Uses Torn Mattress Cover

Suicide Victim Dies In Jail

The body of Buddy Junior Pulley was found early Sunday morning dangling from a bed-clothes noose in Zebulon jail.

Night Policeman Wendel Perry and Patrolman John Rowe discovered the 30-year-old Zebulon man's lifeless body about 2 a.m. when they were attempting to put another person in the lock-up.

Wake Coroner Marshall Bennett ruled the death suicide.

Perry said Pulley tore up the mattress cover and tied it around the top steel bar in his cell in order to hang himself. He evidently jumped from the top bunk in the first cell Perry continued, causing his death.

Pulley's death-white, drawn face rested against the cold steel bars. His limp knees almost touched the coldness of the cement cell floor.

Pulley was jailed between 11:30 and midnight on a charge of assault made by his wife. Perry said Mrs. Pulley came to the police station and said her husband had assaulted her and she then swore out a warrant for his arrest.

Perry said Pulley did not seem unusually upset and made no resistance. The last thing he said to the officer was, "Bring me two packs of cigarettes."

Perry said Pulley constructed a noose with the tattle-tale gray bedclothes. They were torn into strips about eight inches long.

The officer immediately called Dr. George Tucker who examined Pulley and found him dead.

A cell mate in the adjoining cell could tell the officers nothing about the incident because he was sleeping off a drunk.

Pulley lived at the corner of East Vance and Poplar Streets.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at Screws-Hudson Funeral Home Chapel. Burial was in the Perry family cemetery on Rt. 2, Louisburg.

Survivors are his wife, the former Lela Brewer; two daughters, Connie Lou and Bonnie Sue; three sons, Billy, Ronald and David; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Pulley, Sr., of Zebulon; two sisters, Mrs. Shirley Massey of Greensboro and Miss Mavis Pulley of the parents' home; one brother, Joe Cleveland Perry of Wake Forest, Route 2.

Pool Ceremonies Set

Band Concert

Enthusiasm is running high among Wakelon band members.

They will be off to march in the Azalea Festival parade in Wilmington April 8.

But first of all, they must secure the money for the trip to the Festival. This they will do by selling tickets to a concert to be held Friday, March 10, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Tickets, $1.00 each, are being sold by members of the band.

Director Herbert Ireland said the concert program by members of the 66 strong band will consist of a variety of numbers, including Latin American and Dixieland numbers.

Miss Martha Temple, one of the town's most beautiful girls and accomplished water nymphs, will make the first plunge into the town's newly completed swimming pool Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, pool association officials have announced.

On this occasion the official presentation of the keys to the pool will be presented to the president of the association, Dr. B. D. Thomas, and other pool officials. The keys will be presented by Col. Gordon Hammond, construction engineer of the pool.

Dr. Thomas and Tom Monk, vice president, invite the general public to these ceremonies Saturday.

"The time has come when the community that does not have an organization on the ball, with integrity, energy, interest, enthusiasm and funds is going to be left out at the end of the row," Thompson Greenwood, executive secretary of the N. C. Merchants' Association, said.

Greenwood spoke to a group of Zebulon merchants and civic-minded citizens Tuesday night at Hilliard's Restaurant. The purpose of the meeting was to explore the idea of organizing a Merchants' Association for the Town of Zebulon.

The speaker said the trading area of a town either expands or contracts. He said it will take the forces of all business people of Zebulon to make the trading area expand.

"You have to work concertedly to protect the trading area," Greenwood said.

Greenwood indicated that in or-
