

Delicately Formed

and gently reared, women will find in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives and mothers, that the one simple, wholesome laxative remedy, which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally and which may be taken at any time, when the system needs a laxative, with perfect safety and really beneficial effects, is Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

It has that true delicacy of flavor which is so refreshing to the taste, that warming and grateful toning to the stomach which responds so favorably to its action and the laxative effect which is so beneficial to the system when, occasionally, its gentle cleansing is required.

The genuine, always bearing the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., may be purchased from all leading druggists in original packages of one size only, price fifty cents per bottle.

GOOD ROADS AND ECONOMY.

Impassable Highways Cost American Farmers Untold Millions.

There is no difference among well informed people as to the cost of bad roads, nor is there any longer a question as to where the burden of the cost is most severely felt. There are hauled over the country roads of the United States every year 265,000,000 tons of produce, equal to 30 per cent of the railway tonnage of the country. The average haul from farm to railway is 9.4 miles, and the cost per ton per mile is between 23 and 25 cents. In Germany over better roads the cost is 10 cents per ton per mile at the maximum and 7 cents per ton per mile at the minimum. The loss suffered by the American farmer and consumer, figured on the basis of the German wagon road toll, is immense. If it were saved from year to year it would soon constitute a fund sufficient to improve all of the common highways of the country.

L. W. Page, who has collected a great deal of valuable information on this subject and who talks about road improvement intelligently and reasonably, is not among those who clamor for the federalization of the highways. On the contrary, he deprecates the all too prevalent idea that nothing can be done in this country until the federal government puts its hand to the wheel or its hand into its pocket. The states, in his opinion, should take the initiative or at least prove their sincerity by setting an example for the national government.

TERRIBLE STRAIN RESULTED NOT AMISS

A Lenoir Lady, After Two Weeks Grinding Labor, Feels Better Than Ever.

Lenoir, N. C.—"I am not tired at all, and am stouter than I have ever been," writes Mrs. Kate Waters, of Lenoir, N. C., "although I have just finished a two weeks' wash. I lay my strength to Cardui, the woman's tonic. I have taken a lot of it and I can never praise it enough for what it has done for me. I can never thank you enough for the advice you gave me, to take Cardui, for since taking it I look so well and am stout as a mule."

You are urged to take Cardui, that gentle, vegetable tonic, for weak women. Its use will strengthen and build up your system, relieve or prevent headache, backache and the ailments of weak women.

It will surely help you, as it has helped thousands of others, in the past 50 years.

THE MARINER'S COMPASS.

Influences that Draw It from Its Allegiance to the Magnetic Pole.

Nothing in the navigational equipment of a ship has been the subject of more anxious scientific research or receives more jealous care than the mariner's compass, says the Windsor Magazine.

The popular notion of the compass needle always pointing north and south is—well, more inaccurate than even popular notions usually are. Even under the most favorable conditions there are only certain places upon the surface of the earth where the compass needle does point north and south, and it is quite safe to say that such conditions are never found on board of any ship.

But we must go further and say that no more unfavorable position could be found for a compass than on board a modern steamship, which is a complicated mass of steel, all tending to draw the compass needle from its allegiance to the magnetic pole of the earth, warring influences which must needs be counteracted by all sorts of devices which hedge round the instrument by an invisible wall of conflicting currents of magnetism.

And as if this were not enough there are now huge dynamos to be reckoned with, producing electric currents for all sorts of purposes on board. In the midst of these mystic currents the poor little compass needle, upon which the mariner depends for his guide across the trackless deep, hangs suspended like one shrinking saint surrounded by legions of devils.

That the largest room in the world under one roof and unbroken by pillars is in St. Petersburg. It is 620 feet long by 150 feet in breadth. By daylight it is used for military displays, and a whole battalion completely maneuver in it. By night 20,000 wax tapers give it a beautiful appearance. The roof is a single arch of iron.

Chinese History.

Chinese history dates back to 2637 B. C. when the people were made up into clans or tribes and were ruled by a sovereign who was chosen by his subjects as the one most worthy to rule. This was followed by the feudal system, which continued for nearly twenty centuries and was similar to the feudal system in Europe in medieval times. By 403 B. C. China was divided into seven great states and each state was contending for the supremacy. In 221 B. C. the king of Tsing was victorious and he assumed the title of Hwang Ti, or Emperor. This enterprising and far-seeing ruler decided that as there was but one sun in the heavens so that should be but one ruler in China, and with his reign the present imperial form of government was founded. The reigning dynasty dates from 1643. The great wall was erected in 214 B. C. It is about 1500 miles long with a breadth of twenty-five feet at the base and fifteen feet at the top. The height varies from fifteen to thirty feet.

Gymnastics of the Eye.

I, too, see that painting and sculpture are gymnastics of the eye, its training to the niceties and curiosities of its function. There is no statue like this living man, with his infinite advantage over all ideal sculptures, of perpetual variety. What a gallery of art have I here! No mannerist made these varied groups and diverse original single figures. Here is the artist himself improving, grim and glad, at his block. Now one thought strikes him, now another, and with each moment he alters the whole air, attitude and expression of his clay. Away with your nonsense of oil and emulsion, of marble and chisels; except to open your eyes to the witchcraft of eternal art, they are hypocritical rubbish. — Ralph Waldo Emerson.

An Adventurer.

The skyscraper has at last reached the limit. "You are quite a traveler, I hear?" remarked the man who lived on the ninety-sixth floor of the Skyby hotel. "Yes," replied the man who lived on the 136th floor, "though less than 40 years old I have already visited every floor of this building."—Kansas City Times.

Force of Habit.

An Atchison man married a school-teacher, and he says that for three years whenever the school bells would ring she would set up like the horses at the fire department when the fire-whistle blows. — Atchison Globe.

WESTERN STANLEY.

Mrs. G. E. Love and Miss Minnie visited in Albemarle this week. Mr. Dave Yow and daughter, Miss Lessie, spent Friday night in Concord. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Coley and Mr. and Mrs. John Burris, of Harrisburg, visited friends in this community last week.

On last Friday morning the entire community was shocked by the sad death of John Love, the son of M. P. Love, who committed suicide by hanging himself. When the family arose his body was discovered hanging to a shade tree in their yard. He had been troubled with insanity for some time. The remains were interred at Love's cemetery Friday evening. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

The Conservation of Nature's Resources.

Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. J. Budlong, Washington, R. I. realized his condition, and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late." Cabarrus Drug Co. Concord.

Mrs. Bacon—What's your husband laughing at?

Mrs. Egbert—At your baby. He says it's funny looking."

"Funny looking? Why, the little fellow's got more hair on his head than your husband has got on his!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Scared into Sound Health.

Mr. B. F. Kelley, Springfield, Ill., writes: "A year ago I began to be troubled with my kidneys and bladder which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered also with dull heavy headaches and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley's Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me, the action of my bladder was again normal, and I was free from all distress." Cabarrus Drug Co.

"So you are all ready to go to house-keeping?"

"Oh yes," replied Mrs. Younglove. "Charley's friends at the office have made him a present of a beautiful alarm clock, and I have a splendid nickel plated chafing dish."—Chicago Record-Herald.

What a Summer Cold May Do.

A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold in the system. Cabarrus Drug Co.

A little girl of four years, having written a letter consisting simply of zigzag lines, asked her papa to post it. "What do you say?" asked papa. "I don't know," said Rosamond. "Why, you wrote it!" said papa. "Yes, but I did not read it," was the innocent reply.
