

Receipt That Cures Weak Men--Free

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, falling memory and lame back, brought on by excess, unregular hours, or the follies of youth, that has cured as many weak and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and vitality, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow men to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, up-building, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson 4812, Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge.

City Pressing Clut

D. B. FOWLKES, Manager.

As the world goes around and around, You hear the iron ring of its sound, Long Pants made short, square coats made round, Remember that Paul is still in town. After the needle and the machine, Then the clothes are sponged and cleaned, Coats pressed nicely and pants in a crease, Think of the presser last but not least.

Gratefully,
DAN & PAUL.

A CURE FOR PELLAGRA THAT WILL SOBERLY CURE.

This is the Claim Made by a Spartanburg Physician—Treatment is Bath or Severe, However.

A cure for pellagra that cures is what Dr. A. D. Cudd, one of the staff physicians of the Good Samaritan hospital of this city, says the Spartanburg Herald, believes he has discovered. The treatment begins with an operation. The appendix is delivered and the end clipped. Through the opening medicine is injected by means of a tube into the big intestine. The wound caused by the operation appears on the outside just as the wound resulting from an operation for appendicitis. After the operation the tube is inserted in the end of the appendix sack twice a day and the big entail thoroughly flooded with medicine that kills the germ which causes pellagra.

Some days ago Mrs. Packett, of Whitney, was dismissed from the hospital, to all appearances cured of the dread disease of pellagra. The new treatment was given her, and her case was of a chronic nature, and of more than ten years standing. All symptoms of the disease were banished and she went home apparently a well woman.

Mrs. Minnie Davis, of Paolet, is now taking the same treatment at the Good Samaritan hospital. She has one of the most typical of acute cases of pellagra. Yesterday afternoon she was seen by a reporter and he heard the story from her own lips. Mrs. Davis said that her hands were as black and crusty as if she had dipped them in tar, and that this affection was also beginning to appear on her neck when ten days ago she was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital. Her appetite was such that she cared for no food. Her tongue was coated and her bowel condition was bad. The thick coat of crust-like skin is now peeled off, and her hands and neck look fair. Her appetite is good and she eats whatever she likes.

A Notre Dame Lady's Appeal.

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbagos, backache, pains in the kidneys or neuralgia pains to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these tortures. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood, and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. If the above interests you, for proof address Mrs. M. Summers, Box R, Notre Dame, Ind.

Next Year's Corn Crop.

Asheville Gazette News.

J. F. Batts, of Wake county, who produced last year 261 2-3 bushels of corn on one acre of ground, used a stiff, dark, sandy upland, top soil about 12 inches deep, yellow subsoil about ten inches deep and red clay below. This land the previous year was sown in wheat and yielded about eight bushels to the acre. This crop was followed by peas, and 2500 or 3000 pounds of pea vine hay was cut and fed to cattle. Manure spreading on the land was begun the following March.

There will certainly be corn contests next year, if we have another year; and doubtless there will be cash prizes and other valuable prizes offered. It is by no means too early to begin thinking about what acre of ground you will select for next year, and what method of treatment you are going to give it. Of course we shall know more about how to handle the crop after we get reports from this year's experiments in this section.

"Foley's Kidney Pills Have Cured Me."

The above is a quotation from a letter written by H. M. Walker, Evansville, Ind. "I contracted a severe case of kidney trouble. My back gave out and I was in pain. I seemed to have lost all strength and ambition; was bothered with dizzy spells, my head would swim and speak dead before my eyes. I took Foley's Kidney Pills regularly like a new man. BOYS' CORN CLUBS.

Growth of Popular Movement of State Agricultural Department.

Speaking of the boys' corn club work of the State Department of Agriculture, Capt. T. S. Parker, who is in charge of this work, says it is having a most remarkable growth and is proving probably the most popular that the Department of Agriculture has ever inaugurated, all this, too within eighteen months of its inception. There are now 1,500 boys in 74 counties registered for these corn growing contests this season. Letters from these boys, Captain Parker says, give the gratifying evidence of their purpose to stick to the farm. For premiums in this work the state department has appropriated $500; J. R. Smith, of Richmond, Va. has donated $200; a fertilizer company has donated $100; another has given five tons of fertilizer; the Norfolk & Southern Railroad Company has offered a silver cup as a trophy, the name of the boy that wins it each year to be engraved on it, the cup to be ultimately placed in the State museum. The Progressive Farmer has offered $1,000 in prizes; a number of other newspapers in various parts of the State have offered prizes in their respective localities and these are supplemented by contributions from bankers, merchants, manufacturers and other enterprising citizens making a great number of attractive prizes for boys who may not win one of the prizes of the board of agriculture. Mr. Parker says this corn growing contest among the farmer boys is sweeping the state and will surely bring to the front a harvest of the most promising corn growers the state has ever had.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many a Concord Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it, The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Concord people testify to this.

A. H. March, 91 N. Union street, Concord, N. C., says: "I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know that they are a reliable kidney remedy. During recent years, I had a great deal of trouble from my kidneys, the principal symptom being a retention of the kidney secretions. I was advised to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial and procured a box at Gibson's Drug Store. I had taken them but a short time before I noticed their good effect. They soon restored my kidneys to their normal condition and also improved my health."

Is Life Worth Living?"

Mrs. Mollie McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes that she had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble, and that four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured her sound and well. She closes her letter by saying: "I heartily recommend Foley's Kidney to any sufferer of kidney disease. It saved my life." Cabarrus Drug Co.

True consistency is a jewel; and the most charming women display the least jewelry.

Must Be Above Suspicion.

Kidney and bladder ailments are so serious in their consequences, and if unchecked so often fatal that any remedy offered for their cure must be above suspicion. Foley's Kidney Pills contain no harmful drugs, and have successfully stood a long and thorough test. Cabarrus Drug Co.

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney and bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. Cabarrus Drug Co.

NEED ANY GOLD? HERE IS RECIPE. But It Will Cost You Quadruple Price to Make.

FORMULA FOR MAKING GOLD WHICH ANY ONE MAY USE.

Place in a crucible, Ditzon black lead preferred, the following ingredients: Five assay tons of rolled sulphur; 5 A. T. antimony, ground to a mesh of 100 fine; 3 A. T. card teeth or piano wire; 3 A. T. lamp-black or other carbon; cover with caustic soda; lute on cover with ashes and fire clay; bind with strong steel wire. Place this in furnace at not less than 1,500 F. for one hour. Though antimony suffices at 90 F., 5 A. T. of antimony will be found in a button. Grind this to 100 mesh just as you would for any ordinary assay, then dress with a p. test lead and scorify and cupel. The result will be a bead of almost pure gold, though perhaps a little silver will be found with the button. This is parted in the usual way and the amount of gold determined.

Since the published description of the processes of Dr. Frederick W. Lange, the Scranton (Pa.) physician who claims to have discovered the long sought secret of transmuting base metals into silver, a great number of chemists and metallurgists have come forward with statements denunciatory of Dr. Lange's claims, declaring the transmutation of metals to be an utter impossibility.

One man who asserts gold can be made is Austin Granville, a New York mechanical engineer, who gives a formula and the following history of successful experiments:

Claims Brice Did It.

"Upon reading the articles upon the manufacture of silver by Dr. Frederick W. Lange of Scranton, Pa., my attention was attracted to one which had reference to the experiments made several years ago by E. C. Brice, who claimed to be able to transmute the base into the nobler metals and who actually did successfully make, to my own knowledge, upon several occasions antimonial oxides from chemically pure materials which rendered up, under the well known processes of scorification and cupellation, weighable quantities of gold of a fineness of $22.67 per ounce.

"After a severe examination of Mr. Brice's claims by experts in chemistry and metallurgy I took Mr. Brice down to see Lyman J. Gage, then secretary of the treasury. Mr. Gage consented to the appointment of a commission. The treasury laboratory was placed at our disposal for three weeks. Several demonstrations were made by Mr. Brice under conditions which did not admit of any chicanery. On several occasions gold beads were obtained from chemically pure materials. Mr. Brice quarreled with one of the commissioners, and the government refused to go further with the experiments.

Process Too Expensive.

"Mr. Brice and I returned to Chicago, where, with several friends, I raised the necessary capital for him to equip a factory, where many small ingots of gold were made, the shares of the company going to fabulous prices. Mr. Brice, however, failed to make the gold in paying quantities, every dollar's worth he produced costing quadruple its value.

"Brice's theory was that sulphur contained gold and was the matrix of that metal, much as aluminum is today obtained from bauxite. Any chemist who will try out the laboratory formula given herewith can convince himself that Brice's process was scientifically correct, though one may doubt its commercial utility."

Berliner Provided For Beer, Englishman Wine, For Friends.

Not long ago a Berlin manufacturer left $2,500, the interest of which is to be spent on the free distribution of beer weekly to the frequenters of his favorite beerhaus. More recently a testator at Tunbridge Wells, England, left eleven friends $500 apiece "to invest in port wine or anything else they like."

John Redman, a friend of Charles James Fox, who died in 1798, by a codicil in his will enjoined his executors to keep his house on for at least a year after his decease and to visit it frequently, taking friends with them, "that each corner may be filled to help drink out the wine in the vault."

He added that, "holding my executors in such esteem, I desire them to pay all the legacies without the wicked swindling and base imposition of stamps that smell of blood and carnage."

Whaling Industry Revived.

New Bedford is experiencing a revival of the whaling industry. Nine whalers left the port on one day last month, two of them bound for the West African coast.

A Few Short Weeks.

Mr. J. S. Bartell, Edwardsville, Ill., writes: "A few months ago my kidneys became congested. I had severe backache and pain across the kidneys and hips. Foley's Kidney Pills rected the action of my kidneys. This was brought about after my using them only a few short weeks. I can cheerfully recommend them." Cabarrus Drug Co.

Itch cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Never fails. Sold by M. L. Marsh, druggist.
