomach ulcers. It is reported that half of his stomach was removed during the operation. His condition is very favorable, and he is able to walk now about his room.

Both commissioners were reelected in the town election held May 5. Corbett was high man in the commissioners' race and Mrs. Ellett was low.

Third Annual Flower Show Here Is A Rousing Success

New Member

H. C. Wade Named To Authority

Succeeds F. D. Finch

H. Clold Wade, Sr., prominent Zebulon businessman, was appointed to the Wake County Hospital Authority Monday. He was named to the hospital governing body by the County Commissioners.

Wade succeeds Foster D. Finch, whose tenure of office has expired. Each member's term of office is four years.

The newly appointed member of the Authority said he was "surprised" at being named to the Authority. He at present does not have any plans for the future. "I will attempt to follow the very good pattern of my predecessor, Foster Finch," he said.

Since coming to Zebulon in 1928, Wade has been one of the town's most civic-minded citizens. He has served faithfully and well in many offices of the town government and his church.

He is the son of the late Herbert F. and Virgie Jordan Wade. Born in 1903 in Jackson in Northampton County, his family moved to Rich Square when he was two years old. He is the oldest of three children. There is a sister, Mrs. Joe Allsbrook of Rich Square and a brother, Alton J. Wade of New Bern.

After graduating from Rich Square High School, he enrolled in Draughon's Business College in Nashville, Tenn. When he finished this two-year course in business administration, he accepted a bookkeeping position with L. J. Baker Co. in Palmyra. He was with this firm for three years.

Then he went with W. H. Griffin Co. in Spring Hope, where he remained for a short while. And in 1928 he came to Zebulon to an accountant's position with the N. B. Finch & Co.

At the end of 1928 the firm of the N. B. Finch & Co. was liquidated and the firm of F. D. Finch & Co. was formed. Wade became a stockholder and an officer in this firm until its liquidation in 1931.

After this he became an insurance representative. He still maintains an insurance office on the side. During this time he served as clerk of Recorder's Court here.

In 1936 he became associated with Zebulon Supply Co as bookkeeper. This firm became a corporation later and Wade was made a stockholder and manager. His present title with this firm is secretary-treasurer.

Wade studied law under the late Judge Pell of Raleigh for a time. He and Foster Finch attended classes under the late jurist. He lacked a few weeks finishing his course.

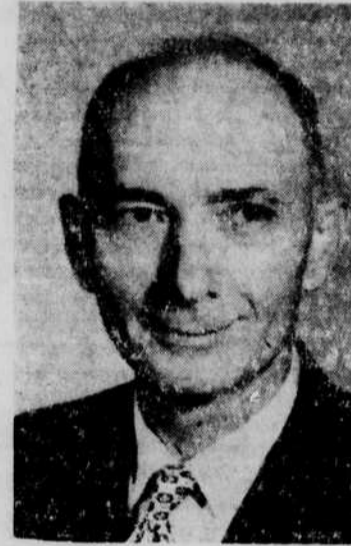

He said he never had any desire to become a lawyer. "I know my limitations," he laughed. He said he only wanted enough law knowledge to manage business transactions.

On June 22, 1932, he and the former Cammie Louise Vaughan were married in the Rich Square Methodist Church. They are the parents of two children, sons. Clold, Jr., the older, is now living in Chapel Hill where he is a member of UNC-TV staff. Vaughan is a student at the Citadel in Charleston, S. C.

There is a granddaughter, Ginger, 2. She is the child of their older son and his wife.

Wade hardly admitted to hobbies. At one time he enjoyed a

Personnel Is Being Sought For Local Branch Hospital

Trained personnel are being sought for the Wendell-Zebulon Hospital, Robert D. Massey, Chamber of Commerce president, has revealed.

When the local hospital opens sometime in 1960, trained personnel will be necessary, and a survey is now being conducted by the Chamber of Commerce to find persons to staff the institution.

The survey is being conducted to determine the availability of paramedical and other hospital personnel living in and about the Wendell and Zebulon communities who might be interested in working for the branch hospital.

The personnel needed to man the local hospital will be registered nurses, licensed practical nurses with hospital experience, x-ray technicians, laboratory technicians, and other persons with hospital training and experience.

Persons qualified and interested in the above positions with the local unit are asked to contact the Zebulon Chamber of Commerce. Each person interested should submit their name, address, age, sex, race, experience and availability to work in letter to the Chamber.

Massey urged persons interested in working at the local branch of the hospital to contact the Chamber by letter with a two or three week period. This information will be reviewed by Frank Ceruzzi, assistant administrator in

Nothing but praise-worthy compliments came from the lips of people who attended Zebulon's third annual flower show.

This year's show, held May 6 in Davis National Guard Armory, was one of the finest flower shows in Eastern North Carolina, according to women who have seen and participated in flower shows all over the state.

The Carmen Flowers Garden Club issued an invitation to the three Wendell Garden Clubs this year, and it made it the biggest show ever exhibited here.

The three Wendell Garden Clubs participating in the show were the Hoe 'N Hope, Morning Workshop, and The Wendell Garden Club.

Twenty-three blue ribbons were won by Garden Club members in the four clubs. All winners were in artistic arrangement divisions.

The blue ribbon winners were Mrs. Harold Griffin, Mrs. Tom Scarborough, Mrs. J. J. Henderson, Mrs. Leo Britt, Mrs. William Ammons, Mrs. Jimmy Batten, Mrs. George Winchester, Mrs. Bill Sanders, Mrs. Margaret Richardson, Mrs. Carsey Tippet, Mrs. Eldred Rountree, Mrs. Arnold Smith, Mrs. Robert Coley, and Mrs. LeRoy Clark, Jr.

Mrs. Jimmy Batten won the highest honor in the artistic arrangement division. She was given a tri-color ribbon for the most outstanding arrangement in the show.

Mrs. Batten of Wendell constructed an arrangement in the "Sunset's Blaze of Glory," Class XVII. It was constructed in a bronze oriental container and was made of Jiminy Cricket roses with photinia foliage.

Mrs. William Ammons interpreted "Morning Dew." Her com-
