New Cubmaster

Consulting Engineer With State

A new Cubmaster has been named for the Cubs of Zebulon, according to District Commissioner Armstrong Cannady.

Stanley Z. Seago, new resident of Zebulon, will be officially installed as Cubmaster in ceremonies to be held at the Lions Club February 29. Seago succeeds Eldred Rountree.

Seago said, "I am tickled to death with my new job. I am very happy to be working with the Cubs."

He said he has been interested in Scout work for a long time. Right now he is getting his "second wind" in Scouting, he called it. His older son was in Scouting but is now out of it, and his younger is just beginning.

"I am hoping to have a very successful year to come in Scouting," Seago said.

Seago will be in charge of four dens, which consist of 38 active scouters.

He is, as he said, not a novice in Scout work. While he was a resident of Virginia, he served as Cubmaster of Fairfax County for two years, and was on the Boy Scout committee there.

Seago was born in Lilesville in Anson County August 30, 1915. He is the youngest of three children of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. Z. Seago.

He was reared in Greenville and was active in Scout work there while he was a boy. He reached the rank of First Class during his boyhood Scouting.

After graduating from Greenville High School, he entered N. C. State College and was graduated with a bachelor of engineering degree in mechanical engineering in 1938.

He now holds a position with the North Carolina State Department of Administration as a consultant engineer. This job encompasses the technical control of all state owned real estate and buildings, he said.

Prior to accepting a position with the State, he was an assistant chief mechanical engineer with the Federal Housing Administration in Washington, D. C. He held this position for 18 years.

WETC

General Manager

Bill Kirby, former announcer for Radio Station WMPM at Smithfield, became general manager of WETC, Wendell-Zebulon Radio Station, February 10.

He is moving from Oxford to Wendell where he will reside.

Vet Arrested For Robbery; Practiced Here In 1953

A veterinarian who practiced near Zebulon seven years ago has been charged with a $13,338 holdup of a branch bank at Anderson, Indiana, last December 7.

Dr. Richard Allen Spring, 29, of Frankton, Ind., went to the Marion County Jail on a federal bank robbery charge.

The FBI took over the handsome graduate of Michigan State University after he signed a statement admitting last Friday's Indiana bank holdup.

Spring also admitted orally to Anderson, Ind., police authorities he had robbed a bank in Winston-Salem before Christmas but was "very vague" about the details.

Two white men have been hunted since December 7 for an $8,868 robbery of the Wachovia Bank & Trust Co. North branch in Winston-Salem.

Edwards To Speak To Farm Bureau

A. C. Edwards, executive vice president of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, speaks Monday night at the regular meeting of the Zebulon Farm Bureau.

Edwards has for a long time been a leader of farmers in North Carolina, and is especially qualified to point out the place of a farm organization in our economy, C. V. Tart, Wakelon agriculture instructor, said.

A summary of the happenings at the State Farm Bureau Convention will be the main topic of discussion, Tart said.

Each member of the local Farm Bureau is urged to come and take part in the work of this organization.

"There has never been a time in our history when it was more important for farmers to be organized than at present," Tart said.

This meeting will be held in Wakelon Agricultural Department Monday night, February 22, at 7:30 p.m.

Mothers' Polio March Very Successful; $395.42 Collected

Collections for the Mothers' Polio March almost doubled last year's collection, Mrs. Ben Thomas, chairman of the drive, has reported.

This year's drive netted $395.42.

The young veterinarian surrendered without resistance after being nabbed for speeding in his white Cadillac sedan. He told the two sheriff's deputies that apprehended him that he was on his way to pay off a loan on the car.

Dr. Spring, described as a "serious, soft-spoken student" in Michigan State's Veterinary School, practiced here in 1953. His location when here was in a house owned by Joe Tippett, about two miles northeast of Zebulon on Highway 64.

He moved to Statesville after leaving here.

Dr. Spring was married when he was practicing here, but records show he was divorced two years ago.

FBI agents were in Zebulon Tuesday checking with various persons about Spring.

Census Takers Needed

Daniel A. West, district supervisor of the 1960 Census of Population and Housing which starts April 1, today issued an appeal to residents of Little River and Marks Creek Townships to become candidates for jobs as census takers.

Applicants for jobs as census takers should contact the District Office at 503 Hillsboro Street, Raleigh, either by mail or telephone (TE 2-5454); but should not make a long distance call.

Applicants for jobs as census takers must be over 18 years of age, be citizens of the United States, and have a high school education or its equivalent. Candidates will be required to pass a selection test demonstrating their ability to understand written instructions and read maps. Persons who are presently or recently associated with law enforcement or tax assessing or collection agencies are not eligible.

Census takers will be paid on a piece price basis. A diligent census taker should earn about $12.00 per day, the district supervisor said. A $10.00 training fee will be paid to census takers who successfully complete the course of instruction required before they start their rounds, and accept a census assignment.

Local Doctor Named To Rules Committee For Branch Hospitals

Dr. B. D. Thomas

A prominent 39-year-old Zebulon physician has been named to a committee for setting up rules and by-laws for the new Wake Memorial Hospital near Raleigh and the smaller hospitals located at Zebulon, Wake Forest, Apex and Fuquay Springs.

Dr. Ben David Thomas was one of four doctors to be named to the committee. Dr. Clyde Ward, head of the Medical Society, made the replacement appointments.

The other three replacements were Dr. Oscar Goodwin of Apex, Dr. Glenn Judd of Varina, and Dr. C. T. Wilkinson of Wake Forest who did not resign his post on the committee.

A dispute over clinic policies of the Wake County Hospital Authority led to the resignation of three physicians serving on the committee.

Dr. Alfred Hamilton, Dr. B. Watson Pugh, and W. Howard Wilson quit after disagreement with the Authority's decision to make full-fledged hospitals out of the four rural branch hospitals.

Doctors serving on the committee who did not resign were Dr. Wilkinson, Dr. Nelson Perry, a Negro physician of Raleigh, and

Methodist Luncheon

The ladies of the Zebulon Methodist Church will sponsor a luncheon in the Fellowship Hall of the Church on Monday, February 22. Lunch will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. and price of the tickets are $1.00. Luncheon tickets are on sale by members of the society but may be purchased at the church.

The menu for Monday's luncheon will consist of Brunswick stew, buttered potatoes, tossed salad, bread, pie and coffee. Mrs. John Hicks of Circle Number Two of the Zebulon Woman's Society of Christian Service is in charge. Proceeds from the luncheon will go toward the building of the new Methodist parsonage. The public is invited.

Citizens Voicing Protests About Removal of Hi School

Some Zebulon citizens are beginning to voice protests over the proposed removal of the town's only white senior high school.

Wake County school officials are planning the consolidation of four Eastern Wake County high schools, Wakelon, Wendell, Rolesville and Knightdale.

When the plans for consolidation by the officials were first mentioned, the local citizenry acted rather complacently, Wendell citizens, however, rose in protest and their protestations appeared in some of the State's leading newspapers.

Only recently Zebulon citizens began to register complaints. Some appear to be rather upset at the thought of losing the local high school.

A fight may be in the making, but one prominent citizen who preferred to remain anonymous said he doesn't believe a fight will develop, feeling that things will be worked out peacefully and to Zebulon's advantage.

A few people here imply that consolidation is "being rammed down our throats" by county school officials.

Others say that if Wakelon School had gotten what they deserved and were promised from the bond issues the school would be as good or better than any school in the county.

According to some persons who profess to know, Wakelon School did not receive "the first red cent" from the two bond issues voted with approval by the people in 1957 and 1959.

In a prepared statement for the press, Ed Hales said:

"Is Zebulon to lose Wakelon High School?"

"Zebulon, a progressive town in

Pearce Baptist Church Will Enter Achievement Program

Pearce Baptist Church of Route 3, Zebulon, has entered the 1960 North Carolina Baptist Achievement Program, Pastor Garland Foushee said this week.

Sponsored by the Church Development Department of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, the program is designed to stimulate growth and development in church 'work. Outstanding achievement by pastors and churches, areas of church, community and world improvement are recognized.

Many churches in North Carolina entered the program last year for the first time. These churches recorded phenomenal growth and development in all areas while participating in the program, the Rev. Mr. Foushee said.

Each church in the program sets up goals for advancement in 10 areas. An inventory questionnaire furnishes suggestions for projects such as: organizations, worship, pastoral ministry, evangelism, Christian stewardship, fellowship, education and training, missionary outreach and expansion, buildings and equipment and community services.

The participating church is also required to present to the Church Development Department an illustrated book of programs.

The outstanding church and pastor reporting progress is selected by a State committee on judging. This church receives a metal plaque which may be displayed in a prominent position within or without the church.

Records and scrapbooks with an illustrated account of progress are made under the direction of the local church committee. The committee from Pearce church is composed of Elmer Pearce, chairman; Jarvis Gay, Mrs. Hal Perry, L. D. Pearce, Larby Perry, and Hal Perry.

The inventory questionnaire and scrapbook as illustrated progress are basis for judging on association and State-wide levels.

Ernest C. Upchurch, secretary of the Church Development Department of the Baptist State Convention, is in charge of the program. He said: "The enlistment of a church's total membership in active service, growth and development is the program's primary aim and value."
