THURSDAY SEPT. 19th, 1907.

Another important matter which should call for prompt action on the part of the town commissioners is the opening up of a street between Church street and the residence of J. R. Whitaker. The only point that such a street could be easily opened up is between the residences of Mr. J. F. Cooley and Mr. M. W. Lincke. These gentlemen have offered to give the town a street through their property provided the commissioners will secure an outlet across the adjoining property of Mrs. Rackley. Such a street would be of great advantage to the school children residing on Railroad street as well as of great convenience to travel. This matter should be looked into at once as only prompt action on the part of the Board of Commissioners will secure the offer which has been made by Messrs. Cooley and Lincke.

Son-in-law Longworth announces that "President Roosevelt will not become a candidate for renomination unless the entire country demands it. He has firmly made up his mind to stick to this course. That should settle the third term business for it is quite certain that "the entire country" is not crying for Roosevelt, nor are a great many Republicans in love with a third term.

While he was in Oklahoma Secretary Taft said with a knowing look: "I have never yet seen the town where a drink could not be secured by a man who looked for it." How does he know this? Has he been everlastingly looking for drinks in prohibition towns and finding them? Is he an habitual law-breaker? What a president such a man would make! Evidently he cares no more for the law than Roosevelt does.

Nashville has made remarkable progress along moral lines and in the community in the State is there a stronger temperance sentiment. We are now awakening and putting on new life as regards to things educational. The next move for our progressive citizens to make will be in the direction of public street and road improvement.

It is reported that there are now only 81,722 persons in jail in the United States, but when the Republican United States Senators and Congressmen and others indicted for land and other frauds and the Republican Pennsylvania grafters have been tried the number should be largely increased.

There is every evidence that ere long the school trustees will have to consider the matter of enlarging the grounds around the structure, as it is plainly visible at this stage of the situation that a site of one acre is entirely too small for the growing demands made upon the institution.

"The Balaful Influence."

It seems that the people of Rocky Mount are arousing from their inactivity along temperance lines and there may be something doing in the way of trying to overcome the "balaful influence" of twelve or thirteen bar rooms now flourishing in that place. The Twin County Echo in its issue of the 5th inst. commented on the situation as follows:

"Those of our railroad friends and citizens who are trying to lay foundations and build up a Y. M. C. A. in Rocky Mount are deserving of all good praise and in their efforts should have the cordial support of every good citizen of the town.

"From what cause we cannot say, but the reasons for it are both numerous and easy to be had, the churches of the community in this as in some others appear to have but little hold on the people. With a population of ten thousand to draw upon it is surprising that the average church attendance is so small, yet it is a fact and one that cannot be successfully denied. Nor is there any prospect of an improvement in this direction, otherwise it goes to indicate it may become worse. This is not a very agreeable prospect or one flattering to us, but it is something that calls for an immediate remedy if in our power to apply it. Some agency must be brought to bear upon the young men of the community to counteract the evil effect of the temptations offered them and enable them to become the strong healthful citizens that the community will need that its onward progress may not be stayed.

We offer here exceptional opportunities for sin doing having in this respect a singular distinction divided with no other of our sister towns. The wholesome temperance sentiment of some years ago has been badly shattered by the balaful influence of 12 or 13 bar rooms. "Liberal thinking," "high license" and plenty of whiskey have had the usual effect in deteriorating the very best and most attractive among us or at least in some wise impairing their usefulness. "Some agency is needed to reach our young men in the sphere they move in. The Y. M. C. A. will do this as no other can. It will supply the desire for recreation and enjoyment without evil to the subject. It will aid in laying the foundation of strong, stable character. Let us give the new movement the proper support necessary to insure its success."
