17-Member Delegation Hears Town's Improvement Plans

A 17-member delegation from Zebulon heard "The Smithfield Plan" presented to them last Wednesday at the county seat of Johnston County.

Leaders of the town-wide improvement program reviewed the history of the program, explained the various projects involved, and pointed out the progress made to date.

Smithfield Mayor Hugh Talton, in extending greetings to the visitors, emphasized that the most gratifying thing about "The Smithfield Plan" was the cooperation which it had received from the citizens of Smithfield.

Amos Estes, chairman of the Zebulon Planning Board and spokesman for the Zebulon delegation, stated that an improvement program is being planned for Zebulon. He indicated that several of the projects in "The Smithfield Plan" would be considered for inclusion in Zebulon's program.

Estes extended an investigation to town and Chamber of Commerce officials of Smithfield to visit Zebulon to view improvement projects here.

Estes said he was very impressed with the improvements the town of Smithfield has made and is making. He feels that such improvements could be done by the citizens of Zebulon.

Smithfield's most publicized aspect in the improvement program has been the canoping of the main streets in the business district.

Woman's Club Meets Tuesday

International affairs will be the topic of discussion at the November meeting of the Senior Woman's Club, which meets Tuesday night, November 6, at 8 o'clock.

Wakelon Bulldogs Lose, 39-20 To Carolina Military Academy

By Bill Quick

The Wakelon Bulldogs scored three touchdowns and had a fourth called back as they stubbornly met defeat last Friday night at the hands of the Carolina Military Academy at Maxton 39-20.

Coached by former Wendell mentor Clyde Parrish, the Military marched to their sixth victory but only after the Wakelon gridmen gave them the scare of their lives. The Maxton team marched to an early 70-lead with QB Arthur Smith passing for 45 yards to end Phil Tillett.

Wakelon quickly retaliated with Debnam scoring two plays later on a pass play from quarterback Tommy Wood that carried for 80 yards. Creech's attempted run was no good and the score stood 13-6.

Maxton scored again in the first on a 15-yard run by Frank Logan. The extra point attempted was blocked and the scoreboard read 13-6. As the first period ended

Wakelon had the ball on the Military's 34.

The Carolina Cadets scored their third TD near the end of the second quarter on a run from the 11 yard line by Dallas Sutton. The extra point attempt was no good and at halftime it read 19-6.

Second Half Resurgence

Wakelon opened the second half with Randy Creech hitting right tackle for nine yards. On a beautifully executed pass play, Wood hit Creech for a pass play that carried 41 yards and Wakelon's second TD. Creech made good the PAT and the score moved 19-13.

The Cadets struck back angrily with Logan going over from the 4. The PAT was blocked and Wakelon was behind by 12, 25-13.

On the next series of plays, Wakelon drove for four consecutive first downs with Ellington going over the 4, moving the score to 25-19. The touchdown was nullified however, and many felt this was the play that broke the Bulldogs' morale.

The Cadets scored two touchdowns in the fourth and Wakelon closed the gap late in the game on a 45-yard pass play from Wood to Debnam. Creech successfully ran the extra point and the final score was 39-20.

The game was marked by more penalties than any contest the Bulldogs have played in several years. Filled with exciting moments, local fans feel that Wakelon gave a good account of itself against the larger, older and more experienced Military team.

Homecoming Set For Wakelon

Wakelon Student Council has planned one of the most outstanding homecomings in years.

Homecoming activities get underway today (Thursday) with a "Gold and Black Day." Today all the students wear the school colors, which are gold and black.

Tonight there will be a pre-victory march by the band and a bonfire on the school grounds in which the cheerleaders and football players will participate.

Friday's events begin with an alumni tea to be held in the home economics building from 4 until 5 p.m. At 6 o'clock the parade, consisting of the homecoming representatives carried on beautiful convertibles, and floats or cars representing school clubs and organizations or firms in Zebulon, will begin. It will originate from Vance Street and continue down Arendell Avenue to the school.

After the parade the Wakelon Bulldogs will play their most important game with last year's conference champions, the Spring Hope Raiders. The game will begin at 8 o'clock.

During halftime ceremonies, arranged by the Junior class, the presentation of the representatives and the long-awaited moment of discovery of the new Homecoming Queen will occur. Miss Zebulon, Miss Jackie Mitchell, will be present for these ceremonies.

Church Sanctuary Is Facelifted

The Methodist Church sanctuary is getting a face lifting, according to Thurman Hepler, chairman of the church's Official Board. Through the efforts of the trustees and the cooperation of the membership, the sanctuary will be painted this week and be ready for Sunday's worship services. Gordon Temple, a steward of the church, is heading the project.

Members were given an opportunity to give paint for the project a few weeks back. 87 gallons were needed and some 77 gallons were donated. This is the first time that the ceiling and walls of the sanctuary have been painted since the new church was built.
