ZEBULON RECORD

VOLUME 38, NUMBER 38, ZEBULON, N. C., SEPTEMBER 26, 1963

First Win

Wakelon Victorious Over Nashville Blue Flames, 6-0

In a "hardnose" defensive battle the Wakelon Bulldogs were victorious over the Blue Flames of Nashville, 6-0. The Bulldog defense stopped Nashville cold, turning back everything the Blue Flames could muster. Nashville was held to only 68 yards rushing and 10 yards passing for the game. On eight occasions the Bulldogs were in Nashville's backfield throwing the Blue Flame runners for losses, and three times stopping Nashville for no gain.

First Half

The Bulldogs were in Nashville territory for most of the first half and kept the Blue Flame attack in check. Only once did Nashville cross midfield in the first half of play.

Highlighting the first half was a run by Randy Creech, 48 yards to the Nashville 1, but this was called back on a penalty. Late in the half, Thompson, on a keeper play, went for 37 yards and what looked like a Blue Flame score, but this too, was killed by a penalty. The half ended when Johnny Clark ran 25 yards to the Nashville 25, with the score 0-0.

Second Half

Jerry Brayboy took the second half kickoff 16 yards to the Wakelon 44. From this point the Bulldogs drove for the game's only score. The drive featured a 28 yard run by Thurston Debnam. Randy Creech, on a hand-off from Johnny Clark, broke through the middle from 5 yards out and the T.D. The only Blue Flame threat came when Nashville recovered a Brayboy fumble on the Wakelon 22. Two plays later Brayboy scooped up a Nashville fumble to kill the threat.

The kicking of Thurston kept Nashville in the hole most of the second half, with kicks of 35, and 40 and 35 yards. More important, his kicks were high, stopping the runback. The smaller Bulldog line broke through, time and again to stop the Nash attack. The whole line did an outstanding job and it would be hard to pick out individual players. Secondary defense was vicious, stopping the long gainer and allowing only one pass completion.

The new look was Jerry Bullock alternating with Johnny Clark at Quarterback and Kenneth Temple moving up to a starting line-backer post. Next week will tell if the right combination has been found when the Bulldogs take on a fast and aggressive Oxford Orphanage team. The Oxford team will be the only team that is smaller than the Bulldogs, but they are proof that size is not everything. Their last victory was over Benvenue by the score of 8-0. If Wakelon can get by this game they might just go all the way, including Wendell and Enloe.

Girl Scout Drive On This Week

A drive to recruit funds for the Girl Scouts got underway Monday, according to Mrs. Ruric Gill, Jr., chairman of the drive in Zebulon.

Approximately half of the money donated to the cause by the citizens here will be used for local Scout activities. The rest will be used for the operation of the Council.

The Neuseoca District, of which Zebulon was a part of, has now merged with several other districts and has been named Pines of Carolina Girl Scout Council, Mrs. Gill said.

There are a total of 19 counties represented in the Council. Wake County is the largest county represented, and has more girls in Scouting than any other of the counties in Pines of Carolina Council.

There is only one troop in Zebulon, and that is the Brownies. This group of approximately 30 children is supervised by Mrs. Preston Smith.

Mrs. Gill pointed out the need for a Girl Scout Troop here. She added that no troop is organized because of the lack of leadership. She said if any woman or women are desirous of helping her start a troop to please call her.

Solicitors for the drive are Mrs. Philip Olive and Mrs. James Alford, residential; and Mrs. Frank Wall, business district.

No goal has been set for the drive, Mrs. Gill said.

AWARD . . . Minda Finch receives the Occaneechee Sweetheart's Pin for her outstanding service with the local Boy Scout organization. The presentation is being made by Homer Eggers, director of Field Service.

Retired Postal Worker

Kills Wife, Attempts Suicide

Whitley Chamblee, 56-year-old retired postal worker, has been charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Chamblee, 52, who was found shot to death about 3 p.m. Friday, September 20, in the bathroom of her home on East Sycamore St. The body was found by a child of the couple.

The husband was found by police a short time later at Zebulon Cemetery. He had evidently attempted suicide, shooting himself with the murder weapon, an automatic .22 rifle. The bullet entered under his chin and came out on the left side of his face near the ear.

Mrs. Chamblee had been shot seven times, police said. She was fully clothed, lying flat on her back. She lived only a short while after being shot.

Chamblee had left Duke Hospital Friday morning. He was at the Durham hospital undergoing treatment and awaiting transfer to a mental hospital in Raleigh. He was taken to Dorothea Dix Hospital in Raleigh following the shooting.

Chamblee is scheduled for a hearing in Zebulon Recorder's Court October 9.

Mrs. Chamblee was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Durwood E. Barnes of Wilson County. Chamblee was a postal employee for more than 30 years. He retired in 1961 because of disability.

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Chamblee at Zebulon Methodist Church of which she was

Local Boy Scout Goal $2,500; Kick-off Campaign Wed'day

Devil Dog Manufacturing Co. employees and company officials set the pace this week for the annual community Boy Scout finance drive. Approximately $400 is contributed to the drive by the firm and employees.

During the past two years more than $1,000 has been given to the local drive to aid in Scout work, Armstrong Cannady, vice chairman of the Saponi District, said.

"Devil Dog Manufacturing Co.

and Zebulon are held up as a shining example for others in the district," Homer Eggers, director of Field Service, said.

The drive's kick-off breakfast for Scout officials and volunteer workers was held Wednesday at Gordon's Barbecue Restaurant. Wallace Wood, Scout executive, addressed the 45 workers.

The goal this year is $2,500, Cannady said. Bill Kornegay is the finance chairman.

The district goal is $10,000, Eggers said.

Devil Dog contributed $500 to the drive two years ago and became a member of the Trustee Membership. It was the first firm to do so, and now many others in the 12-county area have followed their example.

Zebulon and community have one of the most active Scouting programs in the district. There are seven units with a membership of 175 Scouts.

Dr. Ben Thomas has been finance chairman of the Saponi District for the past three years.

James Debnam is a member of the district commission.

Devil Dog Co. officials were presented the Patron Award last week for the company's efforts in past drives. The award is a silver Scout statuette.

Local Guard Unit To Have Inspection Rating in October

Major Jack Potter, Operations and Training Officer for the 5th Missile Battalion of the North Carolina Army National Guard, gave his home-town Guard unit a close inspection last Monday night to help it prepare for the Annual General Inspection scheduled for Battery A next month.

Assisting Maj Potter was a 5-man team from 5th Battalion headquarters in Louisburg. They checked records, observed training, and made a careful inspection of equipment to determine its serviceability and state of maintenance.

Since its return from summer camp at Ft. Benning, Ga., in June, the local artillery unit has been preparing for the big inspection. Capt. Jack Tippett, Commander, reported that the Guardsmen are fast becoming capable missilemen. In addition to conducting classes in handling and firing the "Honest John" rocket, Battery A has been getting its equipment and records in top-notch shape.

The Annual General Inspection is a highlight of the year's training for Guardsmen. During the inspection, representatives from Third U. S. Army spend a day with the unit, scrutinizing administrative records, checking equipment, and observing training.

The inspector questions the Guardsmen individually to determine the effectiveness of training. He judges morale of the unit by its average drill attendance and the appearance of the men.

The grade awarded by the inspector plays a major part in determining the annual performance rating given the Guard battery.

Fair Attendance

An estimated 15,000 persons attended the five county fair held here last week. Fair officials said it was one of the best attended fairs ever held in Zebulon.

More than 5,000 persons attended the last day's performance. This was the largest attendance of any single day.

One official said the exhibits were of superior quality but there did not seem to be as many as in previous years.

The carnival was owned by David Endy, with its home base in Miami, Fla.
