SURRENDER NEAR AT HAND OUR TROOPS ADVANCING STEADILY

The Arrival of General Miles Upon the Scene Brings Relief to the Administration as the Officials are Worried Over Shafter's Illness
But it is Said That Miles Will Not Assume Command Over Shafter Until the Latter is Incapacitated.

TO BE GARRISONED BY COLORED TROOPS
Lieutenant Carr Was at the State Department Today and Described the Battle of Santiago to the Officials.

Shafter headquarters 11th, 4 o'clock afternoon, via Kingston, July 12.—Fighting continued during the day but at this hour it is believed Santiago will be captured within twenty four hours. Americans have advanced steadily all day and several Spanish trenches are now occupied in which were found many dummy wooden guns. There was a very weak fire from the Spaniards. The above despatch was sent from the field after Shafter's message was received at Washington this morning. It seems that Foral's second proposition to surrender was rejected and fighting resumed. The advent of Miles on the scene with instructions from Washington also led to resumption of hostilities.

It is thought Santiago will be garrisoned by immune regiments. Indications are that the Porto Rico expedition will not be long delayed. Lieut. Carr, of Wood's Rough Riders, was at the War Department today, and described the battle to the department officials and was made a lion of. Carr was badly wounded and is on crutches. He says the excessive humidity, rather than the high temperature, prostrates the troops.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Army officers consider Shafter's dispatch as foreshadowing the surrender of Santiago. Some believe the city has already surrendered. The arrival of Gen. Miles means relief to the administration as the officials are worried by Shafter's illness. It is said that Miles will not assume command over Shafter unless the latter is incapacitated. Miles is acting in an advisory capacity for Long, as matters are not moving to suit him. Shafter, however, is getting better.

PRATT'S CLOSE SHAVE.
Sam Fulton Sends a Bullet to Murder Him But Misses the Mark.

Policeman Charles A. Pratt had a most miraculous escape last night. The shave for his life was so close, that a bullet from a British bulldog pistol scorched his coat on the left breast and arm. The deadly missile came from a pistol held by the hand of Sam Fulton who evidently had it in his heart to do murder. Mr. Pratt stated to a reporter that he had not the slightest doubt that his assailant had that object in view and the circumstances in the case would make it seem to be premeditated.

About 6 o'clock in the evening Policeman Pratt received a telephone message that an officer was wanted at Sherman & Phillips' bar room on Church street where there was a row on Tuesday—a sort of miniature New York brawny affair, such as occasionally finds its way into a city which has hopes of becoming metropolitan some day. With much alacrity the genial officer hitched himself off to this field of duty, landed in due season upon the scene and took the names of witnesses to the disturbance before the bar which brings smiles, then frowns, then fights. Next he summoned Sam Fulton to go with him and answer duly bring for the charge of nuisance against him. Fulton went part way in peace but suddenly he possessed his soul to rebel and he bucked and reared just as they came to the Southern depot. Policeman Melver from Mt. Airy, came to Pratt's assistance and together they downed him and put the chains on the belligerent fellow. Then Pratt led him peacefully along until they neared the city building. Fulton begged that the chains be taken off and Pratt took them off. When they reached the chief's room, Chief Teague asked Fulton to put up five dollars for his appearance at court next evening. Fulton replied that he would have to go to his father's store on Masten's corner to get it. So, officer and prisoner went there. Fulton went behind the counter and opened the cash drawer. Pratt supposed he was getting the money out but great was his surprise when he saw a short ugly British-bull-dog pistol staring him in the face. Pratt beat a hasty retreat from the store room and stationed himself near the door alongside the building. Fulton followed in his wake and while looking up and down the street for Pratt, the latter scuffed Fulton by the arm and a scuffle ensued. Both fell to the ground. As they did so Fulton's pistol was discharged, the bullet grazing the left

MATTERS VERY QUIET
But Little Fighting Was Done Yesterday by Our Soldiers.

THE CITY IS ENTIRELY SURROUNDED
There Have Been But Few Casualties and No One Killed.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The following was received by the war department this morning: "Playa, del Este via Haytien, July 12. Adjutant General, Washington. Headquarters Fifth American Army Corps. It has been very quiet, but little fighting being done. A flag of truce has been sent since 2 o'clock considering the proposition of surrendering now that I have the town surrounded. On the north the line was completed at 5 p. m. by General Ludlow who went right down to the bay. The line is rather thin but I will have it strengthened in the morning by General Henry who has just arrived at the headquarters. There are only three or four casualties and no one killed so far as I can learn. I expect to have two of the new batteries in possession tomorrow. There is a great deal of suffering among the people who have been cut off from the bay and am doing my best to relieve it but have not been entirely successful."

THREE YEARS HARD WORK
This is the Punishment of Two North Carolina Deserters.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 12.—Lieutenant Goodman of Company C, First North Carolina regiment, and four sergeants, left on the steamer ship Seminole today for New York, having in custody Oscar and William Wigges, two brothers, who have been tried by court-martial and found guilty of desertion from the North Carolina regiment. They have been sentenced to three years at hard labor at Governor's Island. These men left the regiment, along with four others, while en route to Jacksonville from North Carolina. These two were afterward captured in Savannah and brought here for trial.

The List is Increased.
WASHINGTON, July 12.—Adjutant General Corbin has received from General Shafter a revised and corrected report on the casualties before Santiago, as follows: Killed, 25 officers and 288 men; wounded, 80 officers and 1,235 men; missing, 1,585. General Shafter is of the opinion that the number of missing will be reduced somewhat.

A Violation of Law.
ATLANTA, July 12.—The Georgia railroad commission has taken the position that the requirement by the Western Union Telegraph company and the Southern Express company that their patrons pay the war tax on messages and receipts as a condition precedent to the sending of telegrams and packages, amounts to an exaction of that much in addition to their usual rates.

To Be Electrocuted.
NEW YORK, July 12.—Mrs. Martha Place, for the murdering of her step daughter, was sentenced to electrocution during week commencing August 20. There was no scene but she sobbed hysterically.

At the State Department.
WASHINGTON, July 12.—Ex-Senator Edmunds of Vermont, called at the State department this morning. From his familiarity with Spanish matters he has assisted the state department in preparing state papers, though his visit in the direction of peace proposals was taken in connection with the French ambassador's visit yesterday.

Interstate Man Resigns.
Edgar L. Miller, general manager of the Interstate Telephone Company, has resigned his position. It is not learned who will be his successor.

POWDER WORKS HAVE BEEN BLOWN UP
Several Buildings Burned and a Large Quantity of Powder Exploded Killing Six Men One of Whom Was a Soldier.

POMPTON LAKE, N. J., July 12.—By an explosion of a boiler at the Lafine Powder works this morning fire broke out and spread to the powder works. Several buildings were burned and a large quantity of powder exploded. Six men are reported killed, one of whom is a soldier of the Third New Jersey regiment. There have been five companies guarding the works tearing mischief from Spanish spies. One of the killed is a soldier, and the works were busy on enormous government contracts for smokeless powder. As the location is remote particulars are meager.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Peace rumors are flying thickly about Washington and Madrid, but nothing tangible appears upon which to base them has been made public. In the meantime the siege of Santiago will be pushed as rapidly as possible in pursuance of Shafter's plans, trying to avoid the loss of life as much as possible. Watson's squadron is not reported sailed for the Spanish coast yet, but will probably not sail until Santiago is disposed of, the government feeling sanguine that Santiago will soon be settled, and then will turn its attention to Porto Rico. All the available transports are ordered south to convey troops which are being rapidly equipped. The President's plans contemplate the withdrawal of part of the regulars and volunteers from Santiago for Porto Rico, their place being supplied by fresh volunteers from the various camps.

Linnay Nominated.
Col. R. H. Lybrook returned on the evening train from the congressional convention at Wilkesboro today, bringing the word that R. Z. Linnay was nominated for congress on the first ballot, receiving 16 votes. No votes were cast against him. Eight delegates from small counties under the leadership of Mott and Wilcox bolted and withdrew. The bolters will hold a convention tonight and may nominate a candidate too. The insurgent delegation from here got no recognition. Clarence Call was made chairman of today's convention. Linnay remained on the ground.

Commissioners Adjourn.
The county commissioners adjourned last evening to meet again the first Monday in August. It was ordered that John Boyer, ex-sheriff, be notified to appear before the board on the first Monday in August and make a settlement. The tax books of Broadway and Salem were examined and received. The following bills were examined, approved and ordered paid: W. L. Cook for listing tax of Broadway $40 and A. S. Jones for listing tax of Salem ward $74.00.

Call Beats Mott.
The fight for process in the republican ranks of Wilkes county between Sheriff Clarence Call and Solicitor M. L. Mott, which has waxed warm these many months came to an abrupt end yesterday at Wilkesboro when Call won the chairmanship of the county convention. The JOURNAL last evening from a gentleman of this city who attended the convention: "After a hard fight of four hours Call won over Mott and all is serene along the Yadkin for Linnay."

Captain Lemly Goes South
Captain Henry R. Lemly, a brother of President W. A. Lemly of the Wachovia National Bank of this city, passed through Greensboro this morning with his battery en route to Tampa, Fla. Captain Lemly has been stationed at Ft. Myer near Washington City. His battery is one of the two best in the United States army.

A Fatal Accident.
Mr. Henry Chatham, a farmer living near Walnut Cove, was fatally injured yesterday by a tree falling upon him. Mr. Chatham was cutting the tree down when it fell in a different direction he intended it should fall, and caught him, crushing one of his legs, breaking his collar bone and otherwise injuring him.

Recruiting Office Opened.
The cords of four recruiting officers here has opened a recruiting office in the Crawford block on Fourth street, where Old Glory is floating to the breeze. Their object is to get recruits for the First regiment of North Carolina Volunteers now at Jacksonville. So far but one recruit has been secured and he is from the county. The recruiting officers are Q. E. Smith of Concord, J. H. Hollister of Charlotte, and Lieutenant W. A. Erwin of the Charlotte company, together with Dr. Reed of Concord, who is the examining physician.
