Rev. F. M. Ham's sermon this morning on "The Church" was heard by another large congregation. During the course of his sermon Mr. Ham called attention to some of the faults existing in the churches and among church members today.
An enjoyable feature of the service was the trio "The Church in the Wilderness," sung by Messrs. Ham, Ramsey and Rodgers.
A large congregation is expected tonight to hear the sermon on "The Unpardonable Sin." And it is not expected that there will be standing room tomorrow night at the Children's Chorus.
Mr. Ham this morning spoke in part as follows:
"The Church—What is it supposed to be? And what is it supposed to do? Jesus used the word church but twice in his words recorded in the New Testament. In Matthew 16: 18,

He speaks of founding his church and declares that the gates of hell shall not prevail against it; and in Matthew 18: 17, He gives directions that in case an offending brother refuse to hear the brother aggrieved or two or three witnesses, then 'take the matter to the church.' In His first use of the word He refers to His spiritual body. His bride, in the second to the visible, local organization, and the word church has these dual meanings. In the church spiritual only saints can be found; but in the church visible, the local organization, the devil often succeeds in getting his disciples mixed in as goats among the sheep. Or as Jesus expressed it in a parable, tares of the church spiritual but baptisms by the Holy Spirit; we become members of the local organization by ritual.
"I would not intimate that the local organization is not right and necessary. It is necessary to carry on the work of Christ Himself commenced. Though it has trodden along with the world and fallen from its primitive fidelity, I belong to it and expect to do so until the end of my pilgrimage. And those who say they keep out of it because of its pitiable shortcomings are just common liars. If they loved Christ they would want to get into His church to help clean it up and keep it clean. That is what I am trying to do with all my might."
"It is the church as a visible, local organization that I want to talk about this morning. The things for which it was established are separation, fel-

Plans For A Junior College Taken Up At Kiwanis Meet

Splendid Talk On The Subject Was Made At Meeting Held Last Night By Harry M. Jacobs

A Junior College at Vanceboro that will be the means of enabling the boys and girls of Craven and adjoining counties to secure educational facilities which otherwise would be denied them, was the subject of an inspiring talk made last night by Harry M. Jacobs at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club.
Mr. Jacobs illustrated the salient points of his talk by means of a chart. He outlined the plan which it was hoped would be carried out in enlarging the buildings, and increasing the curriculum of the Vanceboro institution, so as to be in a position to serve many more students than the school can at present accommodate.
"As you see from this chart," said Mr. Jacobs, "the Junior College forms the hub of this proposition. It is our plan to have a staff of agricultural experts at the Farm Life School who also will carry on their work in the various consolidated schools. This project, it should be remembered, is not only for Craven county but also for Onslow, Carteret, Jones and Pamlico, surrounding the school we have a test farm which will be conducted along scientific lines and where boys and girls, as well as the farmers of these counties, may obtain at first hand such information as will be of value to them. There are many farmers in the counties I have just named who want to give their children a good education, but who cannot afford to send them to college. The institution at Vanceboro will give them exactly what they need.
"There is a two-fold aim in all this. First, to give the boys and girls a good education and, second, to help

FEEDS SCHOOL ON HIS GARDEN

Superintendent Frank L. Teuton is Making Fine Record at Farm Life School

A demonstration of what can be achieved through a real garden is being given by Superintendent Frank L. Teuton and his pupils of the Farm Life School at Vanceboro.
"Mr. Teuton has one of the finest gardens in Craven county," said C. C. Kirkpatrick, secretary to the Craven County Agricultural Committee, this morning. "He is raising fifteen varieties of vegetables, among them being butter beans, snap beans, pole beans, tomatoes, rhubarb, turnips, collards, turnip greens, radishes, lettuce, parsnips, Irish potatoes, green peas and sweet potatoes. Needless to say, he doesn't spend very much money with the stores in supplying his school with vegetables."
Mr. Teuton is doing a splendid work at the Farm Life School; a work which is being recognized all over the county. The school there has been most fortunate in having secured his services.
A team of six members of the Pig Clubs has been selected to help judge live stock and seed at the Raleigh fair. The boys are anxious to qualify themselves for this work.

COLONEL FRED OLDS LOST HIS SUITCASE

FAYETTEVILLE, Oct. 5.—Col. Fred A. Olds, of Raleigh, has lost his confidence in the honesty of the folks in the Cape Fear section.
Reason: Some unknown person phoned Colonel Olds' suitcase while he was delivering an address to the students of the local high school this morning.
Now the Colonel is on his way back to Raleigh to buy another outfit of clothes.
He had intended staying here, until tomorrow but the desire to "trade at home" evidently got the best of him.
