See Your School During National Education Week

Change is bustin' out all over in today's schools. New curriculum . . . new methods . . . new equipment . . . new zest and enthusiasm on the part of students and teachers.

Such is happening at Wakelon and Shepard schools. Go and see for yourself. Ask questions. Look and listen. Praise . . . and appraise.

Patrons of the two schools are cordially invited all the year 'round, but especially during American Education Week, November 8-14. There will be open house all day at Wakelon on November 11.

Wake To Be Held If—

A wake is being planned if the United Fund campaign drive is not met, UF President Crafton Hudson said Tuesday. Hudson is a popular mortician of Zebulon.

A little more than $1,918 had been turned in Tuesday, Hudson reported. This, he said, is 39% of the goal set for the 1959-60 year.

All reports are not in from solicitors, the president said. Persons who have not been contacted are urged to make a donation to the Fund at Peoples Bank & Trust Company.

Methodist Church To Honor Football Team

Coach Maurice Chapman and his 1959 squad of Wakelon Bulldogs will be special honor guests on Sunday evening, November 8, at the Methodist Church in Zebulon. The Bulldogs closed out their season last Saturday night against the Benvenue eleven at Rocky Mount.

The evening service, according to the minister, the Rev. William K. Quick, will be to honor the local footballers and will begin at 7:30 p.m. The school cheerleaders will also be present and will be recognized.

All parents and friends of the football team are invited to be present at this special service. Following the service, a refreshment and fellowship hour will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Community Building Opens Today In Middlesex

The Middlesex Community Building will be opened officially today, November 5, according to Mrs. C. L. Corbett, president of the Community Building Organization. Open House will be observed from 2:00 until 4:00 in the afternoon and from 7:00 until 9:00 in the evening. At 7:30 p.m. a forty piece band from Wakelon High School will present a concert on the lawn.

Thursday will also mark the observance of Achievement Day for Home Demonstration Club women all over Nash County. Achievement Day, which will begin at 10:00 a.m. and will last until 1:00 p.m., will be held in the Middlesex Baptist Church. Lunch will be served at 1:00 p.m. in the church by the Middlesex Home Demonstration Club for the benefit of the Community Building. Afterward, the whole group will tour the building, which also houses the Middlesex Public Library and the Boy Scouts' meeting place.

Civic minded people have been busy since last fall trying to ready the building for use. They have operated with a minimum of funds. Most of the money and the labor have been donated. Among other improvements made, the old porch has been torn off and a new entrance constructed, several walls have been painted, furniture has been donated and placed, curtains

Legion Needs Support Of Local Veterans

Veterans in this vicinity are urged to attend the regular meeting of the Legion on November 17, Post Commander Bill Perry said.

The membership drive is on, the Commander said, and all eligible veterans in this locality are urged to join.

Those persons who are members of the local veteran organization are not attending as regularly as they should. At the last meeting only four members were present.

The Legion holds its meetings at Hilliard's Restaurant. Dinner is served at 7 o'clock with the program and business meetings conducted at 8 o'clock.

Town Board

Appoints Floyd Edwards Civil Defense Director

Mayor Ed Hales in a statement to the press Tuesday reported that every phase of the town government is "going very well."

"I am very pleased with the way things are going," the genial mayor said.

Water accounts are very favorable, the mayor said. This aspect mayor said. There has been some response, but not the kind the mayor and commissioners want to see.

No tax suits have been brought against delinquent payers, the of town revenue is not troubling him.

City license plate sales have been splendid, Mayor Hales reported. Ten persons need to purchase city tags. The mayor said he hopes these persons will get their licenses immediately. "We must have a 100% sale this year."

At the November board meeting, Floyd Edwards was named Zebulon's Civil Defense director. Twenty-nine-year-old Edwards replaces Pat Farmer as the town's CD head. Farmer placed Edwards' name before the board and Commissioner Thurman Hepler seconded it.

Mayor Hales appointed Wilbur Debnam, F. D. Finch and M. J. Sexton on the five-man Board of Adjustments. Ex-mayor Debnam is to serve as chairman of the group. His and Finch's terms expire in 1962. Postmaster Sexton's term ends in 1961.

This board is a part of the Zoning Board. It has the power to hear and decide upon appeals from persons who register complaints about zoning.

Dr. L. M. Massey and C. V. Whitley, also members of the Board of Adjustments, terms of office expire in June, 1960.

Ground work is being laid for the future progress of the town, Mayor Hales said. Streets, highways, and other things of importance which will effect the town's future are beginning to be studied by the town's governing body.

Junior Women Fete Wakelon Teachers

Members of Wakelon School faculty were entertained at the Junior Woman's Club's last meeting held October 20. This is an annual affair of the woman's organization.

The club house was decorated with arrangements of roses, marigolds and dahlias. On the mantle was an arrangement of pyracantha foliage.

Greeting the guests were Mrs. Bill Bowling and Mrs. Charles Creech, who introduced them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. Crafton Hudson, president; Mrs. Bobby Sherron, secretary; and Mrs. Melvin Massey, treasurer.

Presiding over the crystal punch bowl was Mrs. F. E. Bunn, retired Wakelon faculty member. She was assisted by members of the club. Other refreshments were a variety of cookies, nuts and open face sandwiches.

The table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a floral arrangement flanked with burning tapers.

Mrs. Frank Kemp presented solo numbers accompanied by Mrs. Ed Ellington.

The register was presided over by Mrs. Frank Kannon and good-byes were said to Mrs. James Alford.

Dr. S. L. Stealey To Address Antioch Centennial Rites

Centennial rites will be observed at Antioch Baptist Church Sunday, the Rev. A. D. Parrish, pastor, has announced.

Dr. S. L. Stealey, president of Southeastern Seminary, will be the guest speaker at the centennial observance and Homecoming Day services.

Dedication services will also be held Sunday, the pastor has said.

The minister and members cordially invite friends of the church to attend the all day services Sunday.

Baptists To Observe Education Sunday

Claude F. Gaddy, secretary of Christian Education of the Baptist State Convention and former superintendent of the Raleigh Public Schools, will bring the message at the morning worship service Sunday, the Rev. W. Arnold Smith, pastor of Zebulon Baptist Church, has announced.

The Rev. Mr. Smith said the Zebulon Baptist Church joins hands once again with the public school authorities in emphasizing the needs of education.

"The Child—What Does Education Mean to Him?" is the theme of this year's Education Week.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service and is urged to take advantage of this opportunity to hear this outstanding educator, Mr. Gaddy, as he speaks to us on "A Child-Centered Educational Program", the pastor said.

Nash County HD President Makes United Nations Study Tour

A prominent Middlesex woman who is president of the Nash County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs spent last week in New York attending the annual home demonstration club women's United Nations study tour.

Mrs. W. W. Morgan was selected for the honor by the International Relations Committee composed of former Nash County delegates to the United Nations.

Mrs. Morgan, along with other delegates from over the State, made the trip by chartered bus. The delegation stayed at Hotel Taft.

The group was taken on a guided tour of the United Nations headquarters where they heard a speech by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Clark Eichelberger and Mrs. Eleanor Roberts. They attended a UN General Assembly session, visited Radio City, Frick Art Gallery, and Riverside and St. John the Divine churches.

The delegates returned from the trip Saturday.

The Wendell-Zebulon Hospital, a branch of the Wake County Memorial Hospital, is now 50 per cent completed, it was learned yesterday.

Progress has been fair, with very little delay in delivery of materials and change orders. Wake County Hospital Authority expects final completion of the local hospital about April, 1960.

"In order that the hospital and the physicians will be ready for any emergency on opening day considerable time must be devoted to adequate training of employees, thorough preparation of procedures, and a complete check of supplies and materials following the contractor's completion date," Frank Ceruzzi said.

"This period of orientation will probably mean that approximately three months will elapse between the end of construction and the opening of the hospital," Ceruzzi continued.

The erection of a "mother hospital" and branches of it is unique in the South, Ceruzzi said. He has no facts to support his belief, he said, but he thinks Wake County is the only place in the South which is going to use a system such as this.

Ceruzzi, assistant administrator in charge of hospital units, was in Zebulon Tuesday making a check on the required telephone services, garbage pickup, linen service facilities and to interview nurses.

The administrator said applications for employment have already been received at the offices of the Wendell and Zebulon Chamber of Commerce, but final selection of employees will not be made until the building is finished.
