The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of chantilly lace and tulle. The gown had a sabrina neckline covered with scattered sequins. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a matching headpiece of lace and seeded pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with carnations and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

Miss Janet Griswold, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an aqua ballerina dress of chiffon and lace with a portrait neckline and short cap sleeves. Her matching headpiece had a nose-length veil and she carried a nosegay of pink roses and carnations.

The bridegroom had as best man his brother-in-law, Johnny Gay of Atlanta, Ga. Ushers were W. G. Griswold, Jr., of Zebulon, brother of the bride, Norwood Martin of Zebulon, Franklin Eddins of Zebulon and Glenn Strickland of Wendell.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Griswold wore an aqua silk sheath dress with white accessories. Mrs. Taylor wore a beige sheath dress with matching accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Wakelon High School and the bridegroom is a graduate of Wendell High School. Following a wedding trip the couple will make their home on Marshburn Road, Wendell.

Cake Cutting

Miss Faye Griswold and Charles Taylor of Wendell, who were married Sunday, were feted with a cake cutting Saturday night following the rehearsal. Mrs. Elbert Pearce, Miss Faye Pearce, Mrs. Billy Green and Mrs. W. G. Griswold, Jr., were hostesses.

The refreshment table was covered with an imported linen cloth. A large all-white arrangement of gladioli, mums, and white tapers centered the table.

Mrs. W. G. Griswold, Sr., mother of the bride, served the three-tiered cake after the couple cut the traditional first slice. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Russell Taylor, mother of the bridegroom. Other refreshments were lime ice, mixed nuts, bell-shaped chicken salad sandwiches and mints.

The 40 guests attending the social were greeted by Mrs. W. G. Griswold, Jr. Presiding over the register were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richardson.

Entertained

Miss Martha Temple, July 30 bride-elect, was feted recently with a bridal bridge party by Mrs. Ruric Gill, Sr., and Mrs. L. E. Long at the home of Mrs. Long.

A pink and white color scheme was used throughout the home. In the drawing room was a cymbidium orchid tree on the secretary; on the mantle was an arrangement of roses and snapdragons; an arrangement of yellow mums was used on the coffee table; and a mixed colonial arrangement was used in the foyer.

Miss Temple and her mother, Mrs. Wallace Temple, were presented orchid corsages and the honoree was given dinner plates in her chosen china pattern by the hostesses.

On arrival the guests were each given a miniature corsage of white wedding bells tied with lily of the valley and satin streamers.

The honoree's table was centered with a bride doll holding a bouquet. The auxiliary tables were centered with white candles tied with white wedding bells and sweetheart roses.

Guests were Miss Temple, her mother, Miss Julia Ribet, Miss Sarah Crump, Mrs. Haywood Jones, Mrs. Foster Finch, Mrs. A. S. Hinton, Mrs. Jack Mitchell, Miss Jackie Mitchell, Mrs. Raleigh Alford, Mrs. Eldred Rountree, Mrs. Ruric Gill, Jr., Mrs. George H. Temple, Mrs. Russell Brantley, Mrs. Fred Smith and Miss Mary L. Palmer.

Prizes were given to Mrs. Mitchell, high; Mrs. George Temple, low; and Mrs. Smith, floating.

At the close of three progressions the hostesses served frozen egg-nog pudding in dessert cups, chicken salad sandwiches cut in bell shapes decorated with lily of the valley sprigs, nuts, and ginger ale.
