To Hold July 4th Dance

A community dance is scheduled for the night of July 4 at the Lions Club building, Miss Gayle Privette, assistant summer recreational program director, has announced.

The Harold Green orchestra will play for this informal dance which will last from 8 until 11:30 o'clock. Music for all types of dancing will be played.

This will be the second such dance sponsored by the Recreation Commission. In 1957 when Miss Privette headed the summer program as director a July 4 dance was held and was termed very successful. This dance was at the local armory.

A silver offering will be taken during the evening to help alleviate the expenses of the building, orchestra and decorations.

Young and old are invited to attend this Independence Day celebration.

SHE'S NAMED

Mr. and Mrs. Barrie Davis announce the birth of a daughter, Cynthia Lynne, Saturday, June 18. She is to be called "Cindy." Mrs. Davis is the former Judith Robertson.

Adult Softball Dropped

The adult softball program, sponsored by the Zebulon Recreation Commission, has been dropped this summer because the county school authorities have authorized the grading of the ball diamond at Wakelon School. After the grading of the diamond it will be seeded with permanent grass seed.

Managers of the softball teams in the league may pick up their refund checks for their entrance fees at the office of Ray Goodwin, chairman of the Recreation Commission.

Chairman Goodwin told the Record that the Commission accepted the entrance fee from the teams planning to participate in the softball program because they were told by county and local school officials that the school ball park would be available within 10 days after grading began; however, the Commission has just learned that it will not be available to the popular sport this summer.

Goodwin said he regrets any inconvenience and any disappointment that this lack of proper communication with school officials has caused.

Stated Communication

BOOKS NEEDED

Books are desperately needed for the community library.

Mrs. Gilford Bufkin, librarian, said children's books are especially needed.

"Children are coming to the library every time it's opened," she said. "They search the shelves for something to interest them, but they have either read everything on the shelves or there's nothing to interest them."

Many adult books have been donated in the last few months. Mrs. E. H. Moser gave the local library 33 books April 11. Mrs. Vance Brown was the donor of 38 books June 2, and Mrs. Ava Corbett gave one book June 13.

There are now more than 1,050 books on the accession books of the library.

"The lending is good, exceptionally well," Mrs. Bufkin said. "Between 35 and 40 persons borrow books on the days the library is opened, which is Monday and Thursday."

Persons who have books to give to the local library should contact Mrs. Bufkin immediately.

Lake Top Vote-Getter Here In Run-Off Saturday; Watkins Wins

I. Beverly Lake, who sought the top political post in North Carolina, was the top vote-getter in Zebulon and all of the surrounding communities except Middlesex against Terry Sanford in Saturday's runoff Democratic primary.

Sanford won the nomination and succeeds Luther Hodges as the next Governor of North Carolina.

It was one of the most hotly contested primaries in a long time. Feelings ran high and tempers grew short in and around Zebulon during the campaign.

Dr. Lake made great in-roads in favor of his support in the community after the first primary. He ran second to Sanford in the May 30 primary.

By a razor-edge margin, Lake racked up 25 votes to defeat Sanford in Little River Township. The vote was: Lake, 494 Sanford, 469.

It was an overwhelming victory for Lake in Mitchell's Mill Township (Rolesville). Lake scored a 115 vote lead over Sanford. This vote was: Lake, 161; Sanford, 46.

Mark's Creek (Wendell) and Mark's Creek (Eagle Rock) also put their trust in Lake. Wendell voters cast 418 ballots for Lake to Sanford's 261. In Eagle Rock it was 169 for Lake and 144 for Sanford.

North O'Neals Township in upper Johnston County favored Lake with 177 votes to Sanford's 99. The neighboring Township of Wilders also supported Dr. Lake with a vote of 236 to Sanford's 194.

Zebulon's eastern fellow-town of Middlesex favored Sanford with a vote of 214 to Lake's 153.

Voters turned out in record numbers Saturday. According to Town Clerk Willie B. Hopkins it was one of the biggest votes here in a long time. The biggest vote ever recorded here was in 1936 when some 1,200 persons cast ballots.

Hopkins, also the town's police chief, said feelings among the voters here Saturday got "pretty tense" many times during the balloting. He said "anything could have taken place," but no incident happened because of differences over candidates.

"All in all," Hopkins said, "everybody conducted themselves very nicely."

Sanford was high man in the first Democratic primary held May 30. His vote in Little River Township was 386 to Dr. Lake's 370.

In the race for constable of Little River Township, incumbent Troy Watkins was declared the winner. Watkins defeated M. M. Phillips in the first primary 308 to 304. In the runoff Saturday, Watkins was high man in both Little River and Mitchell's Mill Townships. In Little River the vote was: Watkins, 579; Phillips, 365; Mitchell's Mill, Watkins; 173; Phillips, 31.

Sanford, 42-years-old and one of the youngest men ever to win the office of Governor, won with a campaign that called for better schools and roads, higher farm income and a continuation of the State's drive for new industry to help raise the low per capita income of Tar Heels.

Lake had advocated a hold-the-line economic philosophy as well as asserting that he would stir up racial feelings.
