THURSDAY APR. 17th, 1913.

Since the passage of the six months school term and four months compulsory attendance for all schools throughout the State, will naturally be taxed to their utmost capacity in making provision to take care of the increasing attendance of school children, and throughout the state the friends of education and the guardians of the children's interest are getting together, voting special taxes and issuing bonds to meet the demands.

This is none the less true of the progressive citizens of Nashville and the entire Nashville School district, who realized the needs here of a larger building and facilities for the increasing demands made upon the school. For months past the attendance has been larger than the present faculty and school building could fairly accommodate. There is increasing demand for at least two more grades. The conditions make imperative the enlargement of the school and the addition of more teachers and these facts have prompted the citizens to move in the right direction; to the end issuing bonds to an amount not exceeding eight thousand dollars and with these bonds give Nashville school district one of the best schools in the State.

The bond issue election will be held on Tuesday, May 14th, and the people of this district will carry the election by a handsome majority in favor of improving and enlarging the school.

If you have not registered for this election, be sure and apply to Mr. L. L. Davenport and register at once, as the new registration is required.
