JOHN M. OGLESBY, City Editor

Concord, N. C., January 3, 1911.

The New Year means much to every reader. Three hundred and sixty-five days of opportunity. Will you be equal to the task of the year? The Tribune extends best wishes to every one of you. May the year bring you peace and prosperity. May the New Year be marked with blessings so many that it will awaken great gratitude in every heart. Together we will strive for greater success during the year. This paper will do its very best for the advancement of Concord and the Greater South industrially and morally. In local affairs, and in general interests it will be our endeavor to aid every man, woman and child in this entire section. The people must help us in this endeavor. In united action we can accomplish so much more and unity is absolutely essential. Be a "booster" for your town, county and state. Never worry about the "knocker;" let him severely alone and get busy and keep busy "boosting."

Mr. Burton Craige, one of the younger members of the Salisbury bar, and one of the ablest, has been appointed special counsel of the American Tobacco Company, with headquarters at Winston-Salem, where the R. J. Reynolds branch is located. His salary will be $10,000.00 a year. Mr. Craige is a son of the late Hon. Kerr Craige, who was Third Assistant Postmaster General under Cleveland, and who was one of the ablest and wisest lawyers of his generation. This recognition of the ability and fitness of young Mr. Craige is well deserved.

It seems to be a foregone conclusion that Mr. W. C. Dowd, editor of the Charlotte News, will be chosen Speaker of the House. We understand that 80 members of the House have pledged themselves to vote for him. He will make a good presiding officer, and this has been demonstrated on many occasions. The newspaper men of the State will appreciate the honor, which has not come to one of their number since the days of the late John R. Webster.

Some Differences.

Carthersville (Md.) Democrat.
The other day a merchant of Blytheville opened a barrel of apples and found on top of them a note from the producer with his address. He said that he had received seventy-five cents for the barrel and wanted the merchant who opened it to report what he had to pay for it. The merchant promptly wrote him that he paid $5.50 for it. Here is a case where $4.75 had gone into the pockets of the railroads and the wholesaler. The high cost of living is explained by just such wholesale robbery as this. The retailer had to pay twenty-five cents a dozen for the apples.

Density of the Population.

Rhode Island has 508.5 people to the square mile, thus, according to census bureau figures, leading the list of States in the matter of density of population. Nevada, with only seven-tenths of a person to the mile, finds a place at the head of the table.

The figures for other States include: Tennessee, 52.4; South Carolina, 49.7; North Carolina, 45.3; Georgia, 44.4; Alabama, 41.7; Mississippi, 38.8; Louisiana, 38.5; Arkansas, 38; Texas, 14.8; Florida, 13.7.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of crop, bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Cabarus Drug Company.

Only one-tenth of the population of the United States is of unimpaired health.

BUTTER LASTED FORTY YEARS.

A Kansas Farmer Found a Pail He Had Lost in the Well.

A pail of butter forty-two years old has been found at Hope, Kas. It was not packing house butter, either, and it was not found on a boarding house table. There was eight pounds of this venerable butter and it was found in a well there.

One of the oldest residents of the town made the butter soon after he moved to Hope. It was lowered in the well to cool, the rope broke, and that was the last time the owner saw it until this week.

A man who was cleaning the well found the butter floating on the water. The pail had rotted away, but the butter was not much worse than some that is served on the table nowadays. It crumbles and turns white upon being exposed to the air.

"Boston Trot" at Taft Ball.

Washington Dispatch, 31st.

The "Boston Trot," newest of dances got its first official recognition at the ball given at the White House for Miss Helen Taft last night.

The new dance promises to enjoy a wide vogue in Washington this winter. It was especially affected by the college men who attended the White House ball. The new waltz, for waltz it is, is a great contrast to the glide which has held the boards for the past decade and much resembles the rather ridiculous dance of the Dutch Burgurers in "Rip Van Winkle." It is strenuous and not particularly graceful.

The Spanish Waltz, or "La Hutta," will be another Washington favorite of the winter.

We are of the opinion that North Carolina has about the fairest and best child labor law in the South and that the law is quite generally observed by the mill men. Conditions are of an ideal sort. The law as it stands and is enforced meets all requirements. The efforts under way to revise the law and stir up the matter in the next Legislature, are unnecessary and are calculated to disturb a condition of harmony between employer and employ. It is to be hoped the Legislature will take a cautious view of the child labor agitator. —Charlotte Chronicle.

A Wedding Present.

A printer in making up the forms in a hurry got a marriage notice and grocery's advertisement mixed up, so that it read as follows: "John Brown and Ida Grey were united in the flour by the quarter or barrel. Mr. Brown is a well known codfish at eightpence per pound, while the bride, Miss Grey, has some nice pig's feet, which will be sold cheaper than at any shop in town."—Pearson's Weekly.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—it cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—it enables Nature to repair the ravages of disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema Cure.

Who Was There That You Knew?

In the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Review or Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs. It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.

At the same time we will tell you how the Review or Reviews can offer this $150,000 collection at 3,500 photographs at the price of the United States Government—most paid for three of the pictures.

Review of Reviews Company, 13 Astor Place, New York, N. Y.

Send the coupon at once.

Send me, free of charge, the 33 reproductions of your newly discovered history of the Civil War photographs ready for framing and containing in a handsome portfolio. Also send me the story of these pictures and tell me how, for what the Government paid for half a dozen prints, I can make the whole collection my own. I enclose 10 cents to cover the cost of mailing.

Tempting and Sweet—Ready to Eat—

In the growth of corn the kernels are plumped out with a vegetable milk, most nutritious, which finally hardens.

Post Toasties is made of this part of thoroughly ripe pearly white Indian Corn skillfully cooked, sweetened, rolled into thin fluffy bits, and toasted to an appetizing, golden brown.

Some have been kind enough to say that Post Toasties are the choicest flavored particles of cereal food ever produced.

It is ready to serve right from the package with cream or milk and a little sugar if desired.
