WEDDINGS

Craig-Barlow

A quiet marriage was performed at the home of Mr. Robert W. Barlow, uncle of the bride, Christmas morning at 10 o'clock, when Miss Blanche Barlow became he bride of Mr. T. B. Craig. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. C. Roberts and was simple but very impressive and was witnessed by only a few relatives and intimate friends. It was a great surprise to most of their friends. They were attended by Miss Lucille Stallings and Mr. Pinckney Craig.

Immediately after the ceremony a nice dinner was served.

Mrs. Craig is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Barlow of King's Creek and is a young woman of pleasing disposition and has been teaching in Caldwell for several years, being at present one of the efficient teachers at Valmead. Mr. Craig is a son of Mrs. Henderson Craig and is a splendid young man. The young couple expect to make their home in Lenoir for the present.

Davis-Smith

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Smith on Christmas eve when their daughter, Miss Ethel, became the bride of Mr. Rufus J. Davis of Lenoir, Route 2. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. C. Ivey of this Only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. Immediately after the wedding the happy couple went to the home of the groom's parents. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Davis of Lenoir, Route 2. He has just received his discharge from service and is training under the Federal board for vocational education. After spending the holidays with relatives and friends the young couple will leave for Atlanta, Ga., where they will make their home tempo-
