THE CLOCK IS ABOUT TO STRIKE.

Davidson Must Have Twenty Thousand Dollars by Wednesday Morning—Campaign for Quarter of a Million Endowment About to Close—What Will the Story be on Wednesday Morning—Davidson Men Come to the Rescue.

Editor Tribune:

On Tuesday, May 31st, the campaign for raising the quarter of a million dollars for Davidson College will end. All notes and pledges must be in the hands of the treasurer by June 1st. The last few days of the canvass will be strenuous ones, for the report yesterday was to effect that $20,000 remains to be secured. It is a question of raising this and securing a half million dollars for the institution with such a glorious past and such a promising future. The future of this great college is in the balance. It is up to the friends of Davidson to make every hour of these few days count and count large. The money can be raised if every one does a large DUTY. To every old Davidson boy, every friend of the college! Get busy! Remember that the eyes of the world are on this move; it must not fail, cannot if every one does three days full time in the interest of the college. You old Davidson day, what are you going to do? Do this—give Davidson Monday and Tuesday. Give it Sunday in prayer. The clock is about to strike. Davidson is facing a crisis. If you have kept up you know what this means.

Tell every friend of Davidson what it means. Remember Tuesday is the last day for working, the count on Wednesday, June 1st will tell the story. What will the story be? Will there be sorrow or rejoicing on the old campus on Wednesday?

Twenty Thousand Dollars.

Twenty thousand dollars is needed. If secured Davidson gets a quarter of a million; if not raised she gets not a cent.

With the full amount what cannot Davidson do for the South? How much is hanging on this twenty thousand? Where could you put money to do more good? Think of investing where every dollar will be working for the good of the rising generations long after the giver is gathered for all eternity. But it is too late to argue these things, what is needed now are good size pledges to cut down this twenty thousand. Let's get a good sized slice of this for Concord.

Every Davidson boy and every friend of the college is being called on for something done in the interest of the old college. We must not fail. CLASS 1893.

Sentiment Runs High Against Brutal Negro.

That the sentiment is still running high against Will Ross, charged with an attempted assault upon a young woman near Fort Mill, S. C., Wednesday afternoon, was evidenced at a late hour Thursday night, when two strange white men appeared at the Good Samaritan hospital in Charlotte where Ross is being treated and demanded admittance to the wounded man's room. The matron of the hospital refused the admittance, at which they displayed some temper and determination to get into the room. The matron held her ground firmly and finally the two men left the hospital. The matron has asked the police department for protection for her patient. Every assurance was given that the hospital would be protected.

Young Beel in Spencer.

Young Beel, of Atlanta, known in the athletic world as the "German wild cat" wrestler, visited Spencer Thursday, giving an exhibition on the streets of his wonderful strength and skill. With apparent ease he carried two big men on his shoulders and stretching himself on the ground with arms extended upward he bore the weight of three heavy men on a horizontal bar. Beel is scheduled to meet young Nero, of Washington, on the mat in Salisbury next Monday night, May 30th, in a match in catch-as-catch-can. Many visitors will be in Salisbury to witness the match.

A telegram received this morning by Mrs. W. E. Harris from her son Mr. Theodore Harris, who has been in Asheville for several days with his father, says that Mr. Harris has closed the trade for a furniture business there, and that hereafter the name of the firm will be The Harris Furniture Co. Mr. Harris and his son will conduct the business, and Mrs. Harris and children will soon follow them to Asheville.

MRS. COLTRANE TO ENTERTAIN

The Missionary Societies of Central Church in Honor of Mrs. W. H. Leith.

On Monday afternoon at 3:30 the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Ladies Aid and Home Mission Society will hold a joint meeting at Mrs. D. B. Coltrane's residence. The object of this meeting is to hear the report of the delegates from Waynesville and to have Mrs. Leith address the ladies on the Missionary Council established by the recent General Conference in Asheville. This, of course, is of vital interest to both home and foreign workers since it unites the general boards under which these societies work.

At 4:30 the young peoples societies, Golden Links and Light Bearers, will be invited to join the ladies and meet Mrs. Leith, the organizer of their work in Concord sixteen years ago. An interesting letter from Miss Tuttle, the missionary now working in China through the support of these societies, will be read to the young folks. An informal reception will follow.

Judge Who Sentenced Night Riders Terrorized.

Tiptonville, Tenn., Dispatch.

Feeling that his only hope of protection is in fighting his enemies with their own weapons, Judge Harris, of Tiptonville, has planted bombs about his home here, connected with an electric battery inside the house, and only to be exploded by the pressure of one of many buttons in different parts of the house.

Judge Harris has also appealed to the Federal authorities, asking for their assistance against his enemies. The enemies in question are the friends of the eight men convicted of the murder of Capt. Quentin Rankin, who was killed at Reel Foot Lake by night riders two years ago. Judge night riders two years ago. Judge eight men were convicted of murder. Later the Supreme Court of Tennessee reversed the decision and committed the men to jail.

Their friends have sent notices to Judge Harris warning him to take care and saying they are going to kill him. He returned from Memphis last evening and found that many outrages had been committed about his home in his short absence. The men who have warned him say that they have bombs which will blow him to eternity.

Rev. L. S. Massey Elected Editor Raleigh Christian Advocate.

News and Observer, 27th.

At a meeting last night of the commission chosen by the North Carolina Conference, Rev. L. S. Massey, of Oxford, was elected editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Rev. T. N. Ivey, D. D., at the General Conference at Asheville, to the editorship of the Nashville Christian Advocate, the organ of the Methodist Church, South. A telephone message was sent to Mr. Massey informing him of the appointment and he notified the members of the commission that he would accept.

Mr. Massey, who is called to the editorship of the Advocate from the pastorate at Oxford, is one of the leading preachers in the North Carolina Conference and has held important charges on account of his ability as a preacher and a scholar.

Dr. Ivey will leave Monday for Nashville to enter upon his new work. With him he will carry the prayers and good wishes of his hundreds of friends in Raleigh and throughout North Carolina, all of whom regret to see him leave the community in which he has long resided and is loved by the people, but wish for him success and happiness in his larger field of usefulness.

It Takes "Chunking Up."

Charlotte Chronicle.

Addressing itself to the State Corporation Commission, The Statesville Landmark says: "The plans for the Statesville passenger station were approved and accepted after long delay. Will actual work begin on the building this year or some other year? Is the power of the Corporation Commission exhausted when plans are made? An early reply will be appreciated." Good. In behalf of the general traveling public, which wants to see something done at Statesville, other than graveling the train yard and painting the shack, The Chronicle expresses satisfaction to see the manifestation of some impatience on the part of The Landmark. If it is to be the beginning of a chunking-up campaign we will soon see something doing in the matter of a new depot for Statesville.

Miss Myrtle Pemberton, of Converse College, will spend today and tomorrow in Charlotte, the guest of Miss Beatrice Blake. Miss Pemberton and Blake will spend Davidson's commencement.

Mrs. W. E. Harris Entertains Members of Her Club.

Mrs. W. E. Harris entertained the Virginia Dare Book Club yesterday afternoon. The last regular meeting of the club had already been held, but this was a special meeting arranged by Mrs. Harris before she leaves for her new home at Asheville. She invited the members to come and bring their thimbles to spend an hour with her in sewing and social intercourse. Twelve members of the club were present, namely:

Mesdames R. A. Brown, M. B. Stickley, J. B. Sherrill, J. E. Smoot, Jno. M. Cook, J. L. Hartsell, W. D. Pemberton, H. M. Propst, G. H. Rutledge and Miss Josephine Smith. After a busy hour of work and bright chat had been consumed, Miss Isabelle Harris served a delightful luncheon. Each guest at leaving was presented with a booklet in the shape of a heart, on the last leaf of which was a small photo of Mrs. Harris, under which were the words: "Least you forget." Mrs. Harris has been one of the most active and valuable members of the club, and she will be greatly missed there, as well as in other circles in Concord.

ROLLING PIN KILLS BURGLAR.

Thief is Knocked Through Window of Woman to Yard Below.
New York Dispatch, 26th.

"I think a burglar is dead in the courtyard," declared Mrs. Dora Geitman to two policemen attracted to her apartment on the third floor, at 296 Delancey street, today, by her cries. "I caught him in my room, hit him with a rolling pin and knocked him out the window."

The amazed policemen stared at the woman, who is not only young, but good-looking. Then they went down in the courtyard and found a man lying there dead. The officers recognized him as Lewis Glatch, long suspected of being a leader of East Side thieves. They sent the body to the Morgue in a patrol wagon and asked Mrs. Geitman for particulars.

"I woke up about daylight," she said, "and saw a man looking over my jewelry, which was on the bureau. I jumped out of bed and threw a cuspidor at him. It knocked him down, but he jumped up and grappled with me. We struggled through the room into the kitchen and I dragged myself away from him and slammed and locked the kitchen door, which stood open. He ran into the bedroom toward the window opening on the fire escape and I snatched the rolling-pin and went after him. In front of the window I caught him again and hit him with the rolling pin. He went through the window carrying the glass with him, and then I called the police."

Glatch had "sneaks" on and in his pockets was found jewelry which was later identified as belonging to Miss Bertha Berkenholz, a boarder in the Geitman house. Mrs. Geitman was not arrested.

Dastardly Crime Attempted Near Bessemer City.

A dispatch from Bessemer City to yesterday's Charlotte News says: No trace whatsoever was found of the white man who yesterday afternoon attempted to criminally assault Miss Carrie Bell, of Bessemer City, after an all night search.

Excitement today has largely died down. Over one hundred men participated in the man hunt yesterday, and officers scoured the country until 5 o'clock this morning.

Suspicion hangs on young Blackwood. He is reported to have been seen in the woods near where the attempted crime occurred shortly after it was reported, although no positive evidence has been secured connecting him with the offense. However, officers today are vigilantly seeking Blackwood on another charge, that of store breaking. For some time he has been dodging authorities. Authorities in Gastonia, Charlotte and other nearby towns have been advised to be on the lookout for him. Blackwood is 20 years old, weight 140 pounds, has prominent cheek bones, and a bad eye.

Miss Bell, the victim of the attempted assault, is a daughter of John Bell, of this place. She was working on their farm on the outskirts of town when a white man approached, seized her by the arms, and dragged her into a thicket nearby. Her screams attracted two farmers ploughing in a field nearby. They rushed to the rescue, before Miss Bell had been injured, and, on hearing their approach, the would-be assailant dashed into the woods.

Considerable excitement was stirred on hearing the report, and immediately posse were organized, blood hounds secured, and the search commenced. No trace, however, could be found. Miss Bell is feeling well today.

Suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism, United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, of South Carolina, arrived in Atlanta Thursday night and was at once taken to a local hospital for treatment. Dr. W. W. Blackburn, who has Senator Tillman in charge, says there is no connection whatever between the rheumatic attack, for which night traveling and platform work is greatly responsible, and the stroke of paralysis for which the Senator was treated here last May.

Armistead Burwell, Jr., who has again entered the New York to Atlanta automobile tour from Atlanta to New York, has received a telegram stating that Charlotte had been definitely decided upon as a night control and requesting reservations be made at the Charlotte hotels for 250 visitors on the night of June 7. The autoists will leave Atlanta Monday morning, June 8.
