Both Giants and Yankees Are Ready for the Champion Series.

BIG ATTENDANCE
Doubtful, However, Whether it Will Equal that of Last Season.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The New York Giants and Yankees, standard bearers of the American and National Leagues, were turned to concert pitch today in final workouts in preparation tomorrow of their second successive struggle for highest baseball honors. The Giants were victors last year in a ten-day fight with the Yankees, who won the series in a four-out-of-seven. Attendance records this year are not expected to exceed last year's high mark—269,997 paid admissions for eight games—but indications pointed to capacity grounds. Reserve seats have been sold out for the first six games. This is exclusive, however, of 25,000 unreserved seats in the upper tiers of the grandstand, which will go on sale each day at 10 o'clock. Advance guards of delegates from all parts of the United States were on hand today and close to 500 newspapermen from all parts of the country were here to supply their readers with first-hand facts of the series. Promise of fair weather, with ideal temperatures, not only for the opening games but probably for the week were promised.

The proof of the pudding is in the after effects.

Bichloride Tablets Failed To End Life of King Watson

It takes more than bichloride of mercury tablets to kill King Watson. King demonstrated this fact Sunday. Last week, experiencing some slight pain in his back, King went to a local drug store and obtained some pills which, the druggist guaranteed, would give him relief. But let him tell the story in his own words: "Sunday, right after dinner, I was feeling kind of badly so I made up my mind to take a couple of pills. I went to the place where we keep medicines and found the box in which I thought the pills were. I took out two of them and also a quinine tablet. After that I opened a bottle of Pepsi-Cola. Taking the three pills, I put them into my mouth and washed them down with the drink. Everything seemed lovely and I

BEVERIDGE UPHOLDS REPUBLICAN RECORD

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—Whether the present economic system is to be developed by the republican party or revolutionized by the democratic party is the real issue of the times, declared Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana republican senatorial nominee, in an address here this afternoon, opening the campaign of his party in Ohio. The republican party, he said, holds the theory that the present economic system is fundamentally sound and that American institutions meet all human situations better than any existing or proposed plan of government. An antagonistic theory, he said is held by a conglomeration of political elements, made up of the larger fragments of the democratic party, socialist organization and extreme radicals who are convinced that our whole economic system is fundamentally wrong and that American institutions are antiquated and inadequate. Selection of one of the two theories is "the profound and elemental issue" of the times, Mr. Beveridge said.

TRIED TO GET NEGRO FROM MONTGOMERY JAIL

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 3.—Montgomery was quiet today after a night of excitement in which a mob repeated demonstrations in an effort to storm the county jail where Joe Terrell, negro, alleged slayer of Geo. Wilson, county jail warden, was imprisoned since yesterday. Before firemen and military could disperse the mob, five men were wounded. They are: Rev. A. J. Stokes, well known negro minister, shot in the head and seriously hurt. James W. Prescott, Herbert Miller, Edward Teal, negro, seriously wounded by member of the mob, and W. A. Warren. Authorities announce that Terrell had been removed early today to another prison. A negro was shot in the hip by the posse which captured him. A negro theatre in the downtown section was closed early last night and the negroes in the audience were told to go home. They generally obeyed. Anticipation is about all there is to kissing.

WOMAN IS NAMED AS SENATOR TO SUCCEED THOMAS E. WATSON

(By Associated Press.)
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 3.—Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Cartersville, Ga., became the first woman member of the U. S. Senate today when she was appointed by Thomas W. Hardwick to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thomas Watson until the people elect a successor in November. At the same time, Governor Hardwick announced his candidacy to succeed Senator Watson. The primary will be held October 17. Whether Mrs. Felton will actually have an opportunity to qualify and serve as a member of the senate is doubtful, for her successor will have been elected when congress meets in December. Mrs. Felton is the widow of Dr. W. H. Felton, of Cartersville, Ga., who served as a member of congress for several years. She has long been active in Georgia politics. Many years before the women were granted the right of suffrage, Mrs. Felton managed her husband's campaign and stump-ed the district in his behalf.

MORE THAN 1,000 IN ATTENDANCE THIS MORNING

Scores of Business Men Were Among those Present at The Services.

TO PREACH TONIGHT, SUBJECT OF ATONEMENT

Interest in the Revival Has Been Showing a Material Increase Since Sunday.

Augmented by scores of local business men, the attendance at the morning services today of the Ham-Ramsay evangelists campaign was the largest since the meetings got underway in this city. There were almost a thousand persons in the tent this morning. Tonight Mr. Ham announces one of the best sermons of the revival. It is classified under the head of "Atonement" and will be of keen interest to all who attend. Tomorrow morning, he will give the heart and core of his message to the people of New Bern. The sermon this morning was on "Our Enemies." Following is an outline of the sermon delivered this morning: "The man who goes to a doctor or a lawyer for advice, expects to follow it. God reveals His will only to those who are willing to do it. If any man wills to do His will, he shall know of the doctrine. Now God's word is duty to our enemies, both in and out of the church. "In Matthew 18: 15-35 we are told to take a grievance first of all to the offender himself. Tell him; if not somebody else. Discussion can only intensify antagonism. The more you talk about your grievance the more you will become embittered and the harder it will be to adjust the matter. The man who talks embitters his own heart. So we are to go to once, and as you go, pray God to give you grace and the spirit love to win your brother. "Ninety-nine of every hundred difficulties and misunderstandings could be settled in a few minutes, if this rule were followed. But if he will not listen to you, take others with you, and if he is still irreconcilable, take the matter to the church. If a man will not hear the church he has no business in the church. Let him be no longer a brother, but a publican. The man who loves peace will avoid discussion as far as possible. Expression deepens impression. That is why Christians should often testify for Christ and also why they should avoid factional talks. But if a factious maker persists, do not hesitate to discipline him. "Must Forget 70 Times." "In Matthew 1: 21, the Savior lays down the law of forgiveness on your part. Verse 15 related to your brother's duty to you, now He tells what is your duty towards him. He says you must forgive him even as often as seventy times seven, if need be. But you say you can't do that. Then you had better seek more grace than you have; for Jesus says in that case 'Neither will your Heavenly Father forgive you your trespasses.'—Mark 11: 24-26. "Well, some say, 'I can forgive him, but I don't propose to have anything more to do with him.' Then, according to the principle of the mutuality of forgiveness, when you get to the gates of heaven, St. Peter will say to you, 'God has forgiven you, but He doesn't propose to have anything more to do with you.' Many Counties Are Caring For Juvenile Delinquents

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—County officers in many states are finding it sound economy to make appropriations for local care of dependent, defective or delinquent children, rather than to allow this work to be carried on by individuals or other private groups, according to a report by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. department of Labor. Administration of care for neglected, handicapped or delinquent children by local boards of citizens, employing trained workers aided by state boards is, according to the summary, the plan which is gaining approval in a constantly increasing number of states. Within recent years laws requiring or permitting some form of county welfare organization of broad scope have been passed in Arkansas, Minnesota, Missouri, North Carolina, and Virginia, while individual counties, private agencies, or state boards in Alabama, California, Florida, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and South Carolina are working out similar plans without special legislative action. County organization concerned mainly with the care of dependent children is found in Arizona, Indiana, New York and Ohio. In the past, the report said, the development of preventative and constructive activities for children in rural sections usually depended on the willingness of some private individual or group to assume the financial obligations. The recent rapid growth of county welfare work has come about largely as a result of the development of state-wide plans, but a local organization is usually put into effect only after the county has indicated a desire for it. While it was found that plans are not alike in any two states because of variations in local conditions, the "basic principles are in agreement." The general tendency is in the direction of broad, coordinated programs, according to the report.

LEADERS MEET AT MUDANIA

Political Affairs to Be Taken Up at a Later Conference, It is Said.

MORE HOPEFUL

Now Believed that Leaders Will Be Able to Reach An Agreement.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.

—Only military matters will be taken up at the conference of allied and Turkish Nationalist leaders at Mudania today, the political aspect of the situation to be disposed of at a later meeting according to Henri Franklin Bouillon, whose recent trip to Smyrna, where he conversed with Kemal was responsible for the summoning of today's conference. Among the important questions to be discussed today, he said, were the demarcation of a new neutral zone on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles and at Ismid and the evacuation of Thrace. He was confident that an agreement would be reached. "The fact that there is common sense on both sides is the best augury for the success of the meeting," said M. Bouillon. "Naturally many difficult points will arise but there is no reason why we cannot solve them amicably, as the allies already have pledged to the Nationalists all their legitimate aims. The whole question is one of form rather than of facts."
