Some Hints For Farmers to Crack

How much do you suppose it costs you a year to repair your wagons and harness on account of roads? How much does it cost you a year for shoes and clothing that are ruined by your children wading through the mud to school? How much does it cost you a year for medicine to cure your children's colds contracted in wading through the mud to school and church? How much of a damage a year to you is the mud that prevents your children from attending school; or damage to them, rather, in the loss of an education? How much damage to you is our bad roads in preventing your reaching market with your product? You are perfectly willing to spend money in the buying of respers and mowers and other farm machinery. You are willing to purchase carriages and harness. At the price of potatoes are to-day, one load would be the average farmer's tax for ten years for good roads. At the end of that time the roads would be good, and you could vote to rescind the law if you wanted to and you would have your good roads and no tax for thirty or forty years, the balance of your life.—Selected.

Winter Care Of Machinery

One of the first things to do when you buy a wagon, buggy or other vehicle, or when you invest your hard earned cash in farm machinery is to prepare a shelter for it where it will not be exposed to the weather. But building sheds and houses for tools and machinery will not save the machinery at all, if through carelessness or neglect it is not put away after using. The shed may be large and dry, but it cannot keep the rain off of a tool that is not put in it. And this is where we have noticed the greatest neglect. It was not because there was no place to put things away, but because they "didn't have time" to attend to it. The South would save thousands of dollars every year by attending to this one item. And then it gives a farm so much better appearance to see tools stored away free from rust and with the paint bright on them instead of sitting outdoors rotting and advertising their owner as a poor manager. If you haven't put yours away, then get at it now, and make a habit of having a place for your tools and then keeping them in it when they are not in use.—J. W. Nash, in The Progressive Farmer.

Home vs. Big City Paper

Sometimes when the weekly publisher refuses to reduce the price of his publication, or perhaps increases the rate because it has been too low, he is confronted with the statement that a big daily from the city can be obtained almost as cheap. The reader forgets that it is the quality, not the quantity, that makes the publication valuable to him. He may from day to day scan the columns of the foreign publication and not find one item of town or county interest, while in the home paper such matters are given prominence and are recorded with a regularity and completeness that places the reader in touch with all that is going on about him. A thousand and one things of deep concern are mentioned in the home paper that never see the light of day in the "big daily" upon which so much stress is laid. Yes, there is much reading in the home paper, but the valued information that is not there, and hence the home paper is not only more valuable than the foreign paper, but also more interesting to the reader.

More Than In The Street

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts does not approximate the number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attack. They're in air, water, dust, every food. But great protection is afforded by Electric Filters, which expel and destroy these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back if not satisfied. Only 50c at Nashville Drug Co.
