Series of Break-Ins, Enterings Being Investigated By Police

Zebulon police are investigating a series of break-ins and enterings.

Police Chief Willie B. Hopkins said: "It looks like the work of youngsters."

Mary Vic's Florist, Massey Lumber Co. and Raper Tractor and Implement Co. were all broken into last week. Each business establishment reported a loss of money.

Mrs. G. R. Massey, Sr., said Massey Lumber Co. was broken into twice last week. On Wednesday night the thieves ransacked the office and left it in a shambles with strewn papers.

Friday night the thieves came back to Massey Lumber Co. and pried the money holder of the soft drink box off, taking with them $2 or $3, Mrs. Massey said.

Entry into Massey Lumber Co. was through one of the big sliding doors of the warehouse. The first entry into the office, the thieves pried open the door by means of removing the doorstop. When they came back on Friday night, they broke the glass in the door of the office so it might be unlatched.

Raper Tractor and Implement Co. was entered Sunday night. According to Mrs. Russell Raper, one of the owners' wives, the thieves entered the business from the rear of the building.

Mrs. Raper said about $20 was taken from the Coca-Cola machine, the machine was not damaged, Mrs. Raper said. The thieves found the soft drink box machine key in the cash register and unlocked the drink box coin collector.

"They were very nice," Mrs. Raper said. "They locked it back. But they kept the key, and this key fits any standard Coca-Cola drink box. So, whoever has this key can open any Coca-Cola drink boxes."

Mrs. Raper reported the thieves entered the cash register and took about $1 in change. She said most of the change had been used up in Saturday's business, but about $1 in change was left in the cash register, which the thieves got.

Miss Broughton said the thieves broke the lock on the back door of the building. No other damage was done.

Local Girl Named Associate Prof. At Girls' School

Miss Peggy Richardson has accepted a position as associate professor in the physical education department of Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.

Miss Richardson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Richardson of Zebulon, is a senior at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. She has been an outstanding student, both scholastically and extracurricular, during her college years.

Last weekend the young lady and her parents visited the college where she will teach next year. They were the guests of the head, acting head and dean of the physical education department.

Miss Richardson will graduate with a B. S. degree in physical education in June.

Farm Bureau Auxiliary Meeting

Zebulon Farm Bureau Auxiliary will meet Wednesday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. in Wakelon School home economics building. Mrs. Janet Harding, Carolina Power & Light Co. home economist, will address the club on all types of food preservation. All members are urged to attend this meeting. There is only one more meeting scheduled before the club adjourns for the summer.

Partnership Dissolved

Owners of a local grocery store Murray said. "I said I didn't have dissolved partnership Monday, to work that hard to make a living, not when there are no children at home and nobody but just me and my wife."

Thurman Murray sold his interest in the Piggly Wiggly grocery store and market to his partner of 14 years, Frank Wall. The sum of the sale was undisclosed.

Murray said the association with Wall "has been very pleasant."

Murray said the main reason he severed the long partnership was the "long hours on the floor." The floor is a terrazzo and the working hours range from 12 to 14 hours.

"I found I couldn't stand it," development.

Mystery Deepens In The Disappearance Of Prominent Pilot Grain Mill Businessman

Church To Hold Note Burning Rites

On Sunday afternoon, April 9, at 3 o'clock, Union Chapel Baptist Church will conduct note burning ceremonies and dedicate its new Fellowship Hall and Educational Building, the Rev. George T. Stallings, pastor, has announced.

The Rev. Robert L. Costner, Associational Missionary, will offer the invocation and J. Marse Grant, editor of the Biblical Recorder, will deliver the dedication sermon.

The service of dedication will be led by the pastor.

Begun in October, 1958, the Fellowship Hall was occupied in the early part of 1959. The Educational Building was constructed in 1959. The total indebtedness of the church has been paid and a new sanctuary is in the planning stage.

"We hope to begin the actual construction of the sanctuary this year," The Rev. Mr. Stallings said. "With the addition of this building, Union Chapel will afford ample space for worship and training."

The public is invited to these ceremonies.

Air Force Assigns Flowers To USMC

The Leathernecks will be gaining an Air Force type Captain this month when Captain S. G. Flowers of the 429th TFS joins the Marines as Air Force Liaison Officer. While performing this duty, Captain Flowers will be checked out in the A-4-D Skyhawk, one of the Navy carrier aircrafts and will make carrier landings in that type aircraft.

Captain Flowers, a native of Zebulon and the son of Mrs. S. G. Flowers, Sr., and the late Mr. Flowers, is stationed at Clovis, New Mexico.

Betsy Alford Winner of World Speaking Contest, NY Trip Planned

Betsy Alford, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Alford, was declared the winner of the World Peace Speaking contest sponsored by Zebulon Rotary Club March 24.

Miss Alford, a member of the Wakelon High School junior class, competed with three sophomores and two juniors. She was judged by three members of the Rotary Club.

She is an outstanding student in the high school, ranking as one of the top five. She is a member of the Beta Club, National Honor Society, debating team for the past two years, Science Club, and is business manager of the annual staff.

Miss Alford, who has aspirations to do scientific research, plans to attend Duke University. Right now, though, this is in the thinking stage.

She enjoys her hobbies of read-

The mystery deepens in the disappearance of a prominent, well-thought-of Pilot community feed mill operator.

Cameron Stallings, 36, was last seen at 4:45 p.m. Friday in Cameron Village by a friend, W. A. Allman of Zebulon. Allman told police he saw Stallings near the Boylan-Pearce store.

His car, with the keys still in it, was found Sunday parked on South Person Street near Sanders Motor Co. No fingerprints of any kind could be found on the steering wheel.

Stallings' wallet was found in the Sanders company truck lot across the street from his car, police said.

State and federal agents were asked Wednesday to join the search for Stallings. District Solicitor L. V. Chalmers, Jr., said

Tuesday night he feared the Pilot man had met foul play.

The area back of the Ralston-Purina plant on Blount Street has repeatedly been searched as have two areas north from Cameron Village to Lassiter's Mill on Crabtree Creek.

Many friends of Stallings, from his community, church and lodge, have joined in the search.

Zebulon police officials said they have worked in conjunction with Wake County law authorities on the case.

Police are baffled after five days of intensive investigation.

A $2,000 cash reward has been posted by friends and relatives for information concerning the whereabouts of the prominent Franklin County farmer-businessman.

Stallings owns and operates the Pilot Grain Company at Pilot. He is married to the former Inez Bobbitt. They have a six-year-old daughter, Gail. He is master of Whitestone Masonic Lodge No. 155 at Wakefield, a member of the Franklin County Democratic Executive Committee, a deacon in Pilot Baptist Church and chairman of Dunns Precinct No. 2 in Dunns Township.

First Federal Has First Birthday

On March 14, First Federal's Zebulon office celebrated its first anniversary.

During this first year, more than 500 savings accounts were opened, according to Charles Alexander, manager of the local branch. Total savings are approximately $850,000, and the local branch is servicing more than $700,000 in mortgage loans in the area.

"We feel that this is an outstanding record of growth for the first year," Alexander said.

Serving on the advisory board of the local First Federal branch are E. C. Daniel, chairman; Foster D. Finch, vice chairman; T. E. Hales, Thomas F. Monk and H. C. Wade.

4-H Club To Meet

The Zebulon Community 4-H Club will meet Thursday, April 13, with Avon Privette, Jr. Students of Wakelon School from the fifth on through high school are invited to attend this meeting and are eligible to join the club.
