THE GIST OF IT ALL.

Says a headline in one of yesterday's papers: "Blow at Profiteering and Help to Farmers Are Urged on Harding."

That's getting pretty close to the real problem that is confronting the nation today.

If Mr. Harding can put an end to profiteering and exorbitant prices that are being charged by many large manufacturing concerns, and if he can be the means of bringing needed assistance to the farmers of the country, then he will have done more for the actual prosperity of America than all the tariff bills, ship subsidy and other legislation put together. Curb the profiteers and help the farmers.

That's a slogan which should be kept constantly before the President and Congress. If they would confine a greater part of their energies to those two questions, everybody would be satisfied—except the profiteers.

FRIDAY'S SPECIAL TRAIN.

As was announced yesterday, a special train is to be operated by the Norfolk Southern Railroad from New Bern to Raleigh on account of the high school championship game to take place in that city on Friday.

Paul Mengel made the remark the other day that the New Bern football team was giving this city more advertising of late than any other agency. The statement was a true one. Every town in North Carolina will eagerly await the outcome of Friday's contest and the name of New Bern will be on thousands of tongues.

We owe it to the team to send a good crowd of supporters to Raleigh on the special train on Friday. We owe it to the team to give them every assistance in the final struggle for the Eastern championship. Let's crowd that train to its capacity limit and show the boys that we are solidly behind them and that we appreciate their splendid efforts during the past season.

MR. AYERS RESIGNATION.

Residents of New Bern learned with deepest regret, yesterday of the resignation of Rev. W. A. Ayers as pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city.

Mr. Ayers has been pastor of the Baptist Church here on two occasions. His last period extended over three years and during that time he has won for himself the respect, esteem and love of all who have had any dealings with him. He is held in high regard not only by the members of his own church but by everyone who has been fortunate enough to enjoy knowing him.

During his pastorate at New Bern he has done much for the advancement and progress of the Baptist Church here. He has increased the membership to a considerable extent and he has started the movement for the construction of a new church edifice in this city. His sermons have been a constant source of inspiration to those who have heard them. His uniform courtesy and affability have won for him a legion of warm and devoted friends.

He is going to other fields, to begin a new work and to make new friends, but his friends here in New Bern will never forget him. He will be sorely missed in our community.

It is said that there is a magical number. Mr. Ayers has been pastor of the Baptist church twice; let us hope that he will return once more.

In sending him to Forest City, New Bern does so with the knowledge that Forest City is going to get one of the best pastors it ever has had and that he is going to do an immense amount of good in that community.

According to a dispatch from Rocky Mount, employes of the Atlantic Coast Line who served in the shops or on train crews during the recent nation-wide strikes are receiving gratuity checks ranging from $100 to $1000 from the company. Now, if the men who receive those checks were to turn them over to the families of the fellows who quit their work and are in hard luck, everybody would join in singing their praises.

On Petitioning a Judge

It is perhaps competent for citizens to petition a judge for clemency before he has passed sentence on a convicted prisoner in his court. Frequently there are special circumstances pointing the advisability of mercy, of which the judge may properly be informed. But the case is different as where the people of Masonboro Township in New Hanover asked Judge Connor to impose a heavier sentence than that given a prisoner convicted of manslaughter. In even more dubious taste was the suggestion in the report of the grand jury that "more severe sentences" be imposed in serious cases as a "remedy for the large number of capital cases on the docket at the present term."

As to expression of opinion of the use of the judicial discretion and even the quality of judicial decision, it remains in this country a right to be properly exercised in spite of frequent attempts of thin-skinned judges to represent it officially. But there is a marked difference between expression of opinion and action, direct or indirect, which has for its purpose the influencing of the judicial mind and decision. That is well within the borders of contempt, and if Judge Connor issues no attachments in the recent instance, it will be because of good nature and sound sense, rather than because he would not be justified in so doing.—Durham Sun.

Bailey's Views Helpful

Joseph William Bailey, of Raleigh has made public what he thinks the 1923 session of the State legislature should do. Briefly it is this:

Safeguard and check the issuing of long-term public bonds. Curb the current tendency to tap the credit of the State at the expense of a generation that shall come after us. Reduce the volume of taxes by requiring all public institutions, boards, counties, cities and towns to live within their incomes.

Rescue the primary system from the corrupting influences that have fallen upon it.

These are the things one North Carolina citizen thinks should be done by the Democratic party for the State's good.—Greensboro Record.

December 3 to 9 is education week. Don't sling any slang this week.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

THERE WERE several of us.

UP IN the Y. C. A.

AND WE'D just finished.

TAKING A shower-bath.

AND WERE dressing.

AND SOMEHOW or other.

THE CONVERSATION turned.

TO HISTORICAL subjects.

AND WE-discussed things.

THAT HAPPENED in the world.

DURING ALEXANDER'S time.

AND JULIUS Caesar.

AND OTHER famous character.

AND AFTER a while.

W. B. ROUSE started in.

AND BEGAN asking questions.

ON ANCIENT history.

AND ENGLISH affairs.

AND THE rest of us.

TRIED TO answer them.

AND ROUSE would tell us.

WHETHER WE were right or not.

AND I don't know.

EVERYTHING MAY have been.

PERFECTLY ALL right.

AND I'M not casting.

ANY REFLECTIONS.

OR ANYTHING like that.

BUT IT reminded me.

OF THE two cow-boys.

WHO HAD an argument.

OVER RELIGIOUS matters.

AND EACH one tried to impress.

THE OTHER one.

WITH HIS knowledge.

OF BIBLICAL affairs.

AND THE argument.

WAXED SORT of warm.

AND AT last.

ONE OF the cow-boys.

SPOKE UP and said:

"YOU THINK you know.

"SUCH AN awful lot.

"ABOUT THE Bible.

"BUT I'M willing to bet.

"THE SUM of five dollars.

"THAT YOU can't repeat.

"THE LORD'S Prayer.

"TO SAVE your life."

AND THE other one.

REACHED IN his pocket.

AND PULLED out a five-spot.

AND COVERED the bet.

AND PROCEEDED to show.

THAT HE wasn't staging.

ANY EMPTY bluff.

AND HE started in and said:

"NOW I lay me down to sleep.

"I PRAY the Lord.

"MY SOUL to keep, Amen."

AND THE other chap.

WAS MIGHTILY surprised.

AND PAID his five dollars.

WITHOUT A murmur.

ALTHOUGH He remarked.

AS HE did so.

THAT HE had no idea.

THAT HIS friend.

COULD MAKE good.

ON THE proposition.

I THANK you.

Turpentine will remove paint but it plisters the face.

The stork is voiceless, but a man with triplets tells us the bird is dumb in more ways than that.

OF BIBLICAL affairs.

AND THE argument.

Last presidential election we jumped from one party to another. It may mean nothing, but 1924 is Leap Year.

ONE THING AFTER ANOTHER

COLD WEATHER HINTS

In the morning, upon awakening, always complain of a furious pain across the back and shoulders headache. If you are realistic enough it may be that the wife will get up and build the fire to dress by.

If you wake up during the night and find that you haven't sufficient covering on the bed to keep you warm, reach over and swipe the blankets from off the baby's crib. The chances are that he'll never know the difference.

Should it happen that your wife is a fresh-air fiend and insists upon having all the windows raised at night, tell her in plain words that you're boss of the household—and then go ahead and raise the windows.

When the telephone rings at 2 o'clock in the morning and the thermometer is registering below the freezing point you can usually get the wife to answer the phone upon the promise of a new fur coat.

If the same thing happens the following night, promise her another fur coat. What's a promise, more or less, between husbands and wives?

The start of a perfect day is to wake up cold, strat to build a fire and find that there's no wood chopped, so down for breakfast and discover that the brook hasn't shown up and then get into your car only to ascertain that the radiator has frozen up.

And added touch would be to slip on the ice which covers the front steps and to be accosted by a bill collector when you get to the office.

The coldest night of the year is always the night that the wife can't remember whether the cellar door was locked or not before you went to bed.

As you are walking along the street, bundled up in your heavy overcoat and cursing the cold, why is it that you always meet up with one of those birds who doesn't wear a vest and who insists upon telling you that this is the kind of weather that makes a guy feel like living?

That's another matter for the Lausanne conference to decide.

However, there's a heap of consolation in knowing that while we are freezing, the folks down at Miami are wearing Palm Beach suits and are enjoying the bathing.

JOHN T. TIERNAN HAS TAKEN A NEW WIFE
HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 25.—Professor John T. Tiernan, of South Bend, Ind., and Mrs. Blanche J. Brimmer, of Hensell, Iowa, were married this morning by Justice Howard Kemp at Crown Point, Ind. The Professor, who was divorced Thursday from his wife, principal in the Tiernan-Poulin maternity case at South Bend, gave his age as 32. The bride gave her age as 24.
South Bend, Ind., Nov. 25.—When informed that her former husband had been married to Mrs. Blanche I. Brimmer, at Crown Point, Ind., this morning, Mrs. Augusta Tiernan stated that she did not know the woman but that she had frequently heard Professor Tiernan speak of "Blanche" whom he expected some day to marry. As the statements were generally made in the form of a jest, she stated she paid no attention to them.

KIDNAPPERS SHOWING ACTIVITY IN CHICAGO
CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 27.—Kidnappers were active in Chicago last night and early today, according to reports to the police.
An unusually polite bandit intruded on a party of five in a cafe and after drinking with them and following the departure of two members, kidnaped a woman and two men, put them into a taxicab and rushed them away. According to the chauffeur's story the bandit robbed the man and made them leave the woman in the car. She was later released from the taxi.
