versity, the other at Brenair College in Gainesville, Ga. The couple has one child, Joseph Ernest, born December 8, 1959.

Dr. Denver J. Davis, pastor of the young minister's home church, the First Baptist Church of Gaffney, said: "I do not know of any young man who has more native ability, combined with a fine mind, than does David. He is a young man with deep spiritual insights, and is quite capable of doing his own thinking. I have always found him most cooperative with an understanding heart and mind. I feel that he is spiritually qualified for the pastoral ministry as well as for a teaching position. David has a fine outgoing personality, combined with a moral character beyond reproach. He is far more mature than his years would indicate and I feel that this is due to his emotional stability, as well as good old common sense."

Prof. Jesse H. Brown, professor of Old Testament at Croser Theological Seminary, said: "He has an extremely fine attitude toward the ministry. He has a real ability for working with people and getting people to respond to his leadership. He is one of the best all-round students I have taught at Croser."

"He is an excellent fellow in every respect," Dr. Kenneth L. Smith, professor of Christian Ethics at Croser, said. "He is well above average as a preacher. He has all the qualities of mind and character for either the teaching or pastoral ministry of the church."

"Mr. Daniel has an excellent voice and is a top-notch preacher," said Robert S. Lowndes, director of Field Services of Croser. "He has a keen interest in people and a deep understanding of their needs. His mind is sharp and alert. He always makes a neat and fine appearance."

WAC's Offer Special Jr. Summer Program For Eligible Women

First Lieutenant Mattie V. Parker, Women's Army Corps Career Guidance Officer for this area, announced that July 25 is the deadline date for submission of applications for the Women's Army Corps College Junior Summer Program.

This one-month specially designed course gives college women completing their junior year an opportunity to sample WAC life without any future obligation to the Army. Only 75 college juniors throughout the country will be selected for participation in this program.

This "Eye-It — Try It" program was devised to acquaint future college graduates with the advantages of being a commissioned officer in the Women's Army Corps.

"Now is the hour of decision," commented Lt. Parker. First Class transportation, excellent food, smartly fashioned uniforms, modern, comfortable quarters and a corporal's pay await those who can qualify for this once in a lifetime offer.

It all adds up to a happy combination of work and pleasure for a last summer before graduation from college and students from colleges and universities throughout the United States will share this experience.

I AGREE WITH UNCLE SAM! Or, rather, I agree with Uncle Sam's Treasury Department, which recently saluted the women of America for 20 years of service in the U. S. Savings Bond Program. As the Treasury so aptly stated, "Thousands of husbands and fathers owe their Payroll Savings nest-egg to the influence of their wives. Many a boy and girl wouldn't have a full Savings Stamp book, but for Mom. And many a bond would not be sold, but for women volunteers . . ."

WHY YELLOW? Why are the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory yellow? Why not blue, or pink, or purple? Did someone, back during the telephone's infancy, like canaries? Not at all. (At least, that's not the reason Yellow Pages are yellow.) The reason is purely scientific —determined by an eye specialist. Black print on yellow paper is the second most legible color combination! Black print on white paper is first, but that's "taken" by the alphabetical section.

VACATIONING SOON? Don't forget to carry along your toothbrush, film for your camera . . . and your little blue book of telephone numbers for those long distance calls you'll be making to the folks back home!

RIGHT AT HOME on the farm nowadays is—you guessed it—farm interphone! And talk about convenience! A farm interphone system gives you both intercom and regular telephone service from strategic spots around your farm. With farm interphone, Mom can throw away the dinner bell, too . . . just call the family to supper! How ya gonna keep 'em down on the farm? Install an interphone system, of course!
