Private Creech In Pau, France

Army Pfc. James H. Creech, Jr., whose parents live on Route 1, Zebulon, recently participated with other personnel from the 8th Infantry Division's 81st Artillery in Operation Pogo, an exercise near Pau, France.

The exercise featured an airborne assault by the division's paratroopers and a number of platoon-size raids by infantry backed up by combat support units.

Creech, regularly assigned as a truck driver in the artillery's Battery A in Mainz, Germany, entered the Army in March, 1956, and arrived overseas on this tour of duty last November.

He attended Corinth-Holders High School.

Beta Club Members Attend Convention

By Sandra Perry

Having had a marvelous and informative time eight members from the Wakelon High Beta Club returned Sunday afternoon from Asheville, N. C., where the North Carolina Beta Club Convention was held. The group left Friday morning, April 7, with the Wake Forest chapter on the Wake Forest activity bus. Attending from Wakelon were: "Pete" Creech, Joyce Chapman, Judy Temple, Diane Strickland, Jo Ann Bunn, Carolyn Finch, Betty Bunn, Freddie Clark, and chaperones Mrs. Jimmy Spivey, and Mrs. Stanly Seago, sponsor.

All enjoyed attending meetings on Beta Club functions, witnessing installation of state officers; meeting other Betas; and listening to speeches by prominent persons in the educational field, and by Beta members from all over North Carolina. Also on the agenda was a talent show, banquet, and dance—the climax of the convention. These, too, were enjoyed by the approximately 4,000 youths present.

The Manor Hotel provided the very best facilities for their stay in the "Skyline City," and each of these feminine travelers will agree that their weekend was a perfect one, and one that will long be remembered.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Ruth Kemper and daughter of Bainbridge, Md., spent the Easter holidays with Mrs. Rella Privette.

Mrs. Donald Stallings underwent a minor operation Tuesday at Carolina General Hospital in Wilson.

Mrs. W. G. Griswold, Sr., is suffering from a coronary occlusion at Rex Hospital.
