BILL ABP'S LETTER.

Atlanta Constitution. Good health is the best of earthly blessings, but if we were not sick some times we would not appreciate it.

All during my long illness I have had three trained nurses—my wife and two daughters, and two married daughters and a granddaughter besides on the watchful, and they had to sit up with me and comfort me as I sat in a chair and struggled for breath.

I was as humble as a wet dog, for the truth is I was alarmed and so was my wife and children. I didn't see how they could get along without me, but I am better now, and for three nights have slept in my bed and recovered my breath and only lack strength, and am gaining that.

There is another good thing about a protracted illness. It gives a man such a good opportunity to look back, to ponder and ruminate. His helplessness makes him humble and humility makes him kind.

But this is enough about Teddy. Let us turn him over to the tender mercy of Dr. Wharton, who told us why he was shy of his mother's state and people.

HILL ABP.

It is well known that the Legislature of 1901 made a special appropriation of $100,000 to secure a four months school term in every school district in the State.

President Roosevelt says that the Republican house can settle the coal strike if they will. If they can and do not do so, what then? And if they can do so, why have they not done so before now?

The Seaboard Air Line Railway is to build a handsome modern depot at Rocky Mount.

STORIES ABOUT PREACHERS.

Easton, Md., Cor. Baltimore Sun. A member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church tells this good story about Rev. Dr. Temple:

Before the recent rains, when the earth was parched, the roads dusty and rough and the crops failing Father Temple thought it became the church to pray for rain, and so one Sunday morning he gave notice that at the mass he would say a prayer for rain, and asked the people to respond in their silent devotions.

Some years ago a local preacher of some celebrity preached in Broad Creek Neck. He essayed to quote some Scripture, but got the text wrong, and said: "If your right arm offend you pluck it out, and if your right eye offend you cut it off."

Rev. Dr. James F. Chaplain's story of his baptismal experience on the Eastern Shore of Virginia is a good one. One Sunday Dr. Chaplain, then presiding elder, preached in a little country school house.

In the days when the brethren had more respect for a rumeller than for a college-taught preacher the Philadelphia Conference sent into one of the rural districts of Talbot county as the junior preacher a finely educated and eloquent young man.

New Lincoln Shot.

HIGH POINT, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Folwell, wife of Mr. T. S. Folwell, died at her home in Archdale Saturday night, after a lingering illness.

More than a score of lives have been lost in the immense forest fires which have been raging for the past week in Colorado, Wyoming and Washington.

David H. Hill has no rep at all as a humor among the girls, but as a humor among the boys he is all right.

WHAT IS MAKING THE SOUTH GO AHEAD.

Baltimore Sun.

While a great deal is said all over the country of the marvelous growth of the manufacturing industry in the South, it cannot be doubted that the Southern people do not get the full amount of credit for this development that is due.

One of the greatest needs of the South was skilled labor. The negroes had never learned that kind of work, and free white labor could not exist with slave labor.

Predicts End of World.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Rev. Dr. C. H. Woolston, of the East Baptist Church, Kennington, has just preached a sermon predicting the end of the world.

"Let us note a few of the signs of the times which are signs of the coming end: First, the great internal demonstrations—earthquakes, tidal waves and the like.

"Then, again, it is written that the Gospel shall be preached to all the earth. This work has been well-nigh completed. There are 800 missionary societies and 62,000 missionaries at work in foreign fields.

Dr. Woolston then launched in to a tirade against the Coal Trust, and said that 13 men fixed the price per ton, and we must pay for it or freeze.

Rev. Dr. Eugene Daniel, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Raleigh for ten years and one of the ablest Presbyterian ministers in the State, has resigned his charge to take a pastorate in Virginia.

Governor Aycock will take the stump in North Carolina in interest of democratic nominees, and will probably speak at Marshall, the home of Senator Fritchard.

FRITCHARD'S RECORD IN BLACK AND WHITE.

News and Observer.

Senator Fritchard wants the support of the voters of North Carolina. Senator Fritchard has a record.

The voters of North Carolina do not forget. They are normal. They have memories.

The man who voted against the first bill to pension disabled Confederate soldiers actually fathers the bill to pension the deserters.

That record of Fritchard's is no matter or hearsay. It is down in black and white, and this reporter has seen it and reproduces it as follows:

The House Journal for the seventeenth day of the session of 1885, Friday, January 23, records that upon the question of the adoption of the amendment of Mr. Thompson to stand as section 2 of the bill, Mr. Busbee demanded ayes and noes.

That record of Fritchard's is no matter or hearsay. It is down in black and white, and this reporter has seen it and reproduces it as follows:

The House Journal for the seventeenth day of the session of 1885, Friday, January 23, records that upon the question of the adoption of the amendment of Mr. Thompson to stand as section 2 of the bill, Mr. Busbee demanded ayes and noes.

According to the journal, the bill is taken up again on Friday, January 30th, and passed on its second reading, the vote being 86 to 13.

On Tuesday, February 3rd, the bill came up on its third reading. The ayes and noes were called by Mr. Henderson and the name of Fritchard again appears in the list of noes.

Senator Fritchard, with the other republicans, seemed to have tried to dodge the vote, until he saw it was no use.

And the door-keeper had to be called upon to close the doors to help the dodgers from escaping.

How nice it would be for some politicians, if there were no records. But there are. There is no escaping them. They are deadly some times.

Led by a Dream.

Concord Times. Mr. Jones H. Shepherd, of Rowan county, was here last Monday with a lot of extra large Indian arrow heads, which he was selling at 25 cents each.

The strange thing about this find is that Mr. Shepherd dreamed for several successive nights that he would find the arrow heads in the exact spot where he did find them.

Mr. Freeman Kiser, a citizen of Marshall, Ind., has been thrown into jail because he refused to send his children to school and unless the law requires he may be regarded as a permanent boarder.
