REPUBLICANS GOING TO GIVE SPECIAL ATTENTION TO 8TH

The Democratic leaders in Raleigh hear that the Republicans are going to concentrate their efforts on a few counties in the State a few weeks in advance of the November election. The eighth district, where Dr. Ike Campbell ran against Congressman Doughton and then contested the election, is receiving the special attention of the Republican chieftains.

Chairman Norwood is exceedingly gratified over the general outlook and expects the Democrats to poll majorities in a number of counties which have been going Republican for many years. Among them he mentioned Randolph and Stanly.
