Some time ago the Greensboro News said of Mr. D. H. Blair, the Republican nominee for Congress in the fifth district:

"And Col. David Hamilton Blair will take the best he can get in any department of the State or National Government, provided always, that there is lucre, filthy or otherwise, in the job. David is always on deck if the transportation is arranged and there are no extra charges."

The Democratic papers all speak of friends. Mr. Blair as a "first-rate gentleman" and the only derogatory word we have seen published about him is the above from the only Republican daily paper in the State.

Candidates Doughton and Cowles, Democratic and Republican nominees respectively for Congress in this district, met in Sparta, Alleghany county, Tuesday in joint discussion. The Republican editor of the Wilkes Patriot rushes a special to the daily papers saying that Doughton fell down deed, the only difference between this entirely before Cowles. Those who know the two men and who have heard both of them speak know this report is not correct. Give us the facts, and not the distorted opinion of a partisan whose thoughts are the children of his wishes and prejudices.

Lexington Dispatch.

If the prohibition laws are not enforced any better throughout the State than they are in Lexington and Davidson county, the law is undoubtedly the greatest farce of the age. Receives First Welcome Home From Central, Northern and Rocky Mountain People, Traversing Seventeen States.

By J. A. EDGERTON.

HE American people as a whole have long been waiting their chance to welcome Theodory Roosevelt home. Those of the Atlantic seaboard-or at least of the New York portion of it-have already had this opportunity. Now it com the turn of the central west, the Rocky mountains, the plains and so much of the rest of the universe as is described by the term "all over." So far as he recent turndowns he has received om the New York machine are conerned, they have not dampened the opular Roosevelt ardor. Rather they ave only whetted the western appete for his coming.

To a disinterested onlooker who is at all familiar with the political game and who is in the least informed as to the drift of sentiment throughout the country it would appear that Roosevelt luck was never more in evidence than in these latter days. The slaps he is getting from the bosses are just the things to make the mass of votors yell for him, vote for him and if nec essary fight for him. If he had arranged these things himself with an eye single to his future popularity he could not have done it better. At least that is the view of his particular Seventeen States Visited.

Starting from New York on Tuesday, Aug. 23, the Roosevelt itinerary covers nearly 5,500 miles. He traverses seventeen states, has twenty scheduled stops and fourteen regular speeches and is gone nearly three weeks. The formal talks represent but a fraction of those to be made, however, as there will be cheering throngs at every stop, and, given a combination of a shouting multitude, a rear platform and the colonel, only one result can follow. The speeches may not be long and may not say much about politics, but speeches there must be. Intour and one made while Roosevelt was an occupant of the White House is that this one is to be more noisy. It is a presidential tour plus.

In detail the itinerary of the trip is as follows: Leaving New York on the morning of Aug. 23, the first stop is at Utica, where the initial speech of the series-an address on the country life movement-is delivered before a Prohibition Law Ignored in Lexington | grange picnic. There is a day's stop in Utica, the departure being made at midnight on the 24th. Arriving at Buffalo, there is an hour between trains with breakfast at the Ellicott club. The trip to Chicago ends at 9 o'clock on the evening of the 25th with nearly a two hours' stop. Here the Hamilton Before prohibition became effective club has extended an invitation, the in this State, citizens of Lexington same club, by the way, that entertains eveit on I Windy City two weeks later. Leaving Chicago at 10:45, there is a thirty minutes' stop at Omaha on the afternoon of Aug. 26, after which the long run across the plains to Cheyenne is begun. Arriving at the Wyoming capital at 10 o'clock on Saturday, Aug. 27, the empyrean and all other rippable things will be torn into shreds.

Political Utterances of Great port Expected In View of obuffs Handed Him in Native State of lew York. ****

Colonel Roosevelt, who, though horn in the east and educated at Harvard. a scion of one of the oldest families of New York, is still the beau ideal of the transmissouri, the rough rider, the plaineman, the citizen of the world Cheyenne and the west feel the nor that the colonel has done them in accepting their hospitality before he accepted any other. They have re-turned the compliment by naming the last two days of their tournament "Roosevelt days." There the colonel meaks-presumably of his appreciation of the spirit of the west and of his own days on the ranch-and there he becomes the center of the wildest and most genuine welcome that an American citizen probably ever reoolved. By mere bulk and numbers it may have been dwarfed by the New Tork reception to the returned hunter. There were more whistles, more plug hats and possibly more of a parade at the metropolis. But in spontanelty and picturesqueness-aye, even in patrictic thrills-the palm must be given to Cheyenne.

Rides Plains Again.

While at the Wyoming capital the donel takes a horseback ride across the plains, and it will not be a molly-en. It may couse a blush to recall also that it was a clety of patriotic women who gave the home of Washington to the me-tion. Recurring to John Brown, his cabin and monument stand on the bat-tiefield. At Osawatomic Colonel Boosevelt will be speaking on insurgent ter-ritory. Amid such memories and ench surroundings he should utter some word of new and pregnant meaning to the American people. It is on the morning of Sept. 1 that Colonel Roosevelt leaves Osawat for Kansas City, arriving at soon. There he is the guest of the Commer-cial club and speaks at Convention hall. Then he turns north, arriving at Omaha the morning of Sept. 2 and leaving twenty-four hours later. At Sloux City there are a stop of forty-five minutes and an informal address. Sloux Faills, S. D., is reached at 4:20 in the afternoon. Here again the colonel will be in the land of the progressives.

Sioux Falls Once Famous.

In the old days Sionx Falls was famous for those who got unmarrie there, even as Reno is now. It is also celebrated as the home of R. F. Pettigrew and as the town in which a Populist national convention was once held in a tent. It is not probable that Colonel Roosevelt will refer to any of these things, and yet he may have something of interest to say in Bloux Falls. Leaving the South Dakota city on the morning of Sept. 4, the colone proceeds to Fargo, N. D., where he speaks on Labor day. Roosevelt should feel at home in Fargo, as it is situated in the same state as that in which he spent some of his days on the ranch. It is not until the morning of Sept. 6 that the colonel arrives in St. Paul. where he delivers the long heralded address before the conservation con-ing or sending to Salisbury for their "hoose," but since we have a prohibition law, liquor is hauled into town in broad, open daylight and sold by the jugful in less than one hundred vards from Main street, almost as bliely as farmers sell sweet cider. publicly as farmers set competition. g the blind tigers of the town that blind tigering has become poor business. P. Pollin But the

"Frontier Days" Cause of Trip.

Cheyenne is not only the feature of the tour, but the reason for its existence. The invitation to its "frontier days" celebration was accepted in Egypt, the first American date made by Colonel Roosevelt after his emergence from the African jungle. "Frontier days" is a chapter out of the book of the old west. It has come to be a national event and is attended even by people from foreign lands. It is a meeting of the cowboys from all the states and territories where cowboys still flourish. It is a real wild west show by men and horses fresh and on their mettle. In it men from Texas meet those from Oregon, the event of the year for all the riders in the short grass territory.

Imagine the appeal that such an event would make to Colonel Ro valti Go? Why, of course he would go. He had himself been a cowboy in Montans. Anything that smacked of the old life was as meat and drink. And so after his trouncings by the machine in his own state he is on his way to the west-the big and virile west that loves him as its very own.

Real West at Cheyenne.

At "frontier days" the most inc rigible of the outlaw horses are roped and ridden, the biggest storrs are las-seed and tied in the guickest time, the st races are run, the best cowoys and cowgitis of the west com-ste and take prizes. In fact, it is an eccasion that runs to superintives as aturally as the sparks for upward. At frontier, dars" frontier days" the cowboy cham-ionship of the world is decided. These Lo, the poor Indian," foregathers and offs his civilized attired for the hubble doffs his civilized attired for the habili-ments of his forofathers. At "fron-ties days" comes in the incarnation of the old west-likewise of the new. Automobile races are ron-does that not seem a sacrilege?- and Mr. Upto-date rube shoulders with the atdent inhabitant. coddle ride at that. It will be a reminder of one of those dear old Virginia cross country gallops that used to give nervous prostration to the army officers.

On Sunday, Aug. 28, Colonel Roose velt is the guest of Governor Brooks of Wyoming and early Monday morn ing starts for Denver. It is safe to say that on this trip a large section of Cheyenne will go with him. For one thing the rough riders and Spanish Way Veterans will feel it their bounden and patriotic duty to form an escort, and as many cowboys will follow as have the price. After Mr. Roosevelt reaches the Colorado capital at 10:30 in the morning the programme is as follows He will be met at the Union station by representatives of the state and city, the Live Stock association and the Spanish War Veterans.

Spanish War Veterans. Following a parade the former pres-ident will be the guest of the Denver Press club at a cowboy luncheon. At 2:30 o'clock he will address a public meeting under the ampices of the Colorado Live Stock association. At 5 o'clock he will address the Spanish War Veterans. At 6:30 he will be the guest of honor at a roundup dinner at El Jebel Temple. of the Mystic Shvine Leaving Denver on the morning of Aug. 30, the Roosevelt party proceeds to Pueblo, where a stop of nearly an hour is made. From that point the ourney again turns eastward, on the norning of Aug. S1 reaching Osawatnie, Kan.

Winits John Brown's Battlefield. On the site of the old battlefield, al-ready historic ground and liable to grow more historic with the passage of the years. Roosevelt will dedicate John Brown park. It has been fifty-four years since Brown made his stand against overwhelming odds at Onewstorde and over fifty years since he gave his life at Harpers Ferry. Madman he was called in those dark, yet his name bockme the battlecry for mayohing calliens. It was on ang 30 that the battle of Osawatomis occurred. The celebration this year begins on that date, Colonsi Roose-vel's speech occurring one day inter. The park comprises the old battle date, which becomes public property On the site of the old battlefield, al-

gress. The promise to be present at this convention was the second given after that historic walk through the Italian wood from which Gifford Pinchot emerged with the shining face What will Roosevelt say at St. Paul? Will his talk embrace only conservation, or will it also hint of politics? Either at that point or some other he must speak out. Perhaps the nation never hung so expectantly on the word of one private citizen before.

Covers the Middle West.

On the morning of Sept. 7 Colonel Roosevelt journeys to Milwaukee, where he speaks at the sliver anniver sary of the Milwaukee Press club; on Sept. S he goes to Freeport, Ill., to ad-dress a picnic of the Railroad Brother-hood and on the same day departs for Chicago to become the guest of the Hamilton club. The following day he arrives at Cincinnati and speaks at the Ohio Valley exposition and on Sept. 10 reaches Pittsburg, where he addresses the Pittsburg civic commis-sion, thence returning to New York to end his journey on the morning of Sept. 11.

One significant feature of the Roos velt tour is that Gifford Pinchot or mes R. Garfield, or both, speak with him at Denver, Osswatomic and St. Paul. They at least atinch significance to this fact. In the light of re-Hkewise resard it as a sign of what is to come gard it as a sign of what is to come? The tour should furnish the answer. It is hardly possible that Colonel Roosevelt of a spear at so many dif-ferent place: and speak on so many different of casions without lotting drop some remark that will clear the atmosphere. In a way his sintemper atmosphere. In a way his statement about "a cl an cut, progressive plat form" in Ner York has already cleared it. Those Vio have studied him and the situatic believe that the word progressive answers the question-hat withou personalities, recriming personalities, recrimina-mailem be will still be all his utterances and tions or Inc progressive attitudes.
