WINSTON-SALEM Building and Loan Association.

FOURTH SERIES NOW OPEN.

First Payment Called for Dec. 1.

This Association offers first class facilities to borrowers at very low rates of interest, and to investors an absolutely safe and profitable investment. To satisfied men and wage earners who desire to lay up a few dollars each month for the inevitable "rainy day," its advantages are unequalled.

A home institution managed by home people. G. A. FOLLIN, Sec. and Treas.

DIRECTORS: J. C. Buxton, Dr. J. F. Shaffner, J. W. Shipley, W. A. Whitaker, S. E. Allen, Joe Jacobs, W. T. Vogler, G. A. Follin.

J. F. GRIFFITH MAYOR.

He Was Unanimously Elected by the Board of Aldermen Last Night.

At a meeting of the Winston board of aldermen held last night, Mr. J. F. Griffith was unanimously elected mayor to fill out the unexpired term of Col. A. B. Gorrell, deceased.

Mr. Griffith was born in 1852 and has been a resident of this city for about 25 years. He has acted very acceptably as mayor pro tem, is an enterprising merchant, and a conscientious Christian gentleman.

Alderman R. I. Dalton was elected mayor pro tem, and Mr. Joe Jacobs, one of Winston's successful business men, was elected alderman to succeed Mr. Griffith. J. B. Vaughn succeeds Mr. Griffith as graded school commissioner; W. G. Cranford was made chairman of the street committee, and A. J. Gales was added to this committee.

The resolutions of respect, by the Salem commissioners, to the memory of Mayor Gorrell, were read and ordered spread on the minutes.

The pay rolls of the volunteer firemen were read, approved and ordered paid.

On motion the matter of blocking, instead of incalculating Second street was referred to the chairman of the finance and street committee.

At this point in the meeting Mr. Griffith took the oath of office, which was administered by Clerk of the Court Wilson.

A special committee composed of Messrs J. B. Vaughn and R. I. Dalton, escorted Mr. Jacobs into the council chamber, and the mayor administered to him the oath of office.

The board requested the graded school commissioners to place a bell in the tower of the North Winston graded school building.

Armory Hall All Next Week.

The return engagement of the Peruch-Belden Company at the Armory Hall Monday next promises to be even larger than before. Already the sale of season tickets has begun in good earnest, some of the best business houses of the city taking quite an interest in this clever company. Any one can purchase a reserved seat any day for 30 cents during the engagement. But a still greater inducement is now being held. Season tickets are now on sale for $1.50, entitling the holder to a reserved seat every night and Saturday matinee, seven performances. These tickets are transferable to any member of a family, or any friend. The same seat can be reserved for the whole week if desired. Heads of family will readily see that by purchasing this way each member of a family of seven can see the performance.

To the many who nightly witnessed these performances before a word like this may be of service to amusement lovers. "Only a Blacksmith's Daughter" will be the opening programme, with an entire and new change of bill nightly; none of the plays witnessed before are to be reproduced. A percentage of the net proceeds are to go to the Old Soldiers Home. Read advertisement in our business columns.

Death of Mr. J. H. Mills.

His many friends throughout the State will learn with sorrow of the death of Mr. J. H. Mills, which occurred at his home near Thomasville yesterday. Mr. Mills has been ill for some weeks, and his death was not unexpected.

A native of Halifax county, Virginia, he entered Wake Forest College in 1851, graduating with the degree of A. B. in 1854. He has since that time been a conspicuous figure among the citizens of the State, and especially in the councils of the Baptist denomination, of which he was a member. He has been president of the Oxford Female College, editor of the Biblical Recorder, superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum and superintendent of the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville from 1885 to 1895. He is known as the father of orphanage work in North Carolina. He was a brother of Prof. L. R. Mills, of Wake Forest, and leaves a wife and a married daughter, the wife of Rev. J. D. Newton, of Thomasville.

Fire at Germanton.

A telegram received here last night announces that Dr. L. H. Hill's handsome residence at Germanton was completely destroyed by fire yesterday evening. The building was insured.

THE JOURNAL learns that sparks from a passing train set fire to the barn and Dr. Hill's house caught fire from the barn. A horse, which was in the barn, was burned to death.

Pensions for Mrs. Shipp and Mrs. Smith.

An interesting history is attached to two bills recently introduced in the house by Mr. Underwood for General Wheeler. The bills are to grant pensions to Mrs. Margaret E. Shipp, widow of Lieut. William E. Shipp, who was killed at the battle of San Juan Hill, Cuba, and to Mrs. Louisa D. Smith, widow of Lieut. William H. Smith, who was killed at the same place. These officers studied together at West Point, graduated together and, after leaving the academy, both arose to the rank of lieutenant. They were killed in the same battle within fifteen minutes of each other and the bills to pension their widows were introduced in congress simultaneously. — Washington Dispatch.

A RARE MUSICAL TREAT.

The Pupils of the Musical Department of the S. F. A. Devote an Evening to the Study of Beethoven.

A very delightful entertainment and one doing honor to the grand old college in which it was given to the director, who conducted the program and to each individual performer, was that last night at the Salem Academy to a few specially invited patrons and others who aid in the work of the institution.

It was a musical recital devoted to the study and interpretation of the work of Ludwig von Beethoven, under the able direction of Professor H. A. Shirley. Each number on the program showed excellent and thorough musical training and some of the performers were possessed of a very high degree of musical talent.

A very interesting and valuable sketch of the life and work of Beethoven was read by Miss Mattie Morgan, and Professor Shirley gave an interesting account of the circumstances suggesting the composition of the different numbers as each was rendered.

A life size portrait of Beethoven was placed in a conspicuous position on the rostrum, and added much to the charm of the evening, for one felt that in a sense the spirit of the great master was there and presided.

We give the program in full showing the high class of work that is being done in the musical department of the institution.

A. M. E. Conference.

Thursday afternoon at St. James A. M. E. church the conference heard the reports of the Greensboro district of the presiding elder and pastor.

Revs. W. A. Cole, Christian church, and G. W. Johnson, Mt. Zion Baptist church of this city, were introduced to the conference and given seats within the conference hall.

Presiding Elder Berry and the pastor of the Greensboro district made a very grand and noble report. Conference took recess at the conclusion of the districts reports until 7:30 p. m.

The annual sermon was delivered at 8 p. m. by Rev. L. S. Flagg, Hickory, N. C. The speaker covered himself in glory and won the hearts of his hearers.

Prof. James S. Lanier was introduced to the audience and with burning eloquence and logical reasoning welcomed the annual conference to the city and homes of the people.

Rev. Dr. Deau, presiding elder of Newbern district, made the response.

This morning the conference assembled and reports of some of the committees were received.

Lenoir, N. C. was chosen as the next seat of the sitting of the Western North Carolina annual conference. The electoral college will convene at Greensboro, N. C., July 5, 1899.

The Baltimore Company Always Leads, Others Follow.

To the Officers of the Immediate Benefit Life Insurance Co., of Baltimore, Md:

Gentlemen: It is with pleasure that I add this testimonial to the many already in your possession, as I consider the Baltimore company the best company in the South for the colored people, as it makes no discrimination, and gives us what we justly deserve.

Your superintendent came to my house immediately after being notified of my child's death, Wm. McK. Reynolds, and paid me the full amount of policy at once.

I am proud to say that I was carrying insurance in your noble and worthy company. Thanking you for your generous treatment,
I am your beneficiary,
DAISY REYNOLDS.
Witness: Flora Foster.

BIG DAY AT ATLANTA.

Second Day of the Peace Jubilee Was a Great Success—The President Takes Part.

ATLANTA, Ga., December 16.—Seven thousand persons rose from their seats as the chief executive entered the auditorium yesterday. The band played the "Star Spangled Banner" amid considerable applause, but when the strains of Dixie filled the building the crowd went wild. President McKinley stood up and waved his hat above his head.

Mr. Hemphill, president of the jubilee company, made a lengthy speech. He was followed by Governor Chandler in an address of welcome. As the president stepped forward the large audience applauded heartily. The speech was punctuated by constant cheers, but there were no outbursts similar to that which marked the president's reference Wednesday to the confederate dead.

After three cheers for McKinley had been given with a will at the conclusion of his speech, General Wheeler rose from his seat on the platform. Then came such enthusiasm, such pandemonium as is seldom seen. For three minutes the audience cheered and yelled and waved their hats. Over and over again this little southern general tried to begin his speech and over and over again he was compelled to wait for the cheers to stop. Then the band played "Dixie" and once more the crowd broke into frantic cheers.

HOW IT IS RECEIVED.

Members of Congress on Mr. McKinley's Suggestion.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. The suggestion of the president looking to the care of the Confederate cemeteries by the Federal government aroused no little interest on the part of the senators and members of the house and was the subject of much quiet comment in the congressional cloak rooms. There was, of course, a divergence of opinion as to the merits of the suggestion, and this divergence was especially noticeable among republican senators and members.

There was none who did not attribute the sentiment to goodness of heart on the part of the president. Some of the republican senators, however, expressed doubt of the wisdom of the course, and while many of these stated their personal conviction that there was no harm in carrying the suggestion into execution, still they refrained from any expression of opinion on the ground that such expression would be misunderstood by their ex-soldier constituents. The democratic senators generally excused themselves from any expression of opinion on the subject. There were exceptions to the rule.

OPPOSED TO IMPERIALISM.

This the Declaration of the American Federation of Labor Yesterday.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., December 16.—At its annual convention yesterday the American Federation of Labor declared by a almost unanimous vote against a standing army for the United States, which is in reality recognized as a protest against expansion, or the spirit of imperialism, as it was termed by the delegates. This action was taken after five hours of debate on every phase of the question. Before adjournment President Gompers read a telegram from Atlanta, Ga., stating that the trade unionists there had refused to take part in a peace jubilee for which colored trade unionists had been excluded and concluded with these words: "The color line is not drawn in labor unions of the South."

Should be Mustered Out.

WASHINGTON, December 16.—Being approached as to his attitude concerning the volunteer soldiers, Colonel W. J. Bryan yesterday expressed himself in part as follows:

"The volunteers should be mustered out at the earliest possible moment. They enlisted for war when soldiers were needed for active service, and many did so with great pecuniary and personal sacrifice. To hold them in the service for garrison duty would be a gross injustice."

Dr. Hoge's Illness Hopeless.

RICHMOND, Va., December 16.—The condition of the venerable Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge continues critical. His recovery is no longer expected.

The Return Trip.

The schedule of the return trip of the presidential train from Atlanta to Washington has been published. It shows that the train will pass through Greensboro at 3:30 o'clock on next Tuesday morning.

Eighth Grade Debate.

At West End graded school this afternoon the boys and girls of the eighth grade, had a very lively time discussing the following question:

Resolved, that women should be allowed to vote in all elections.

The girls upheld the affirmative, while the boys spoke on the negative. The judges decided that the affirmative had the advantage of the argument and the girls are much pleased with their victory over the boys. Sharpe Ireland made the best speech. This is the last debate of the fall term.

K. of P. Officers.

Damon Lodge No. 41, Knights of Pythias, at their meeting last night, elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing six months:

- W. M. Hendren, C. C.
- T. L. Farrow, V. C.
- A. B. Bynum, Prelate.
- A. C. Green, M. of W.
- R. C. Taylor, M. of P.
- C. D. Cromer, M. of E.
- Will McGehee, K. of R. and S.
- E. L. Anderson, M. at A.
- J. C. Ferabee, I. G.
- J. A. Green, O. G.

These new officers will be installed on Thursday night, January 5th.

The lodge held a very large and enthusiastic meeting last night, at which Mr. Jordan, the celebrated dramatic reader, who appears at the Y. M. C. A. hall tonight, treated the membership to some very fine readings, of both a pathetic and humorous character.

Don't forget a Gilded Fool tonight at the Y. M. C. A.

An Interesting Belle.

We have been shown by Mr. L. F. Barnard, a bill made out in Nantucket in 1755, by Paul Bunker, a blacksmith, for work done for his great grandfather, Francis Barnard, at that date.

The items include hinges, rings and chains, horse shoeing, etc., and $3, 80, dth. It is made out and receipt d in cny plate on thick paper, yellow with age. This ought to be framed and placed with the Wachovia Historical Society for preservation.

Imp Part to the Book Lovers of Winston Salem.

Regarding the public sale of books advertised by posters and handbills, a word of explanation:

It is to be no cheap John affair, in matter or in the manner of conducting it. I have used great care, and my best judgment in selecting everything from the finest bound works down to a cheaper grade. I have rented the neatest store in the best section of the town I could possibly find.

While all who love books are cordially invited I propose to have everything conducted as quietly, genteelly and neatly as in your first class business houses. Consequently no loud, how-ever fastidious, need hesitate to attend my sales—This I guarantee.

I will not only have all books usually found in a first class book store, but many impossible to find there.

In histories and dictionaries, I am peculiarly fortunate in obtaining a large lot of each at ruinous prices.

You will find it very much to your interest to await my coming Thursday Dec. 20th. Sale to last three days. Store rooms 45 Liberty street, West, one block from court house.

Very respectfully,
H. A. C. PROFFER.

Best Preserve this for reference.

Death of a Good Lady.

Miss Victoria Holder, aged 83 years died at 8 o'clock last night at the home of Mr. H. S. Child, in Salem. The funeral services were conducted by Bishop Rothbauer, at the residence at 4 o'clock this afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in Moravian graveyard.
