

WANT FISHER AND RICE AT ROTARY MEET

Cartoonist And Sport Writer Will Be Invited To Attend Conference Here

An effort is being made by local Rotarians to get word to "Bud" Fisher, famous cartoonist, and Grant Rice, sport writer, who are now at Camp Bryant, with the intention of inviting them to come here and attend the Inter-City Conference, which will take place on Friday of this week.

It is hoped that these prominent men can be prevailed upon to attend the meeting, for it is felt that their presence will lend considerable interest to the gathering here.

Local Rotarians announce that practically everything is in readiness for the conference. Word has been received from all the clubs in the district to the effect that they are going to attend in large numbers. About 300 visitors are expected.

BAD BLOOD RUINS COMPLEXIONS

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich, Red Blood—Liquid or Tablets

The woman whose complexion is muddy and almost sallow has blood that is clogged with poisons. She awakens in the morning with a languid feeling. She seems to have no energy at all.

Her blood is weak and thin and she needs to take Gude's Pepto-Mangan for a while as thousands of women do when they feel run down. It makes rich, red blood. Where blood was thin and weak it becomes rich and red. Then that woman who has had such a bad complexion and has found it so hard to do things, begins to look a lot rosier. She doesn't look so droopy and tired. In a little while the look on her face brightens, her complexion clears up, and she feels happier.

The druggist in your neighborhood sells Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It has been recommended by doctors for years. There is the liquid and tablet form. Take your choice because the medicinal value is the same. The name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package. —Ad.

PASTOR IS HOST TO CHURCH BO.

Rev. G. T. Adams of Goldsboro Entertains Church Board at a Banquet

(From Goldsboro Argus.)
Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of St. Paul M. E. church in this city, which congregation he has served with the zeal of an apostle and with the solicitude of a real shepherd and in the service has won not only the hearts of his own flock but of all our people, regardless of church affiliations, was host last night to his official church board, twenty-seven in all, at a course luncheon elegantly served in the beautifully appointed special dining hall of the Hotel Kenyon, which is noted under the superb management of its popular proprietor Mr. J. C. Vantony, for the elegance of its service.

It was indeed a most gracious and enjoyable occasion, and in perfect keeping with the hospitable character of Brother Adams.

During the course of the happy occasion it transpired that during the past year 228 new members had been received, 134 by baptism and 94 by letter, so that the congregation now taxes the seating capacity of the edifice. And it may be of interest to know that this congregation raised during the conference year now just closing $26,000 for all purposes—a remarkable achievement, showing that this church is alive spiritually and it is making wonderful progress in every department, and we doubt if there is a church in the Southern Methodist conference that has more largely attended mid-week prayer meetings than does St. Paul.

Brother Adams left this afternoon to attend annual conference, which

MINE BOSS SAYS HE WAS HELPLESS

Arizona Man Was Simply Down and Out And Couldn't Even Move Himself—Feels Fine Now

Harry E. Scott, a well-known mine boss, whose address is Box 683, Tombstone, Arizona, writes: "I was down and out nearly all the time with rheumatism and finally got where I couldn't move, even to feed myself. My wife thought I would never get well again, and she knew my condition better than anyone else. "I was absolutely helpless when my wife started giving me Tanlac and in four days I ate a hearty meal for the first time in many months. Tanlac put me on my feet and I'm back on the job working hard and feeling just fine. I have gained eighteen pounds in weight, too."

Tanlac is sold in New Bern by the Bradham Drug Co., and by leading druggists everywhere.—Ad.

NEW YORK STOCKS MARKETS

Cotton Quotations.

COTTON FUTURES
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Cotton futures opened steady: December, 15.40; January, 16.22; March, 16.30; May, 16.25; July, 15.88.

THE STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Opening prices in the stock market today were irregular, but the list strengthened within the first half hour on the support given to rails and equipments. Coalters, rangers and transients featured by D. L. & W. Reading, Norfolk & Western, St. Paul, Kansas City preferred and Northern Pacific were higher by fractions, 1 to 1 1/2 points. Oil companies hesitant on the further heaviness shown by Royal Dutch.

THE COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The easier ruling of Liverpool and unfavorable Lancashire trade reports appeared chiefly responsible for an opening decline of 10 to 25 points in the cotton market today. The market steadied after the call and January contracts rallied from 16.22 to 16.50 and March from 16.30 to 16.55, or about 6 to 8 points above last night's closing.

opens in New Bern tomorrow. It is our knowledge of our own observance that he will carry the finest record to a conference ever made by St. Paul church.

The official board last night unanimously and most cordially, with an enthusiasm that was inspiring, adopted a resolution requesting of the presiding bishop the return of Brother Adams to this charge for the next conference year.

New Overall Plant Will Have Large Capacity

"We expect to start the actual manufacture of overalls in our new factory by the first of January," said Mr. Nassef, proprietor of New Bern's newest manufacturing enterprise, this morning. "The building is almost completed and the plasterers are now working on the inside. They will be through with their job this week."

Mr. Nassef also stated that the machinery for the new plant had arrived and would be installed next week.

When asked concerning the number of persons employed in the factory, the proprietor stated that about 75 would be given work.

"We will pay them a dollar a day while they are learning the trade," he continued, "and after they have mastered the intricacies of the work, they will be in a position to earn from $4 to $6 per day, depending upon their skill."

"What will be the capacity of your plant?" he was asked.

"We will be in a position to turn out one hundred dozen pairs of overalls a day," he replied. "At least, our machinery will permit us to manufacture that many. At first, of course, we won't reach anywhere near that quantity, for we will have

PRESBYTERIANS

OF NORTH CAROLINA

Barium Springs Needs $500,000 for Equipment

That amount will double its capacity and meet present obligations to the fatherless and destitute who are at our gates.

With a doubled capacity, we must double our support fund. Presbyterians, that is the program that faces us. What shall we do with it? At this Thanksgiving season we are asking for an offering of not less than $125,000, to be used as follows:

For support, $25,000; for the remodeling of Rumble hall—which will double the kitchen and dining hall facilities of the institution and the dormitory accommodations of this building—$65,000; for absolutely essential repairs to present buildings and additions to the school and chapel, $25,000; for a new laundry, $10,000.

This amount MUST BE HAD NOW! The work on Rumble hall is under way—proceeding on faith—faith in Presbyterians.

We cannot give too much; we may give too little. Much is expected from some; some from all. The answer to the question of the individual, "How much shall I give?" is this:

"My Part—As God Has Prospered Me"

It is just a question to be settled between each of us and our conscience—between each of us and our God. Remember the words of our King:

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Just One Item That Our Neglect Has Cost.

Several months ago application was made to Barium Springs for the admission of a young girl. There was no room for her. But the superintendent, realizing how imperative was the need in her case, made special efforts to crowd her in.

As soon as it had been arranged that she might be taken care of she was sent for.

A letter came back saying that assistance had come too late. It had been necessary in the meantime to send her to a home of refuge.

Perhaps, on the Day of Judgment, we shall not have to answer for that young girl's misfortune. But who can say? Will our plea of ignorance excuse our past neglect?

Would ANY plea, in such cases of shattered lives, excuse our continued neglect—when over the plea of ignorance is removed for us?

Do You Want To Build A Service Memorial?

Present additions being made at Barium Springs—including the new Woman's building, being erected by the Auxiliaries—will add accommodations for 100 girls.

There is no immediate prospect of providing for additional boys—unless the minimum offering asked this Thanksgiving is largely oversubscribed. Presbyterian men and women of North Carolina—you who have been more than ordinarily blessed, through the mercy of God, with the treasures of this world—could you find a greater cause than this in which to invest?

Build a boys' cottage at Barium—invest in the uplifting of many character; the creation of effective citizenship from raw material that may otherwise be lost, or spoiled.

Will We Continue to Let Others Meet Our Obligations to Orphaned Childhood?

Your committee believes NOT! We are convinced that Presbyterian neglect of their Orphanage at Barium Springs, their neglect of the marvelous opportunity for service to man and God through orphanage work, has been due to ignorance of what they were doing—and NOT to any lack of a desire to serve.

Guaged by any other branch of our Church work, the charge cannot be established that Presbyterians are in any wise lacking in that fine moral fibre that is raising the standards of the world and promoting God's Kingdom on earth. It cannot be said, then, that our negligence of the orphans—the chosen of God's creatures—is a result of cold hearts or shrivelled conceptions of service. The only thing that condemns us is that we have been ignorant of a commanding need; that in that ignorance we have allowed our orphanage work to stand still for a decade while our attention has been turned to progressive endeavor in other directions.

But—We Cannot Longer Plead Ignorance!

We know now that the sum total of our material investment, as a church, in the equipment of Barium Springs Orphanage is less than $45,000!

Spread that out over a period of 20 years, the age of this institution—divide it among the Presbyterian host of the North Carolina Synod—and consider how shameful is the record to each one of us. We know now that other denominations with whom we rank—that fraternal organizations—have so far outstripped us in expenditures for equipment, in contributions for support of their institutions, and in the actual service of giving orphaned children a home and training them for life's opportunities, that the figures are appalling to us. We know now that what we have done for these children in the past has been a mere pittance in payment of our obligation to them.

We know now that what these other denominations, what the fraternal organizations, have been doing has been in part a payment of our own obligations! The 300 children now knocking at the doors of Barium Springs constitute a responsibility that is ours alone! Not only is there no room for them elsewhere, but we have no right to suggest that they be cared for elsewhere. The other institutions are carrying more than their proportion of the load—and, too, with all they have done and are doing, their facilities are unequal to the demands made upon them.

Realizing these things, there lies before us but one definite line of action: Presbyterians must provide now what they have failed to provide before, in order to meet a manifest obligation.

Thanksgiving Day our membership will have the privilege in part—wholly if they choose—to perform their duty to these orphans. And an aroused Presbyterianism in North Carolina will answer the call. We have no doubt of that, because the facts demand it!
