Lutheran Minister Visits Concord.

Rev. C. P. MacLaughlin, of Myersville, Pa., preached yesterday morning and evening at St. James Lutheran church. A call from this church has been extended to Mr. MacLaughlin, and he was invited by the congregation to preach here yesterday. He was greeted with a large audience at both services and made a fine impression on his congregations. More about Mr. MacLaughlin's visit to Concord will appear in our next issue from the pen of one of the members of St. James church.

Rev. T. W. Smith preached twice yesterday, conducted a funeral service and performed a marriage ceremony. While he has no regular pastorate, he is one of the busiest ministers either in town or country.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer: Mr. Karl T. Johnson, formerly of Charlotte, but now of Enid, Okla., reached here yesterday to spend several weeks with his parents. His mother has been quite ill for the past ten days but her condition is somewhat improved.

Rev. John N. Cole, superintendent of the orphanage at Raleigh, preached at Central Methodist church here yesterday, morning and night. Mr. Durham was too unwell to come home to preach. He and Mrs. Durham are now at Mr. Cole's in Raleigh, and are expected home in a day or so.

Mr. Geo. W. Edwards died yesterday afternoon at his home on Franklin avenue, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Edwards was 65 years of age and a native of Union county. He moved to Concord several years ago and since that time he has been employed in one of the mills here. He is survived by his wife and several children. The funeral services will be held at the home tomorrow morning, after which the interment will be made at Rocky Ridge.

Mrs. Jacob Correll, one of the oldest and most estimable ladies of her section of the county, died last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of her son near China Grove. She was 87 years of age and had been in feeble health for several years. She is survived by seven children, 49 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren. The funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at Zion church by Rev. T. W. Smith.

Rev. Plato Durham preached in Raleigh yesterday. The News and Observer publishes a column synopsis of the sermon, prefacing it with the following: "It was a large and appreciative congregation that heard Rev. Plato T. Durham, of Concord, at Edenton Street Methodist church yesterday morning. The speaker, always a favorite in Raleigh, more than sustained his reputation as a preacher of power who puts thought into his preaching and compels his hearers to think."

Rev. Mr. Simpson to Remain Here.
Rev. J. W. Simpson announced to his congregation yesterday morning that he had declined the call recently tendered him by the Associate Reformed church at Corsicana, Tex., and would remain in Concord. The Texas church made a strong effort to secure Mr. Simpson as their pastor and made him many flattering inducements, and in declining their call he does so at a large financial sacrifice. The charge here was Mr. Simpson's first work after joining the ministry and his success has been remarkable. When he came here the church only had thirteen members and from that small number they have erected a handsome church and have a congregation that is gradually growing. Mr. Simpson's many friends will be delighted to know of his decision.

Mr. John M. Winecoff Dead.
Mr. Jno. M. Winecoff, a native of this city, died yesterday afternoon at the State hospital, at Morganton. He was about fifty years of age and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Winecoff, both of whom are dead. He was reared in this city and up to the time he was about 30 years old he engaged in farming. His mind became impaired and for the past 20 years he has been confined in the State hospital for the insane. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Freeman, of High Point, and Mrs. Jno. W. Fetzer, of Baltimore. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at St. James Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. C. P. MacLaughlin.

Suspended the Chief of Police in Charlotte.

The Democratic primaries in Mecklenburg county Saturday attracted widespread interest. The greatest interest was taken in the race between D. B. Smith and F. M. Shannonhouse, candidates for the office of solicitor. Both have many staunch friends who put up a game fight for their choice.

At the city hall Saturday afternoon Smith, who is the city recorder, and T. M. Christenbury, chief of police, engaged in a fight, in which no serious damage was done. The chief called Smith a liar and Smith went at him like a bull at a red flag. Friends parted them before anything more than a few scratches had been made. Smith, however, put an umbrella out of business, and the chief was suspended from office until Wednesday night by the executive board which took up the matter.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League announces the selection of Editor R. F.
